Canaries Have Value.
The Texas Governor.
Remember Fokker.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[This opinion expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in accordance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

MRS. FREEMAN, the unhappy mother whose husband was killed by an automobile, killed herself and her five children when told they must go to an orphan asylum. "Better dead than without a mother," said the poor woman, and went with them.

She was careful to protect two canary birds, putting them where the deadly gas could not reach them. She knew that canary birds have a value, somebody would buy them and treat them kindly. She knew that children have no value; that she could not be sure that strangers in an asylum would treat them kindly.

VISITING New York city, with a party of distinguished Texans, welcomed and looked up to, literally and in other ways, Governor Moody listens and thinks.

He hears that New York city is the biggest American factory town, turning out five and a half billion dollars worth of products a year. Governor Moody is too polite to mention the fact that any state he has seen on his way east, including New York, could be tucked away in Texas and not attract much attention. Texas alone, intensively cultivated, could feed every one of the 1,900,000,000 human beings on earth and have room left to raise cotton.

WHEN rejoicing over the Honolulu flight of two fine young army men, don't forget Fokker, who made their army plane, the plane that took Byrd first of all human beings over the North Pole, and the plane now carrying Byrd and his companions to Europe.

This government should endow Fokker generously, give him whatever he wants, make sure that he never leaves us. It owes him gratitude.

It also owes gratitude to other good airplane builders, including Ry-

Review-Tribune Offers Booklet on Homes for Birds

This is the name of a booklet which every bird lover should have.

These feathered friends make excellent neighbors. They are desirable about premises not only on account of their beauty and song, but because of their economic worth. All day long they will protect your trees, shrubs, and gardens from ruinous insects.

No attraction for birds is more effectual than a series of houses suited to the needs of the various kinds of birds.

These houses are not difficult to construct and are very inexpensive. Beautify your surroundings by erecting a number of them. Complete instructions are contained in an interesting booklet which this bureau has for distribution. Enclose four cents in stamps for return postage and handling.

NO WAGE ISSUES

President-elect Duffy Prepares to Assume Duties.

'Off' Year" in Industry.

This is regarded as an "off year," since there will be no wage conference this fall. The biennial agreement for the general ware trade holds over until October, 1928.

There will be some discussion on the situation in the sanitary branch which was disrupted in 1922 when the manufacturers and the union representatives failed to reach a settlement, after the union conferees refused to accept a reduction in the wage scale. Leaders here are still hopeful that a readjustment may be affected but refused to divulge the nature of the indications.

This convention will mark the retirement of President John T. Wood, of East Liverpool, Ohio, who has been a national officer for 27 years. Wood was former secretary of the brotherhood and became president in 1922 upon the death of Edward Menge of East Liverpool. Wood was defeated in the biennial election by James M. Duffy, of Buffalo, N. Y., who will assume the place on August 1.

Deaths By Drownings Mount as Torrid Wave Still Grips Mid-West

FIVE DROWNINGS IN OHIO CITIES

Relief in Form of Showers is Expected at Noon Tomorrow, According to Weatherman Alexander.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Record-breaking hot weather killed three persons in Chicago today, bringing the total of dead for a three-day period of torrid weather to 27.

The thermometer registered 86 degrees this morning and no relief was promised until night.

The heat wave is general over the mid-west, centering in Chicago.

While the heat wave continued to claim victims in other sections of Ohio and the mid-west, there were no fatalities in the East Liverpool district today.

A maximum temperature of 93 degrees was registered here yesterday. At 11 o'clock this morning the mercury in a thermometer on the St. Clair avenue side of the Central fire station registered 89.

Cooling showers are forecast by noon tomorrow, promising relief from the sweltering weather.

Four Deaths in Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., July 1.—Three drownings and one death from heat were reported during the night according to police records here today.

Those drowned are: Abraham Luce, 46, drowned in the Maumee river while swimming with his three sons.

TOURIST FINED $25 AFTER GIRL IS RUN DOWN

Miss Mildred Hill, 18, Hurt in East End Accident.

JACK WALES HELD

Wyoming Youth Found Guilty of Reckless Driving.

Miss Mildred Hill, 18, Pennsylvania avenue pottery worker, sustained injuries to her head and shoulders when struck by an automobile driven by Jack Wales, 17, tourist, of Sheridan, Wyoming, as she alighted from an eastbound street car at Central avenue stop at 5:15 o'clock last evening.

Wales was found guilty of reckless driving and violating Section 18 of the traffic code prohibiting the passing of a street car while it was discharging passengers, when he faced Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today. He was fined $25 and costs.

Wales, his father, mother, sister and brother were enroute to Connecticut for an extended visit, when the accident occurred. The elder Wales was driving one car, while his son was trailing him. Police claimed that the first automobile had passed the street car and that the youth was in the act of passing it when he struck the girl as she stepped to the street.

Wales said that he thought the car was still in motion when he was passing it. The girl was dragged about 20 or 25 feet before the car was brought to a stop. She was carried into her home where she was attended by Dr. W. G. McDale.

The boy was arrested by Captain of Police Conley and brought to the city hall. He was released later in the evening, his car and that driven by his father were held by the police as bond. Arthur Hill, father of the girl, signed the affidavit against the lad.

Wales told police that his insurance company would settle for the injuries sustained by the girl. The tourists resumed their trip today.

Boy Dashes Through Windshield.

TOLEDO, O., July 1. — Nazarene Willinger, 6, is in a hospital here today with injuries sustained when he was dashed through a windshield. The driver of the auto, William Rosen, told police, his machine struck a pole when he attempted to brush a wasp from the boy's person.

Extermination Campaign for Control of Liquor Marts.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The third murder in three days attributed to the outbreak of a new bootleg war, was recorded here today in the death of Numio Jamericco, 28, whose body, perforated by 62 bullets, was discovered in the rear yard of his home.

Police claim a war of extermination in which a syndicate is seeking control of the illicit liquor marts, is responsible for the slayings.

The others killed were Diego Attiomonte and Lorenzo Alagna.

GARAGE LOOTED, COACH STOLEN

Robbers broke into the Thompson avenue garage of Rev. E. A. Walker, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, last night, and stole his 1926 model Chevrolet coach, valued at $450. The machine carried Ohio license No. 386-450. Patrolman Leslie Curran made an investigation of the theft.

T. D. Huston, Calcutta farmer, reported to the police at 11:10 o'clock last night that his Ford roadster carrying Ohio license No. 386-737 had been stolen from its parking place near the Y. M. C. A., Fourth and Washington streets.

MISS DONOVAN, AGED 45, DIES

Miss Edna Donovan, 45, of 1104 Vine street, died today in the City hospital, as a result of an operation which she underwent last week.

She was a member of the First United Presbyterian church.

Fokker, Out of Fuel, Is Forced Down After Missing Paris In Storm

AVIATORS TAKE TO THEIR COLLAPSIBLE RUBBER BOAT; FISHERMEN TOW THEM

Ocean "Bus" After Cruising 43 Hours, During Part of Which it Soared Through Rain and Thick Mist Over France, is Slightly Damaged When it Drops Into English Channel.

By Harry R. Flory.

PARIS, July 1.—Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three fellow trans-Atlantic flyers who spanned the Atlantic in the mighty Fokker monoplane, America, through storms and fog, are safe.

The America landed at 2:32 o'clock this morning in the sea 200 yards off the coast at Ver-Sur-Mer, in the department of Calvados, not far from Havre. This is 125 miles from Paris.

FOUR FLYING ACES IN STATE OF COLLAPSE AFTER THRILLING TRIP

VER-SUR-MER, France, July 1.—The four flying aces of the monoplane "America" were in a state of collapse after their thrilling trans-Atlantic flight and forced landing in the English channel early today.

When Vice Mayor Coiffier and his two sons were routed out of bed by the two fishermen who went to the rescue of Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three companions, they found the flyers on the beach.

Commander Byrd and Lieut. Bernt Balchen were lying on the sandy beach in a state of collapse. Balchen, a hardy Norwegian, was fully as exhausted as Byrd. The fishermen did not know the identity of the men until Coiffier asked Byrd who he was.

Bert Acosta, the black-haired pilot of the plane, and Lieut. George O. Noville, the radio expert, were found a short distance up the beach near the lighthouse, both of them in a weakened condition.

Later a message was received from Ver-Sur-Mer saying that Bryd and his companions landed in the channel near that town, having run out of gas and oil while seeking the mouth of the Seine, less than 50 miles away.

The American flyers had taken to their collapsible rubber boat when they landed in the water and two fishermen helped tow them to the coast.

"I OUGHT TO BE KICKED; I WAS CLOSE TO PARIS AND COULDN'T MAKE IT"--BYRD

By Frederick K. Abbott.

VER-SUR-MER, France, July 1.—"I think I ought to be kicked. I was close to Paris and couldn't make it."

This was the dejected statement today of Commander Richard E. Byrd when interviewed after his dramatic trans-Atlantic flight in the giant Fokker monoplane, America, which plunged into the English channel, near here, at 2:32 o'clock this morning after an all-night battle with rain and fog over France.

Two fishermen, attracted by the hum of the motor, helped the flyers reach the beach. They conducted Byrd and Lieut. Bernt Balchen, the passenger, to the home of Vice Mayor Coiffier. Bert Acosta, the pilot, and Lieut. George O. Noville, the radio expert, were taken to the lighthouse where they were put to bed.

Four Flyers Dead Tired.

All four flyers were dead tired and fell asleep at once. Byrd awoke at 12:40 o'clock this afternoon and went by automobile to the city hall to meet the Mayor of Ver-Sur-Mer. He was attired in a rain coat and a naval hat with gilt braid. He announced that he was preparing a statement to the press..

"Congratulations," said this correspondent to the noted navigator.

"Well," replied Byrd, slowly, his genial countenance breaking into a sad smile, "I ought to be kicked."

The commander seemed to be very tired. He had had only a few hours' sleep.

Before going to bed Byrd insisted upon sending a cablegram to his wife in Boston.

"When we landed in the water," Byrd said, "both of the wings of the plane broke off at once."

Congratulations from Doumergue.

TRANS-ATLANTIC AIRMEN SAW NEITHER LAND NOR WATER FOR NINETEEN HOURS

VER-SUR-MES, France, July 1.—"We had a great flight. Imagine seeing nothing for nineteen hours!"

Commander Richard E. Byrd of the giant Fokker monoplane America, whose dramatic trans-oceanic flight ended at 2:32 o'clock this morning when the plane plunged into the English channel, made this statement today as he graphically described the thrilling flight.

The plane came down in the channel about 200 yards from shore, near the little town of Ver-Sur-Mer, on the coast of Normandy, about 125 miles from Paris. It had flown almost to Paris, lost its way and retracked on its course. It was in the air 42 hours and had flown more than 4,000 miles. The plane was damaged but the crew was unhurt.

"It was a wonderful flight, thrilling all the way," said Commander Byrd. "We saw no land or sea after we left Newfoundland until we had almost reached the European continent."

"We had nineteen hours of dense fogs and heavy clouds. It was impossible to keep climbing up and down to avoid the fog. It was a terrific experience. Imagine seeing nothing for nineteen hours.

Fog Prevented Taking Bearings.

"We could take no bearings from St. Johns because all Newfoundland was covered with fog. We managed by good luck to locate ourselves after coming out of the fog.

"We lost our charts in landing but I think we hit France at Cape Finistere. We made excellent speed and set our course for Paris.

"Shortly after leaving Finistere it became dark and we were obliged to go entirely by compass bearings. We came upon an amusement park near the sea when we thought we were nearing Paris.

"Something had thrown our compass off many degrees, I don't think it was the fault of the compass but

MAYOR, SERVICE DIRECTOR, COUNCILMEN AND COMMISSIONERS, CITY PARK PATRONS WANT BENCHES

Patrons of City park, the municipal breathing spot on West Fifth street, near the City hospital, want benches.

A letter received by the Review-Tribune today, urges that the need be called to the attention of Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Service-Safety Director John W. Moore, councilmen and members of the park commission.

"Most people visit City park more than any other municipal beauty spot," says the note, signed "taxpayer." "And yet visitors will carry benches or chairs from private homes to the fresh-air center if they wish to enjoy their stay in the park, for the city, probably through an oversight, has made no provision for this accommodation.

"Please ask the mayor, service-director, councilmen and park commissioners to send at least twelve or fifteen benches, so that the public may enjoy the beauty of the spot to which Nature has been so kind.

"Maybe the park commission can borrow some of the benches now at Thompson park, or, perhaps, a few may be found in storage somewhere."

Whether funds appropriated for the maintenance of city parks will permit the purchase, if necessary, of new benches could not be ascertained today. However, the amount set aside annually for this purpose is not keeping the city's bookkeepers awake at nights.

Two years ago, members of the park commission, taking cognisance of a request, sent several benches from Thompson park to the West Fifth street place. Before the end of the summer many of the benches disappeared. Patrons of the park claimed the benches were taken away to be used elsewhere. Denial was made that any of the benches had been "borrowed!"

With East Liverpool sweltering in a heat wave, scores last night sought relief at City park, which commands one of the prettiest views in the Ohio Valley. Men, women and children were in the crowd.

Enthusiasts claim more people visit the West Fifth street spot than go to other green-dotted rest places within the corporation.

At any rate, Mayor Benedum, Director Moore, councilman and park commissioners, the City park patrons want benches.

Commander Byrd and Lieut. Bernt Balchen were lying on the sandy beach in a state of collapse. Balchen, a hardy Norwegian, was fully as exhausted as Byrd. The fishermen did not know the identity of the men until Coiffier asked Byrd who he was.

Bert Acosta, the black-haired pilot of the plane, and Lieut. George O. Noville, the radio expert, were found a short distance up the beach near the lighthouse, both of them in a weakened condition.

Later a message was received from Ver-Sur-Mer saying that Bryd and his companions landed in the channel near that town, having run out of gas and oil while seeking the mouth of the Seine, less than 50 miles away.

The American flyers had taken to their collapsible rubber boat when they landed in the water and two fishermen helped tow them to the coast.

"I OUGHT TO BE KICKED; I WAS CLOSE TO PARIS AND COULDN'T MAKE IT"--BYRD

By Frederick K. Abbott.

VER-SUR-MER, France, July 1.—"I think I ought to be kicked. I was close to Paris and couldn't make it."

This was the dejected statement today of Commander Richard E. Byrd when interviewed after his dramatic trans-Atlantic flight in the giant Fokker monoplane, America, which plunged into the English channel, near here, at 2:32 o'clock this morning after an all-night battle with rain and fog over France.

Two fishermen, attracted by the hum of the motor, helped the flyers reach the beach. They conducted Byrd and Lieut. Bernt Balchen, the passenger, to the home of Vice Mayor Coiffier. Bert Acosta, the pilot, and Lieut. George O. Noville, the radio expert, were taken to the lighthouse where they were put to bed.

Four Flyers Dead Tired.

All four flyers were dead tired and fell asleep at once. Byrd awoke at 12:40 o'clock this afternoon and went by automobile to the city hall to meet the Mayor of Ver-Sur-Mer. He was attired in a rain coat and a naval hat with gilt braid. He announced that he was preparing a statement to the press..

"Congratulations," said this correspondent to the noted navigator.

"Well," replied Byrd, slowly, his genial countenance breaking into a sad smile, "I ought to be kicked."

The commander seemed to be very tired. He had had only a few hours' sleep.

Before going to bed Byrd insisted upon sending a cablegram to his wife in Boston.

"When we landed in the water," Byrd said, "both of the wings of the plane broke off at once."

Congratulations from Doumergue.

TRANS-ATLANTIC AIRMEN SAW NEITHER LAND NOR WATER FOR NINETEEN HOURS

VER-SUR-MES, France, July 1.—"We had a great flight. Imagine seeing nothing for nineteen hours!"

Commander Richard E. Byrd of the giant Fokker monoplane America, whose dramatic trans-oceanic flight ended at 2:32 o'clock this morning when the plane plunged into the English channel, made this statement today as he graphically described the thrilling flight.

The plane came down in the channel about 200 yards from shore, near the little town of Ver-Sur-Mer, on the coast of Normandy, about 125 miles from Paris. It had flown almost to Paris, lost its way and retracked on its course. It was in the air 42 hours and had flown more than 4,000 miles. The plane was damaged but the crew was unhurt.

"It was a wonderful flight, thrilling all the way," said Commander Byrd. "We saw no land or sea after we left Newfoundland until we had almost reached the European continent.

"We had nineteen hours of dense fogs and heavy clouds. It was impossible to keep climbing up and down to avoid the fog. It was a terrific experience. Imagine seeing nothing for nineteen hours.

Fog Prevented Taking Bearings.

"We could take no bearings from St. Johns because all Newfoundland was covered with fog. We managed by good luck to locate ourselves after coming out of the fog.

"We lost our charts in landing but I think we hit France at Cape Finistere. We made excellent speed and set our course for Paris.

"Shortly after leaving Finistere it became dark and we were obliged to go entirely by compass bearings. We came upon an amusement park near the sea when we thought we were nearing Paris.

"Something had thrown our compass off many degrees, I don't think it was the fault of the compass but

MAYOR, SERVICE DIRECTOR, COUNCILMEN AND COMMISSIONERS, CITY PARK PATRONS WANT BENCHES

Patrons of City park, the municipal breathing spot on West Fifth street, near the City hospital, want benches.

A letter received by the Review-Tribune today, urges that the need be called to the attention of Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Service-Safety Director John W. Moore, councilmen and members of the park commission.

"More people visit City park than any other municipal beauty spot," says the note, signed "taxpayer." "And yet visitors will carry benches or chairs from private homes to the fresh-air center if they wish to enjoy their stay in the park, for the city, probably through an oversight, has made no provision for this accommodation.

"Please ask the mayor, service-director, councilmen and park commissioners to send at least twelve or fifteen benches, so that the public may enjoy the beauty of the spot to which Nature has been so kind.

"Maybe the park commission can borrow some of the benches now at Thompson park, or, perhaps, a few may be found in storage somewhere."

Whether funds appropriated for the maintenance of city parks will permit the purchase, if necessary, of new benches could not be ascertained today. However, the amount set aside annually for this purpose is not keeping the city's bookkeepers awake at nights.

Two years ago, members of the park commission, taking cognizance of a request, sent several benches from Thompson park to the West Fifth street place. Before the end of the summer many of the benches disappeared. Patrons of the park claimed the benches were taken away to be used elsewhere. Denial was made that any of the benches had been "borrowed!"

With East Liverpool sweltering in a heat wave, scores last night sought relief at City park, which commands one of the prettiest views in the Ohio Valley. Men, women and children were in the crowd.

Enthusiasts claim more people visit the West Fifth street spot than go to other green-dotted rest places within the corporation.

At any rate, Mayor Benedum, Director Moore, councilman and park commissioners, the City park patrons want benches.

Weed Threatens Rice Crop.

Ceylon is waging war on the water hyacinth, called the "lilac devil" by the natives, which is threatenng the country's rice crop. The pestilential weed has already gained a firm foothold in Bengal, Burma and Indo-China. Peasant rice cultivators in Bengal are suffering from its invasion, and it has spread over waterways and canals, so thickly as to almost stop navigation. Ceylon's legislative council has voted funds to be used by the department of agriculture in its battle.

Lost—One Circus Crocodile.

In its haste to get to the next show place, near Avignon, France, a menagerie and circus lost a crocodile, and nobody noticed the loss until arrival at the destination the next morning. Searching parties were organized, and the manager tried to calm the fears of the inhabitants by assertions that crocodiles are not dangerous at this time of the year, and can go three months without eating.

Widows Pensions for Japan.

Mother's pensions for widows and their children are provided for in a bill recently drafted by the Japanese ministry. At a child-welfare conference held under auspices of the Japanese Central Social Work association, it was urged that unmarried mothers and deserted wives be included as beneficiaries, but whether this will be included is problematical.

The First Shopping Days in July, and We are Radiant With Summer Newness

WHAT ABOUT JULY 5th.

July 4th, Independence Day, "The Day We Celebrate." Once a year the Nation pauses to commemorate with jubilation the date of its birth. A glorious custom—with a glorious background.

But after all, isn't it the practical patriotism we express on July 5th—and every day in the year that is most worth while.

Isn't it our respect for the magnificent institutions of the Great Republic, our observance of its laws and our efforts to live for it, as well as in it, that is the real test of patriotism?

FASHIONGRAMS

Latest News of the World of Fashion condensed for quick reading:

The popularity of the velvet, moire and brocades for hand bags will, no doubt, bring back the pouch shaped bags.

Just now, sleeveless cotton frocks are having their day, and many charming models may be seen.

The cape has come back for evening wear. Some say that it will not stop there, but will enter the sports field as well.

Chiffon and lace in various delicate shades are forming a charming Summer team.

Not to be lost in the march of fashion, the velveteen coat in high shades still enjoys decided favor.

Pearls and crystals, after having rivaled each other, have joined effectively in some new and very unusual chokers.

Large hats are very much the millinery picture for Summer.

Organdy has staged a fashion come back, and with its little frocks of robe de style influence has an irrestible youth and springtime, storybook effect.

Many a colorful skeleton oxford will shod fashionable feet with such lovely shades as lavender, rose, blue, and green to choose.

The coolie coat will play a prominent part in vacation wardrobes and will be much seen on the beaches.

The quilted theme enters the millinery world with hats of taffeta and georgette.

Skirts will cut a wider path this Fall if present comment amounts to anything.

The drape is not to be outdone by the flare, for they appear together in some of the newest arrivals for Fall.

A very new coat achieves something different by being one sided with one-sided fur collars and panels on one side only.

Ugly Dogs Now in Style.

Police dogs have given away to ugly canines in the favor of fashionable women at the Riviera. Most of the pets are pugs, griffons and similar breeds that never are admired for their beauty. Some animals wore grotesque, vivid-colored collars of fur while others wore beautiful silk coats to match the color of the mistresses' dresses.

Physicians and chiropractors in the state of Indiana may advertise without violating the law, Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom, above, has ruled. The attorney general has handed down this opinion to Dr. E. M. Shanklin, secretary of the state board of medical registration and examination, ruling that the board had no right to force physicians and chiropractors to sign pledges not to advertise. Gilliom also has been seeking modification of Indiana's "bone-dry" law, although favoring prohibition.

"CIRCUS ACE" AT AMERICAN

Again Tom Mix scores a triumph at the American, where his latest starring picture, "The Circus Ace," had its first showing yesterday afternoon. Here is a western that is not only novel in theme and treatment, with a fine story of romance and adventure taken against the beautifu background of California, but a vivid picture of circus life as well.

All the excitement, thrills, big and little business of the Big Tops, as well as a Western drama, is shown with fine realism and whimsical humor in "The Circus Ace." The lives of the circus troupers, their loves, their hates, their daily grips with death in the performances of their hazardous acts, as well as their fun and recreations, are pictured in a way that is highly instructive as well as entertaining.

And it all is part of a colorful story in which Tom Mix and his horse Tony play an active and fascinating part. From the moment Tom sees the girl, played by Natalie Joyce, come sailing down to him from the sky on a parachute, to the time he speels out his messages of love to her with a stream of bullets from his six shooter on a board, there is action, thrills, fun and suspense.

Tony has his share of the glory in making his film a delight for old and young, and a boxing kangaroo helps him prove that animals can produce laughs and thrills as interesting as the human actors.

The story of "The Circus Ace" was written by Harold Shumate and the scenario by Jack Jungmyer expressly for Tom Mix and is ideally suited for the western star. The cast, too, is one of the best, including such well known screen performers as Jack Baston, Duke Lee, James Bradbury, Stanley Blythstone, Dudley Smith and Buster Gardner.

Through industrial disputes in Great Britain and Northern Ireland in the past year, 143,500,000 working days were lost.

At a recent meeting in Madrid it was shown that the Spanish aeronautic industry is large enough to care for Spain and also to supply aeronautic equipment to other countries.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1927.

Wanted—A Dogcatcher

The canine problem is worrying East Liverpool's officials, for probably three times as many dogs are running at large within the corporate limits as the number appearing on the license books at the courthouse in Lisbon. And with a torrid wave sweeping the district, the danger of a mad dog scare is increased.

Complaints galore have poured into city hall regarding the nuisance. Councilmen have discussed the question pro and con, and Mayor Benedum is willing to act, but the city has no funds to pay the bill.

Under the state law, the task of rounding up unlicensed canines falls to the lot of the sheriff of the county. However, the municipality, too, has legislated in bygone years to authorize the appointment of a dogcatcher. In the event of action by the county or city, money is required to pay the fiddler, and neither unit seems to have any lucre to spare.

According to reports, the county commissioners have promised to transfer $200 from the dog license fund to the credit of the city as the nucleus of a fund to employ a dogcatcher. In order to accomplish anything in a war against unlicensed dogs, at least $600 or $700, it is estimated, should be available, for a dogcatcher must use a horse and wagon or motor vehicle in making his rounds, while a corral and death house for captured dogs are also essentials.

If councilmen and the executive branch of the municipal government wish to tackle the problem, the first procedure is a get-together meeting to determine how much money is needed. Then council should appropriate whatever sum is necessary to add to the county's promised $200.

The Navy Question

Whatever may be the outcome of the naval armament conference, Senator Borah, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, ventures the opinion that congress will not enter upon any extensive naval building program now or in the near future.

"We have some things we must take care of," he observes, "such as the flood situation and other domestic programs which would be much more important than putting a large amount of money into naval armament."

The president, too, is known to be as insistent as ever on congressional economy.

The public evidently has little interest in armament at present, and is more likely to welcome naval cuts than new construction, for reasons of economy and pacifism. There is no more shouting for a big navy. The public seems far more concerned with seeing all the powers limit their navies than seeing our own country surpass others in naval power. There is a disposition to trust to America's potential strength, supplemented by international good will and fair dealing.

Meanwhile, as Senator Borah suggests, there are plenty of other things to spend money for. The Mississippi must be controlled; there must be better safeguards against floods on the lower Colorado; there are great navigation and waterpower projects clamoring for action; farm relief is still a live issue; there are corn borers and many other domestic enemies to arm against. All these demand their due.

Hot Lead For Lynchers

"Cold steel and hot lead," says the Macon, Ga., Telegraph, "will do more to cure lynchings than anything that could happen."

That was shown with unusual clearness in the recent mix-up in Tampa, Fla., when the sheriff and the national guard protected a murderer from lynching at the hands of a frenzied mob. It cost the lives of five mob members and the wounding of 32 others, but the general opinion in Tampa and throughout the country seems to be that it was worth the cost. There were legal casualties, too, for the authorities arrested 30 of the citizens who beleaguered the jail.

The prisoner in this case happened to be white, which may or may not have made any difference in the courageous stand of the officials responsible for his safe-keeping. Apparently justice was proceeding against him without any undue delay. There was no reason to doubt that he would receive his deserts.

It is regretful that it became necessary to add more deaths, in the name of law and order, to those the prisoner is accused of taking. The effect of this example, however, should be to save many lives hereafter and preserve the good name of many a community in a crisis.

Cigar Lighters

If the greatest need of this country is, or was, a good five-cent cigar, it may follow logically, as a certain smoker urges, that the next great need is a reasonably-priced cigar lighter.

There is a great vogue of mechanical lighters now. The price of a good one is said to run from $5 up. Thus they are a luxury. But be it remembered that the luxury of today is the necessity of tomorrow. The stinking sulphur match was a luxury in its time; then the brimstone match; then the safety match. Now the handy little device which goes back to primitive flint and steel, but uses gasoline for tinder, may be destined to come into general use.

All it needs, perhaps, is some Ford of the tobacco trade to turn out a flivver-lighter. And then smokers will all be happier than ever.

BARRING OUT A COMMON NUISANCE

Somebody, as has been so aptly said, is always taking the joy out of life.

In illustration of this regrettable fact I am reminded of a story which was credited to the late "Private John" Allen of Mississippi, the wit of the lower house of congress in which he served several terms.

One summer, Allen and several of his cronies were organizing a fishing expedition to a lake in Mississippi famous for the size and number of the large-mouthed black bass it contained. They had arranged for supplies and for transportation, and for a camping site, for one darky to do the cooking and for another to mix the mint juleps and the toddies. Now the personnel of the party was being completed.

"How about asking Jones to go along?" suggested one of the original organizers.

"No, sir!" stated Private Jim emphatically. "If Jones is invited you fellows can count me out."

"Why, I thought you liked Jones," said the proposer.

"I do like him in his proper place," explained Allen. "Ordinarily, Jones is a good citizen and good company. He's companionable, kind-hearted, genial and unselfish. He's a good Democrat and he was a brave Confederate soldier. But he wouldn't do for a trip such as this one is going to be. I've been on fishing trips with him before now where he spoiled everything. He lacks a sense of proportion."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean this: Just about the time the drinks are flowing freely and the poker game is under way and everybody is settling down for a nice pleasant time, that derned fool will want to go fishing."

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 1.—Thoughts while strolling: Broadway idlers looking for what they call the "breaks." And orchidaceous girls looking for what they call "careers." Yellow gloves, swirling canes. Haberdashers who make Fifth Avenue styles hackneyed in a few weeks.

Old Mississippi, last of the cabmen. Nothing so gloomy as a deserted stage. The horsey men with binoculars. Sign: "Wanted, window demonstrator for a shaving cream." An Oriental rug seller haggling with chorus girls at a stage door. The dim lit Chinese cafes.

Lee Olwell, a newspaperman, who became a bank president. Nobody seems to have sighted a comet lately. White tiled hair dressing salons with glittering lights. Chiropodist parlors with van dyked attendants. Professional eyebrow pluckers. And obesity doctors who live—ha, ha—on the fat of the land.

Those haughty girls from Long Island with sepia tans, motor togs and Sealyham dogs. The milliner's delivery wagon, drawn by four Shetland ponies. Antique shoppers who hope worthless junk will prove to be a genuine something or other.

No more laughing at collegiate playwrights along the Rialto. They have written too many sure-fire hits. Trim rapped liner officers with their rolling walk. Jade is becoming more expensive than diamonds. The woman who made a fortune selling fudge to Broadway theatre goers.

Wonder how much the patent lighter craze cost the match industry. Including the Scandinavian. Manhattan's tallest editor — R. E. Sherwood, of Life. A taxicab driver yells to his mates: "Subway tie-up at 14th street!" And away they go.

Those worldly men found in shoeshine chairs in the early afternoon. First class perfumery is now only for the rich. A dog asleep in a bicycle handle-bar basket. The hotel doorman who looks like Wallace Beery. Fontaine Fox, the cartoonist.

The swaying blind pencil seller in front of the Henry Miller theatre. Dancing academy sign advertises: "We teach the Tiger." What in the world is that? Abraham Lincoln Erlanger and his cap. And Leonard Bergman and Bernard Sobel. A Frankie and Johnnie sandwich shop. There's a tough job—selling songs in a theatre lobby.

There's something tragically human in the plaint of a young New Yorker in his divorce petition. Among other things he says: "We went to Europe on our honeymoon. I was seasick all the way over and she never cared for me after that."

A friend of mine dropped into a big hotel the other morning and inquired for a rather famous musician from Europe. "He does not stop here," replied the clerk, "he stops in a hotel around the corner." My friend rushed out—I suppose for smelling salts.

And a reporter went to another hotel to interview a gentleman for one of those how-I-did-it success stories. "You may tell the public," said the great man, "that I owe my success to the fact that I have never carried packages by holding them with strings"—and that concluded the interview. When great men refuse to take themselves seriously like that there remains a glimmer of hope for the world.

Waiters in smart cafes are inspected almost as rigidly daily in parade troops going before the king. The late Louis Sherry used to say a satisfactory meal depended as much on the good appearance of the waiter as cuisine and waiters who were careful in their personal appearance rose high in the service.

Incidentally I noticed recently a street in Paris named for Louis Sherry.

Produce Agency Law.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—One thing that congress did for the farmers at its last session was to pass what is known as the Produce Agency Act to protect them against the practices of unscrupulous commission merchants. This law becomes effective July 1.

Under its provisions farmers will b eassured that they will get a square deal when they ship perishable products on consignment. For years there have been numerous complaints that farmers have been cheated or dealt with unfairly by individuals and firms whom they trusted to market their products on the commission basis, and in many instances there has been abundant evidence that the complaints were justified, but there was nothing that could be done about it.

Under this system of marketing the farmer ships a carload of melons or potatoes, or any quantity of those or any other of his products to an agency to be sold at the best obtainable price, the agency to receive a stipulated commission. The transaction is wholly at the farmer's risk. If his produce does not arrive in good condition, if it spoils before it can be sold, if it arrives when there is a market glut and a buyer can not be found for it, or if the best price obtainable is so low that the proceeds will not even pay the freight, he is out of luck. Moreover, in the past he has had to take the agency's word for it if for any reason he did not realize what he had hoped or expected from the shipment.

He might be told, for example, that his melons were in bad condition when received and had to be sold for little or nothing. He would have no means of making sure whether this were true, for before he could bet any trace of his melons they would not only have ben sold, but consumed, and he would find it an exceedingly difficult matter to prove at what price his particular lot of melons had been sold. He might even be told that it had been found necessary to dump or destroy his melons, and all he could do would be to curse his luck and pick another agency for his next shipment.

Dumped to Hold Up Prices.

There have been cases in which perfectly good produce has been dumped or destroyed in order to hold prices at higher levels than could be maintained if regulated solely by the law of supply and demand. This is where the consuming public becomes interested in the matter, for it has to pay more for the produce than is justified by actual market conditions.

Of course reputable commission men do not indulge in practices such as have been complained of, and it is conceded that the great majority of

FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1927.

Wanted—A Dogcatcher

The canine problem is worrying East Liverpool's officials, for probably three times as many dogs are running at large within the corporate limits as the number appearing on the license books at the courthouse in Lisbon. And with a torrid wave sweeping the district, the danger of a mad dog scare is increased.

Complaints galore have poured into city hall regarding the nuisance. Councilmen have discussed the question pro and con, and Mayor Benedum is willing to act, but the city has no funds to pay the bill.

Under the state law, the task of rounding up unlicensed canines falls to the lot of the sheriff of the county. However, the municipality, too, has legislated in bygone years to authorize the appointment of a dogcatcher. In the event of action by the county or city, money is required to pay the fiddler, and neither unit seems to have any lucre to spare.

According to reports, the county commissioners have promised to transfer $200 from the dog license fund to the credit of the city as the nucleus of a fund to employ a dogcatcher. In order to accomplish anything in a war against unlicensed dogs, at least $600 or $700, it is estimated, should be available, for a dogcatcher must use a horse and wagon or motor vehicle in making his rounds, while a corral and death house for captured dogs are also essentials.

'Accidental Drowning' Boy's Death Verdict

Coroner Rules in River Tragedy Near Steel Company Docks at Weirton.

Coroner George A. Arner, of Hancock county, returned a verdict of accidental drowning" yesterday in the death of Joseph Battista, 17, of Weirton, who lost his life Wednesday afternoon while swimming in the Ohio river, near the Weirton Steel company docks.

The body was recovered shortly before noon yesterday after the river had been dragged for more than 24 hours by police officials and companions of the youth.

According to testimony at the inquest, the lad had been in the water about an hour when he was seized with cramps and sank despite efforts of his companions to rescue him.

The victim was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Battista and was employed at the plant of the Weirton Steel company.

LODGE MEETING SCHEDULED HERE

Plans have been completed for the meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge tomorrow night in the I. O. O. F.-K. of P. hall, Fifth street and Carolina avenue.

Visiting lodgemen will be present from New Cumberland, Weirton, Steubenville and other places in the county.

LALICH FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

Funeral services for Michael Lalich, 42 years old, Weirton, who died in the Ohio Valley hospital, Steubenville, as a result of fractured skull sustained when a falling timber struck him on the head while at work in the Pennsylvania railroad yards, Brooke county, were held this afternoon in the home of Calico Hill. Burial was made in the Serbian cemetery.

He is survived by one daughter, his wife having died two years ago.

MINE WORKERS TO TAKE TESTS

Miners in four Panhandle counties of northern West Virginia will be given opportunity in Wheeling on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 19-20 to take examinations for mine foremen and fire boss certificates.

The examinations will be conducted in the Wheeling high school building, and R. M. Lambie, chief of the state department of mines, will be in charge. He will be assisted by one or two from the headquarters at Charleston, and District Inspectors, L. W. Brown and A. E. Lafferty.

Fully half a hundred men are expected to apply for certificates either as fire bosses or mine foremen in the examinations in Wheeling. The helmet test and the technical questions which are envolved in practical mining will be included in the examinations.

The counties of Hancock, Brooke, Ohio and Marshall will contribute to the list of applicants.

SUPERIOR TIRES TO MEET NEWELL

GRACE READY FOR HOP-OFF FROM HAWAII

"Aviator With Broken Neck" to Fly to Santa Monica.

USES TINY PLANE

Awaits Late Weather Forecasts for Pacific Jump.

HONOLULU, July 1.—Richard Grace, "the aviator with the broken neck," was prepared to take off today for Santa Monica, Cal. Grace will fly alone.

He and his tiny monoplane are at Kauai awaiting late weather forecasts.

Grace has several times been forced to postpone his take-off because of reports of bad weather between the Island of Kauai and California. Although he is noted for his daredevil aerial stunts, Grace declared he will take no unnecessary chances on the flight to Clover field, Santa Monica.

"I am not going to hurry more than good judgment permits," the flyer explained, "but if the weather forecasts are favorable I shall take-off."

PRISON WARDEN ASSUMES DUTIES

Dr. L. M. Robinson, of Clarksburg, last night assumed his duties as warden of the state prison at Moundsville, replacing S. P. Smith, of Charleston.

"There may be some changes in the administrative policy," said the new warden, "but for the present things will go along as they have been. I will study the situation carefully, and let matters adjust themselves slowly."

J. Frank Brannen will be retained as prison clerk, Rex Rader as superintendent of the coal mine and Miss Dess Turner and Miss Luzerna Dubois as stenographers in the office of the warden.

Ross-Watson Wedding.

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Edith Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ross and Orth Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Funeral services for Frederick Pignatoro, 39 years old, will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in the Sacred Heart Catholic church, in charge of Rev. W. J. Sauer. Burial will be made in Locust Hill cemetery.

As the result of a campaign to increase the use of electricity in torrid Durban, South Africa, 138 stoves and 59 water heaters were installed last August.

Kills Pesky Bed-Bugs Roaches and Ants

Doctors declare that bed-bugs, roaches and other vermin are the most to be feared means of spreading such diseases as consumption, spinal meningitis and other infectious troubles. There is no disgrace in getting bed-bugs in your home, because that can't be avoided. But it is a disgrace to permit them to remain and thrive when it is so easy to get rid of them with the new chemical compound, P.D.Q., which quickly puts an end to these pesky devils.

A Million Bed-Bugs

A 35-cent package of this golden chemical will make a quart of a mixture that is so deadly to bed-bugs that it would kill a million of them if you could get that many together. Instantly it smothers and annihilates the living creatures; coats their eggs and stops them from hatching and multiplying.

Will Not Damage Goods

P.D.Q. will not injure delicate fabrics, clothing, carpets, furniture, bedding, wall paper or woodwork. In fact, it is often used as a deodorizer and disinfectant.

Moths

Impossible for moths to exist after using P.D.Q. Easy to use. A treatment on garments will prevent moths for two years.

For Ants and Cockroaches

Ants and cockroaches stand no chance of surviving a treatment of P.D.Q. It attacks them and their eggs with such force that it kills their whole generation.

P. D. Q. In Liquid Form

P.D.Q. can be purchased in sealed bottles double strength liquid form, with patent spout free. P.D.Q. Liquid can be diluted to make a quart or it can be used pure.

P.D.Q. is marketed in two style packages; Liquid form 50c, ready for use and P.D.Q. Dry form, 35c. Each package makes one quart.

Get P.D.Q. from your druggist today. Your money back if the bugs are not gone tomorrow.

SOCIETY

MISS MARY GLADYS LARKINS AND E. ALLAN McKEEVER WED

Ceremony Performed Last Night in Rectory of St. Aloysius Church Here.

Miss Mary Gladys Larkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Larking of West Seventh street, became the bride of E. Allan McKeever, son of Mrs. John McKeever of West Fifth street, last evening at 6 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the rectory of St. Aloysius church, with the pastor, Rev. Thomas E. Walsh, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Bertram O. Harris were the attendants.

The bride was gowned in poudre blue georgette, with a picture hat to match. She wore a corsage of butterfly roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore white georgette, with a corsage of sweetpeas and roses.

Following the ceremony the bridal party motored to Salem, where a wedding dinner was served at Quaker Inn. From there Mr. and Mrs. McKeever left for a honeymoon trip to Chicago and South Bend, Ind.

The bride has been employed by the Smith & Phillips Music company, while the bridegroom is a salesman for the Ceramic Motor company. After July 16, they will be at home to friends at 218 West Seventh street residing temporarily with the bride's parents.

KIME ORCHESTRA COMING TO PARK

Virgil Kime and his orchestra will be the attraction at Virginia Gardens Rock Springs park, Saturday night and afternoon and evening on Fourth of July.

Kime, himself, is an accomplished musician and competent leader. His orchestra is made up of young men who enjoy playing not only for the pay they receive but for the fun they get out of it.

Luncheon at J. A. Bryan Home.

Mrs. J. A. Bryan was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home, Bryan-built, St. Clair avenue, at a 1 o'clock luncheon. The home was decorated with summer flowers, while rosebuds centered the small tables, at which covers were arranged for 40 guests. The luncheon was served by Misses Ann Adams, Betty and Jane Faulk and Mary Hester Anderson.

The social hours were spent with progressive bridge. Trophies were awarded Miss Nan Thompson and Mrs. R. L. Cawood.

Hostess at Porch Party.

Mrs. Margaret Smith entertained the members of the Seattle club last evening at her home in Maplewood. A short business session was held, after which a porch party was featured. A guessing contest was won by Mesdames Mary Barcus and Gus Rosenberg.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Mary Sinclair and Mary McConville. Covers were arranged for 15 guests. Summer flowers were used in the appointments.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, July 14, in the home of Mrs. Mary Sinclair on West Eighth street.

ROOSEVELT FIELD REJOICES OVER BYRD'S SAFETY

"I'M HAPPY TO HEAR IT," SAYS FLYER'S WIFE

Mrs. Noville and Mrs. Acosta Gets News at Hangar.

WOMEN ARE CALM

Admitted They Worried, But Were Confident of Success.

NEW YORK, July 1. — There was great rejoicing, especially at Roosevelt Field, early today when the news was flashed from Paris that Commander Richard E. Byrd and his fellow flyers in the Fokker monoplane America were safe on the French coast, having been forced by bad weather to land at Ver-Sur-Mer, instead of Le Bourget, their destination.

As soon as the news was received at Roosevelt Field Grover Whalen representative of Rodman Wanamaker, financial backer of the flight, telephoned the news to Mrs. Byrd at Boston.

"I am very happy to hear it," cried Mrs. Byrd over the telephone. "It's fine news."

Mr. Whalen telephoned also to Thomas Byrd, at Winchester, Va.

Mrs. Noville, wife of Lieut. George O. Noville, and Mrs. Acosta, wife of Bert Acosta, were still at the hangar at Roosevelt Field when the cable arrived announcing the landing of the America.

The two women remained calm when they heard the news. They said that, while they had been worried, they felt sure all would come out all right.

The two wives remained seated while Whalen accompanied by the reporters went into the executive office to locate Ver-Sur-Mer upon the map.

After poring over the map for considerable time Mr. Whalen announced that Ver-Sur-Mer is on the channel coast, 120 miles from Calais, about 50 miles from Cherbourg and about 30 miles from the mouth of the River Seine.

Mrs. Acosta had a worn look on her face, but she smiled at the reporters as they dashed out of the office with their geographical lore. One of the first things she asked, after she learned that the flyers were safe, was whether the plane had been damaged.

"Ought to be Kicked"

after a brief nap was to get his plane ashore and dissemble it.

"We think we landed about 200 yards out from Ver-Sur-Mer," said Byrd, "but we are not sure. I am pleased to hear you tell me that Le-Bourget field ceased to hear our automatic signals at 1:15 a. m. because that will aid us in determining what time we did come down."

Byrd and his companions used a rubber raft, which they carried aboard the monoplane, to help them reach shore. They were aided by two fishermen. All the flyers were badly drenched but otherwise unharmed.

The America was partly submerged as French officials began the task this morning of getting it ashore. They succeeded in taking from the plane all the precision instruments, the compasses, the wireless post and the documents that Byrd carried.

Byrd, Acosta, Noville and Balchen seemed greatly concerned over the condition of the plane.

The under prefect of the Calvados department told Bryd that he had received telephone instructions from President Gaston Doumergue of France to present his congratulations, Byrd thanked the official. He asked the prefect if he could get in touch immediately with the naval attache who meanwhile had left Paris for Ver-Sur-Mer.

NEW YORK GIRL GREETS AIRMAN

VER-SUR-MER, France, July 1. —The first woman to greet Commander Richard E. Byrd and his trans-Atlantic flying companions on French soil was a former New York girl, now the wife of a French citizen. She also was probably the first person in France to issue a positive command to the naval commander. It was an order to "shut up."

Her name is Mme. Tanugi, and before her marriage she was Miss Estelle De Jongh of New York.

Mme. Tanugi and her husband who are vacationing at this village, were the only persons in the village at the time of the America's forced landing who could speak English. Mme. Tanugi was called at 5 o'clock in the morning to act as interpreter for the strange Americans.

And then she gave Commander Byrd his first order. When Byrd complained because he had not reached Paris, Mme. Tanugi snapped: "Shut up, you got to France."

Byrd Lands in Sea

Comb Sky for Craft.

After being missing for hours, during which they cruised through rain and thick mist over France, the airmen turned up safe and sound, allaying anxiety that had grown up overnight.

The America was slightly damaged in making the landing but remained afloat.

The America was in the air approximately 43 hours.

Throughout the early morning hours all France, both the ground beneath and the sky above, was combed for the missing Americans. It was not until 8:20 o'clock that the mystery of the missing flyers was solved. At that hour the commander of Le Bourget air depot received a telephone message from Havre stating that a report had been received there that Commander Byrd's plane had come down at Ver-Sur-Mer about 200 yards off the coast.

Within a few minutes another message was received bearing official confirmation of the first.

Traveled Inland.

The first message had indicated that the America alighted in the water but it was not until the second was received that this was made certain.

The prefect of police at Caen, near the spot where the plane came down, told International News Service that the America had "made a safe landing," indicating that it was not damaged to any great extent.

The fact that the plane came down on the coast aroused the supposition that it had traveled considerable distance inland, swinging in a great circle back toward the Atlantic.

However, the full course of the flight could not be known until Commander Byrd and his companions told their story.

Flyers in Good Spirits.

The flyers had been in the air all night. They were described in Havre dispatches as being tired but in good health and spirits.

According to one apparently authentic report the airplane was not seen as it alighted. The flyers swam ashore and climbed the entrance of the lighthouse at Roche De Ver where they woke up the keeper and said they wanted a place to sleep. The keeper prepared beds for them.

Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, who had preceded Byrd and his companions on the trans-ocean hop, were among the first to be notified of the safe landing of the Americans on the coast.

"I am glad they're safe and they can claim success for they flew from New York to France without a stop," exclaimed the two Americans in unison."

Chamberlin and Levine Glad.

Chamberlin and Levine said they fully appreciated the difficulties of the flight Byrd had made and they praised the air worthy qualities of the Fokker plane.

"I will surely be glad to congratulate Byrd and his fellow aviators," said Chamberlin.

"And so will I," added Levine.

Capt. R. D. White, naval attache to the United States embassy, and a group of officials left Paris at 10:45 in two automobiles for Ver-Sur-Mer to bring the flyers back to Paris.

Some one perpetrated a heartless hoax just before 2 o'clock this morning when a report was put out that the plane had landed at Issy Les Moulineaux. Reporters hastened to the landing field at that place but found it deserted. There was no trace of Byrd and his companions.

Signals, which were believed to have come from the America, were picked up later, but no messages that contained information as to the location of the America nor her mechanical condition.

Le Bourget Crowd Disappointed.

For hour after hour a large crowd stood at Le Bourget air depot waiting for the travellers. When news came from Brest that the America had passed over that port it seemed certain that Byrd would find his goal and crown his great effort with success.

But as the hours passed and it became evident that Byrd had lost his way the people began to drift away.

Great searchlights—guiding lights—maintained at the field for the directing of airmen were kept playing upon the black rain clouds throughout the night. The officials of the field were on the alert for the noise of the three-motored machine.

Byrd Close to Paris

rather local disturbance. We went around in circles.

Flew Over Strange Country.

"We were now in the predicament of flying over a strange country without knowing where we were. Every now and then we ran into rain clouds. We were sure our gas would not last until morning and were certain that we would have to land in the dark but we kept on our supposed course for Paris.

"We may have been near Paris but I am not sure. We searched for hours trying to find a landing place. We were watching our gas consumption and the supply was getting lower and lower every minute. The fear of a forced landing stared us in the face.

"We could not see a thing and to land in rough ground that we could not see would mean a tragedy.

"I felt most keenly the responsibility for the three gallant men who were with me.

Feared Forced Landing.

"With our gas supply low the fear of being forced to land in a city caused us to decide to land on water. We discovered a lighthouse with a revolving light. We did not know where it was.

"I dropped a flare and landed, but the flare did not help much. It is hard enough to land a plane in the water in day time let alone at night.

"There was a sudden hard jolt and water filled everything immediately.

"Of course, the boys thought at once of saving each other.

"No one could hear after 42 hours of the motor noise. We shouted as loud as possible. We suffered nothing but shocks and bruises in landing.

"Finally we pulled out our little rubber boat and pumped it up. We got in it and rowed ashore, about 200 yards away.

"We came up to the village and could not raise anybody.

In Air 42 Hours.

"The America will rise again. We will repair her. She is a fine ship. If we had flown in a straight line we would have covered 4,200 miles. We were in the air 42 hours."

Lieut. George O. Noville, the radio expert, interrupted the commander at this point.

"We went over the lighthouse about 3 o'clock," he said. "My watch stopped at 3:30 which must have been the time we landed."

Byrd then continued with his story:

"I want especially to speak of the fellows with me," he said. "Their courage and calmness under these conditions, which could not have been worse, was wonderful when we found ourself flying around with little gas after 19 hours of having seen no land or sea."

OCEAN JUMPERS GO TO SLEEP AFTER LANDING

Byrd and Companions Rest at Ver-Sur-Mer.

PLANE ANCHORED

America, Not Badly Damaged, Will be Beached.

CAEN, France, July 1.—Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three trans-Atlantic flight companions are asleep at Ver-Sur-Mer, at which place they fell into the channel early today after a dramatic flight across the ocean and over France. This information was brought here today by the prefect of the Calvados department who has just returned from Ver-Sur-Mer.

"The tides in the channel are high and the monoplane America has been attached to a boat in the harbor to prevent it from drifting out with the tide," he reported.

The prefect of police said that Byrd planned to get up about 1 o'clock this afternoon and assist in beaching the plane at about 2 o'clock when the tides are low.

"Immediately afterward we hope the flyers will come to Caen," he said. "We are organizing a great reception in their honor.

"The flyers were pretty tired after their long and arduous trip.

"As far as I could see the plane was not bad'y damaged."

MRS. RICHARD E. BYRD AND HER CHILDREN DANCE WITH HAPPINESS

Ocean Flyer's Wife Stands by Telephone All Night Awaiting News of Husband's Arrival in France.

BOSTON, July 1.—Mrs. Richard E. Byrd was overjoyed, her three children danced with happiness, the eight months' old baby gurgled and the Arctic terrier, "Igloo," scampered about the Byrd home here today when news arrived that the brave father of the household was safe.

Throughout the night Mrs. Byrd had kept in close contact by telephone with Roosevelt field but she never swerved in her faith that her husband would land safely. She appeared tired after her long vigil.

"Dead tired but very happy," as she expressed it, Mrs. Byrd retired for a few hours' sleep, having been at or near the telephone to Roosevelt Field all night.

A messenger boy arrived with a cablegram from her husband but Mrs. Byrd was not awakened.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 1.—Speculative gyrations of Baldwin locomotive furnished the chief speculative interest in an otherwise dull and feautreless period in the stock market at the beginning of trading today.

To the accompaniment of rumors that one or more powerful pools had practically cornered the stock, the bears crowded in to cover their commitments as the stock moved up 10 points to 229½ in the first half hour. The rise in the stock from 150 to 230 has occurred in a period in which operations of the plants have shrunk from 60 to 10 per cent of capacity, while orders have correspondingly declined.

The small floating supply of Baldwin stock, combined with the probability of an early disposal of its valuable Philadelphia property, furnish the principal speculative appeal of Baldwin stock, which has been aggressively churned around by powerful pools.

After a weak and reactionary opening, the motor stocks made a better showing, though Mack Trucks declined sharply to 95 on speculative selling, based on reports that the Ford organization would enter the truck manufacturing field. Hudson was unable to resist selling pressure without the loss of a point or two.

Wall Street looked for a further shrinkage in the volume of brokers' loans, and was surprised at the $2,000,000 increase disclosed in the reserve board's report. Call money was unchanged at 5 per cent, nad commodity markets were steady, with cotton registering a fractional gain.

pital after being prostrated from excessive heat.

COSHOCTON, O., July 1.—Searchers today had not found the body of Martha Finnicum, 14, Scio, near here, who was drowned near West Lafayette, while bathing in the Tuscarawas river.

Thermometer Hits 98.

COLUMBUS, O., July 1.—Deaths by drownings and heat prostrations mounted in Ohio today as weather bureaus over the state predicted a continuance of the season's first torrid wave. Relief is expected Saturday about noon when showers will break the hot spell, U. S. Weatherman Alexander declared here today after receiving reports from all sections of the state.

The highest temperature on record here today was reported Thursday at Circleville and at Waverly where the tubes indicated 98. Norwalk recorded 97 degrees, Wilmington, 96, while other sections of the state on the river, on the lake and inland, recorded readings ranging between 92 and 96 degrees high temperatures. No section escaped the summer season's first offering, according to Alexander.

The season's drownings stood at three here today, after Robert Kimble, 15, lost his life in Big Walnut creek, late Thursday, while a score of persons nearby failed to rescue him, not knowing that he was in danger.

Boy Drowned at New Lexington.

NEW LEXINGTON, O., July 1.—Gerald Grimm, 19, was drowned here early today when he waded beyond his depth. He could not swim. Friends went to his assistance but failed to save him. His body was recovered.

Ford, fortunately, doesn't need government endowment. He keeps "liquid," always having at least three hundred and fifty to four hundred million dollars in the bank.

WHILE Byrd was flying east across the Atlantic, and two young army men west across the Pacific, at 110 miles an hour, our interesting visitor, the comet Pons-Winnecke, was leaving the earth behind, passing through various constellations at the rate of 66,600 miles an hour.

Shall we, tiny creatures, when released from service on this earth, make some such journey? That would be more interesting than going into the ground, to stay there.

HOWARD L. FIFE GIVEN DIVORCE

Howard L. Fife, Oak street, was granted a divorce from his wife, Freda M. Fife, whose present residence is unknown, by Judge Jay S. Paisley Steubenville, in the Columbiana county common pleas court, Lisbon, today. Custody of their two minor children will be determined later.

DUFFS ACQUIRE DAIRY STORE

Purchase of the East Liverpool Dairy Products company, located at 125 West Sixth street, by Mrs. Clarence E. Duff and her brother-in-law, Lawrence Duff, was announced today. Ice cream, candy, soft drinks, sandwiches and other refreshments are handled at the stand.

FIREWORKS GO ON SALE HERE

Use of Pyrotechnics Banned Until Monday.

Sale of fireworks opened in East Liverpool today, but their use will not be permitted until Independence Day.

Four days, today, tomorrow, Sunday and Monday, have been set aside for the sale of pyrotechnics. Inasmuch as most of the stores will be closed on Sunday, many of the dealers must confine their sales to three days.

About 30 permits have been issued by the mayor.

SECOND SAPIRO CASE SEPT. 12

DETROIT, July 1. — The second hearing of Aaron Sapiro's claims for a million dollars libel damages against Henry Ford will get under way September 12.

This date was set by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond today at a session attended only by counsel for the litigants which developed a lively brush between the court and William H. Gallagher, chief legal aid of the so-called "wheat king."

ROOSEVELT FIELD REJOICES OVER BYRD'S SAFETY

"I'M HAPPY TO HEAR IT," SAYS FLYER'S WIFE

Mrs. Noville and Mrs. Acosta Gets News at Hangar.

WOMEN ARE CALM

Admitted They Worried, But Were Confident of Success.

NEW YORK, July 1. — There was great rejoicing, especially at Roosevelt Field, early today when the news was flashed from Paris that Commander Richard E. Byrd and his fellow flyers in the Fokker monoplane America were safe on the French coast, having been forced by bad weather to land at Ver-Sur-Mer, instead of Le Bourget, their destination.

As soon as the news was received at Roosevelt Field Grover Whalen representative of Rodman Wanamaker, financial backer of the flight, telephoned the news to Mrs. Byrd at Boston.

"I am very happy to hear it," cried Mrs. Byrd over the telephone. "It is fine news."

Mr. Whalen telephoned also to Thomas Byrd, at Winchester, Va.

Mrs. Noville, wife of Lieut. George O. Noville, and Mrs. Acosta, wife of Bert Acosta, were still at the hangar at Roosevelt Field when the cable arrived announcing the landing of the America.

The two women remained calm when they heard the news. They said that, while they had been worried, they felt sure all would come out all right.

The two wives remained seated while Whalen accompanied by the reporters went into the executive office to locate Ver-Sur-Mer upon the map.

After poring over the map for considerable time Mr. Whalen announced that Ver-Sur-Mer is on the channel coast, 120 miles from Calais, about 50 miles from Cherbourg and about 30 miles from the mouth of the River Seine.

Mrs. Acosta had a worn look on her face, but she smiled at the reporters as they dashed out of the office with their geographical lore. One of the first things she asked, after she learned that the flyers were safe, was whether the plane had been damaged.

"Ought to be Kicked"

after a brief nap was to get his plane ashore and dissemble it.

"We think we landed about 200 yards out from Ver-Sur-Mer," said Byrd, "but we are not sure. I am pleased to hear you tell me that Le-Bourget field ceased to hear our automatic signals at 1:15 a. m. because that will aid us in determining what time we did come down."

Byrd and his companions used a rubber raft, which they carried aboard the monoplane, to help them reach shore. They were aided by two fishermen. All the flyers were badly drenched but otherwise unharmed.

The America was partly submerged as French officials began the task this morning of getting it ashore. They succeeded in taking from the plane all the precision instruments, the compasses, the wireless post and the documents that Byrd carried.

Byrd, Acosta, Noville and Balchen seemed greatly concerned over the condition of the plane.

The under prefect of the Calvados department told Bryd that he had received telephone instructions from President Gaston Doumergue of France to present his congratulations, Byrd thanked the official. He asked the prefect if he could get in touch immediately with the naval attache who meanwhile had left Paris for Ver-Sur-Mer.

NEW YORK GIRL GREETS AIRMAN

VER-SUR-MER, France, July 1. —The first woman to greet Commander Richard E. Byrd and his trans-Atlantic flying companions on French soil was a former New York girl, now the wife of a French citizen. She also was probably the first person in France to issue a positive command to the naval commander. It was an order to "shut up."

Her name is Mme. Tanugi, and before her marriage she was Miss Estelle De Jongh of New York.

Mme. Tanugi and her husband who are vacationing at this village, were the only persons in the village at the time of the America's forced landing who could speak English. Mme. Tanugi was called at 5 o'clock in the morning to act as interpreter for the strange Americans.

And then she gave Commander Byrd his first order. When Byrd complained because he had not reached Paris, Mme. Tanugi snapped: "Shut up, you got to France."

Byrd Lands in Sea

Comb Sky for Craft.

After being missing for hours, during which they cruised through rain and thick mist over France, the airmen turned up safe and sound, allaying anxiety that had grown up overnight.

The America was slightly damaged in making the landing but remained afloat.

The America was in the air approximately 43 hours.

Throughout the early morning hours all France, both the ground beneath and the sky above, was combed for the missing Americans. It was not until 8:20 o'clock that the mystery of the missing flyers was solved. At that hour the commander of Le Bourget air depot received a telephone message from Havre stating that a report had been received there that Commander Byrd's plane had come down at Ver-Sur-Mer about 200 yards off the coast.

Within a few minutes another message was received bearing official confirmation of the first.

Traveled Inland.

The first message had indicated that the America alighted in the water but it was not until the second was received that this was made certain.

The prefect of police at Caen, near the spot where the plane came down, told International News Service that the America had "made a safe landing," indicating that it was not damaged to any great extent.

The fact that the plane came down on the coast aroused the supposition that it had traveled considerable distance inland, swinging in a great circle back toward the Atlantic.

However, the full course of the flight could not be known until Commander Byrd and his companions told their story.

Flyers in Good Spirits.

The flyers had been in the air all night. They were described in Havre dispatches as being tired but in good health and spirits.

According to one apparently authentic report the airplane was not seen as it alighted. The flyers swam ashore and climbed the entrance of the lighthouse at Roche De Ver where they woke up the keeper and said they wanted a place to sleep. The keeper prepared beds for them.

Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, who had preceded Byrd and his companions on the trans-ocean hop, were among the first to be notified of the safe landing of the Americans on the coast.

"I am glad they're safe and they can claim success for they flew from New York to France without a stop," exclaimed the two Americans in unison."

Chamberlin and Levine Glad.

Chamberlin and Levine said they fully appreciated the difficulties of the flight Byrd had made and they praised the air worthy qualities of the Fokker plane.

"I will surely be glad to congratulate Byrd and his fellow aviators," said Chamberlin.

"And so will I," added Levine.

Capt. R. D. White, naval attache to the United States embassy, and a group of officials left Paris at 10:45 in two automobiles for Ver-Sur-Mer to bring the flyers back to Paris.

Some one perpetrated a heartless hoax just before 2 o'clock this morning when a report was put out that the plane had landed at Issy Les Moulineaux. Reporters hastened to the landing field at that place but found it deserted. There was no trace of Byrd and his companions.

Signals, which were believed to have come from the America, were picked up later, but no messages that contained information as to the location of the America nor her mechanical condition.

Le Bourget Crowd Disappointed.

For hour after hour a large crowd stood at Le Bourget air depot waiting for the travellers. When news came from Brest that the America had passed over that port it seemed certain that Byrd would find his goal and crown his great effort with success.

But as the hours passed and it became evident that Byrd had lost his way the people began to drift away.

Great searchlights—guiding lights—maintained at the field for the directing of airmen were kept playing upon the black rain clouds throughout the night. The officials of the field were on the alert for the noise of the three-motored machine.

Byrd Close to Paris

rather local disturbance. We went around in circles.

Flew Over Strange Country.

"We were now in the predicament of flying over a strange country without knowing where we were. Every now and then we ran into rain clouds. We were sure our gas would not last until morning and were certain that we would have to land in the dark but we kept on our supposed course for Paris.

"We may have been near Paris but I am not sure. We searched for hours trying to find a landing place. We were watching our gas consumption and the supply was getting lower and lower every minute. The fear of a forced landing stared us in the face.

"We could not see a thing and to land in rough ground that we could not see would mean a tragedy.

"I felt most keenly the responsibility for the three gallant men who were with me.

Feared Forced Landing.

"With our gas supply low the fear of being forced to land in a city caused us to decide to land on water. We discovered a lighthouse with a revolving light. We did not know where it was.

"I dropped a flare and landed, but the flare did not help much. It is hard enough to land a plane in the water in day time let alone at night.

"There was a sudden hard jolt and water filled everything immediately.

"Of course, the boys thought at once of saving each other.

"No one could hear after 42 hours of the motor noise. We shouted as loud as possible. We suffered nothing but shocks and bruises in landing.

"Finally we pulled out our little rubber boat and pumped it up. We got in it and rowed ashore, about 200 yards away.

"We came up to the village and could not raise anybody.

In Air 42 Hours.

"The America will rise again. We will repair her. She is a fine ship. If we had flown in a straight line we would have covered 4,200 miles. We were in the air 42 hours."

Lieut. George O. Noville, the radio expert, interrupted the commander at this point.

"We went over the lighthouse about 3 o'clock," he said. "My watch stopped at 3:30 which must have been the time we landed."

Byrd then continued with his story:

"I want especially to speak of the fellows with me," he said. "Their courage and calmness under these conditions, which could not have been worse, was wonderful when we found ourself flying around with little gas after 19 hours of having seen no land or sea."

OCEAN JUMPERS GO TO SLEEP AFTER LANDING

Byrd and Companions Rest at Ver-Sur-Mer.

PLANE ANCHORED

America, Not Badly Damaged, Will be Beached.

CAEN, France, July 1.—Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three trans-Atlantic flight companions are asleep at Ver-Sur-Mer, at which place they fell into the channel early today after a dramatic flight across the ocean and over France. This information was brought here today by the prefect of the Calvados department who has just returned from Ver-Sur-Mer.

"The tides in the channel are high and the monoplane America has been attached to a boat in the harbor to prevent it from drifting out with the tide," he reported.

The prefect of police said that Byrd planned to get up about 1 o'clock this afternoon and assist in beaching the plane at about 2 o'clock when the tides are low.

"Immediately afterward we hope the flyers will come to Caen," he said. "We are organizing a great reception in their honor.

"The flyers were pretty tired after their long and arduous trip.

MRS. RICHARD E. BYRD AND HER CHILDREN DANCE WITH HAPPINESS

Ocean Flyer's Wife Stands by Telephone All Night Awaiting News of Husband's Arrival in France.

BOSTON, July 1.—Mrs. Richard E. Byrd was overjoyed, her three children danced with happiness, the eight months' old baby gurgled and the Arctic terrier, "Igloo," scampered about the Byrd home here today when news arrived that the brave father of the household was safe.

Throughout the night Mrs. Byrd had kept in close contact by telephone with Roosevelt field but she never swerved in her faith that her husband would land safely. She appeared tired after her long vigil.

"Dead tired but very happy," as she expressed it, Mrs. Byrd retired for a few hours' sleep, having been at or near the telephone to Roosevelt Field all night.

A messenger boy arrived with a cablegram from her husband but Mrs. Byrd was not awakened.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 1.—Speculative gyrations of Baldwin locomotive furnished the chief speculative interest in an otherwise dull and feautreless period in the stock market at the beginning of trading today.

To the accompaniment of rumors that one or more powerful pools had practically cornered the stock, the bears crowded in to cover their commitments as the stock moved up 10 points to 229½ in the first half hour. The rise in the stock from 150 to 230 has occurred in a period in which operations of the plants have shrunk from 60 to 10 per cent of capacity, while orders have correspondingly declined.

The small floating supply of Baldwin stock, combined with the probability of an early disposal of its valuable Philadelphia property, furnish the principal speculative appeal of Baldwin stock, which has been aggressively churned around by powerful pools.

After a weak and reactionary opening, the motor stocks made a better showing, though Mack Trucks declined sharply to 95 on speculative selling, based on reports that the Ford organization would enter the truck manufacturing field. Hudson was unable to resist selling pressure without the loss of a point or two.

Wall Street looked for a further shrinkage in the volume of brokers' loans, and was surprised at the $2,000,000 increase disclosed in the reserve board's report. Call money was unchanged at 5 per cent, nad commodity markets were steady, with cotton registering a fractional gain.

pital after being prostrated from excessive heat.

COSHOCTON, O., July 1.—Searchers today had not found the body of Martha Finnicum, 14, Scio, near here, who was drowned near West Lafayette, while bathing in the Tuscarawas river.

Thermometer Hits 98.

COLUMBUS, O., July 1.—Deaths by drownings and heat prostrations mounted in Ohio today as weather bureaus over the state predicted a continuance of the season's first torrid wave. Relief is expected Saturday about noon when showers will break the hot spell, U. S. Weatherman Alexander declared here today after receiving reports from all sections of the state.

The highest temperature on record here today was reported Thursday at Circleville and at Waverly where the tubes indicated 98. Norwalk recorded 97 degrees, Wilmington, 96, while other sections of the state on the river, on the lake and inland, recorded readings ranging between 92 and 96 degrees high temperatures. No section escaped the summer season's first offering, according to Alexander.

The season's drownings stood at three here today, after Robert Kimble, 15, lost his life in Big Walnut creek, late Thursday, while a score of persons nearby failed to rescue him, not knowing that he was in danger.

Boy Drowned at New Lexington.

NEW LEXINGTON, O., July 1.—Gerald Grimm, 19, was drowned here early today when he waded beyond his depth. He could not swim. Friends went to his assistance but failed to save him. His body was recovered.

Ford, fortunately, doesn't need government endowment. He keeps "liquid," always having at least three hundred and fifty to four hundred million dollars in the bank.

WHILE Byrd was flying east across the Atlantic, and two young army men west across the Pacific, at 110 miles an hour, our interesting visitor, the comet Pons-Winnecke, was leaving the earth behind, passing through various constellations at the rate of 66,600 miles an hour.

Shall we, tiny creatures, when released from service on this earth, make some such journey? That would be more interesting than going into the ground, to stay there.

HOWARD L. FIFE GIVEN DIVORCE

Howard L. Fife, Oak street, was granted a divorce from his wife, Freda M. Fife, whose present residence is unknown, by Judge Jay S. Paisley Steubenville, in the Columbiana county common pleas court, Lisbon, today. Custody of their two minor children will be determined later.

DUFFS ACQUIRE DAIRY STORE

Purchase of the East Liverpool Dairy Products company, located at 125 West Sixth street, by Mrs. Clarence E. Duff and her brother-in-law, Lawrence Duff, was announced today. Ice cream, candy, soft drinks, sandwiches and other refreshments are handled at the stand.

FIREWORKS GO ON SALE HERE

Use of Pyrotechnics Banned Until Monday.

Sale of fireworks opened in East Liverpool today, but their use will not be permitted until Independence Day.

Four days, today, tomorrow, Sunday and Monday, have been set aside for the sale of pyrotechnics. Inasmuch as most of the stores will be closed on Sunday, many of the dealers must confine their sales to three days.

About 30 permits have been issued by the mayor.

SECOND SAPIRO CASE SEPT. 12

DETROIT, July 1. — The second hearing of Aaron Sapiro's claims for a million dollars libel damages against Henry Ford will get under way September 12.

This date was set by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond today at a session attended only by counsel for the litigants which developed a lively brush between the court and William H. Gallagher, chief legal aid of the so-called "wheat king."

CARUBIA HELD ON CHARGE OF MAKING LIQUOR

Accused Arrested in Keystone State by Chief Fultz.

ASK $2,000 BOND

Police Raided His Home on Fourteenth Street.

Facing a charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquor, preferred by authorities as a result of the discovery of a still and other apparatus designed, it is said for that purpose, Alphonse Carbuia, of 1207 Anderson avenue, Wellsville, was arrested last night by Chief of Police John Fultz in California, Pa.

Carubia was locked up in jail here last night. He will be given a hearing before Mayor W. L. Fogo next week.

Mayor Fogo today notified Attorney Ben L. Bennett, of East Liverpool, whom Carubia has retained as legal counsel, that the prisoner's temporary freedom, pending the hearing, can be obtained on $2,000 bond.

Tuesday afternoon, local police, led by Chief Fultz and Mayor Fogo, raided Carubia's dwelling, finding a 15-gallon still, 15 barrels of mash, and a quantity of alleged liquor.

Carubia was not at home when the police made their visit and Wellsville and tri-state district authorities cooperated in the search that led to his arrest last night.

The still and other equipment were found, it is said, in a false cellar, the authorities being compelled to tear down a section of brick and concrete wall to get at it.

FOUR MOTORISTS FINED, ONE FREED

Four motorists were fined, while another was dismissed by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley yesterday.

Charles Black, Wellsville colored man, was fined $7 when found guilty of fast and reckless driving. He was arrested on West Eighth street by Patrolman Curran at 11 o'clock last night. J. H. Davidson, also of Wellsville, who was arrested in Dresden avenue by Court Bailiff Hissam last night on a like charge, was also fined $7.

Forfeits of $2 each were taken from E. E. Birch, Bloomfield, charged with operating a truck without a license, and Max Maneloveg, alleged to have parked in a restricted zone.

Charge of driving through a red block in the traffic light on West Eighth street ,filed against James W. Hickey, was dismissed.

FORBES FUNERAL AT YELLOW CREEK

Funeral services for Mrs. John Forbes, 65 years old, who died yesterday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Peter Brophy, in Niles, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, in charge of Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor. Burial will be made in the church cemetery.

In addition to two daughters, Mrs. Brophy and Mrs. Tipton, the latter of Cleveland, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Susan McLaughlin, and three brothers: Jerry McLaughlin of West Point, Carlos McLaughlin of Wellsville, and George McLaughlin of Akron. Five grandchildren also are living.

She was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church.

SCOUTS PLAN CAMP TRIP

Leave Monday Morning for Lake Placentia.

Wellsville's first delegation of Boy Scouts to the county scouts' summer camp at Lake Placentia, near North Georgetown, will leave the city Monday morning, July 4, scout executives here announced today.

The pilgrimage to Placentia will start at 8 o'clock in the morning from the Central garage, at Twelfth and Main streets, in charge of troop leaders.

A truck will transport the main body of campers. In the event that any the scouts fail to appear on time, it will be necessary for them to arrange their own transportation to the camp, scout leaders announced.

The second period of the camp program will open Monday.

HOLLOW ROCK MEET MONDAY

Special services will be held on Monday, July 4, at the Hollow Rock campground. Street cars will be met by automobiles at the Irondale road.

Improvements are now in progress at the camp in preparation for the annual interdenominational holiness meetings. A new fence inclosing the ground and a new bridge are being constructed.

SINGERS CLOSE SALINEVILLE CHAUTAUQUA

Redpath Organization Moves Tents to Ligonier, Pa.

SEEK CONTRACT

Round up Signers to Insure Program for 1928.

The Redpath Chautauqua has just closed a five-day program in Salineville. The closing number was given Wednesday evening by the Fiechtl Yodlers, "Echoes of the Alps."

The crew that has been in Salineville for the past seven days, are taking their tent and equipment to Ligonier, Pa. Superintendent Syler is endeavoring to have a contract signed for next year. Signers are being sought to insure the 1928 appearance of the organization.

"The Patsy," a comedy in three acts, was rendered Tuesday evening to a large crowd. In the afternoon of Tuesday, Frank Johnson of Columbus, delivered his lecture, "Blind Samsons." Wednesday afternoon, Ade Duval, Chicago magician, rag picture artist and entertainer, delighted the children.

"Junior Town" with Miss Bass as superintendent and Miss Myrtle Strabley her assistant, and Billy Miller, "Mayor," held their annual picnic Wednesday afternoon.

Fractures Arm.

Mrs. G. W. McClellan, while alighting from their automobile at Summitville last Sunday, fell and fractured her left arm. She is improving slowly.

POLICE WARN CELEBRATORS

With Fourth of July celebrators "stocking up" with pyrotechnics for the Independence day observance, police today repeated their warning that all noisy demonstrations must be confined to Monday, alone.

Fireworks are on sale at a number of stores here and can be purchased from now until the Fourth, but explosion of firecrackers and other similar devices will not be permitted until the Fourth.

Police department heads have authorized patrolmen to make arrests in the event the order is disobeyed.

Appeals to Common Pleas.

An appeal to common pleas court from that of Justice John W. Riley of Wellsville has been taken by J. C. Floto, against whom judgment was returned in the lower court and in favor of Olive Hammond. In this case the plaintiff sued for work and labor, goods sold the defendant and also for $100 money loaned. The court gave the plaintiff judgment for $177.16 and costs. Floto has filed an appeal bond in the sum of $350.

TODAY IS PAYDAY FOR CITY WORKERS

City employes at least will enjoy the Fourth of July holiday with full purses.

All municipal workers, including members of the fire, police and other departments as well as executives, received pay checks today.

ENGINEERS GET NEW OFFICERS

Vote Return to Original Methods of Control.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, meeting in Cleveland, today had returned to the original method of officering the organization, following abolishment of offices of president, vice president and secretary which were created in 1924.

Alvanley Johnston, once a caller on the Great Northern railroad automatically was placed in command of the B. of L. E. affairs, following adoption of the abolishment resolution by the tri-ennial convention of the organization, in secret session here yesterday.

The resolution mentioned no names, it was understood, but the men affected are W. B. Prenter, president; L. C. Griffing, first vice president who also acted as treasurer; H. P. Daugherty, second vice president and C. E. Lindquist, secretary.

Three trustees were named temporarily by Johnston as follows:

George O. Barnhart, of Spokane, Wash.; A. J. Campbell, Fort Williams, Ont., and C. W. Simpson, Lancaster, Tenn. This trio will take over the management of the brotherhood's financial and business enterprises with the exception of the pension and insurance departments and report semi-annually to the organization's advisory board.

Barnhart is president of the Portland and Spokane brotherhood banks and chairman of the Pacific Investment company, of Seattle, while Simpson is president of the Lancaster (Tenn.) Banking company. Together with Campbell they will manage the brotherhood's controlling interest in the ten cooperative banks scattered throughout the country, the investment and securities companies, and the Venice land development project in Florida.

The convention yesterday voted to discontinue its annual contribution of $48,000 to the "Weekly Labor," published at Washington by a combination of railway labor organizations. This move, coupled with abolishment of the four offices mentioned, will save the brotherhood $100,000 a year, it was said.

According to announcement at the convention Thursday, the Cleveland Brotherhood bank today was to pay its regular semi-annual 5 per cent dividend to stockholders of the $1,000,000 capital stock.

Within ten days the convention is expected to elect permanent officers under the reversal of system. Prenter and the others, it was understood, will continue to hold office until the present convention comes to an end.

NO ACTION ON HINEMAN DEAL

Ten-day Period on Resolution Expires Tonight.

Mayor W. L. Fogo, at noon today, would not intimate his probable action in connection with legislation passed Tuesday, June 21, authorizing the settlement of the Hineman water contract dispute by the payment to Hineman of approximately $15,500.

The mayor's power to sign or veto the measure expires tonight at midnight, 10 days after the passage of the legislation by council.

If he neither signs nor vetoes the resolution, it will automatically become effective.

YELLOW CREEK CHURCH SERVICES

Regular services will be held Sunday in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, with preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., in charge of Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor.

Sunday school will convene at 10 a. m. Young people will meet at 7:30 p. m. The subject will be "What Our Government Does for Us." Mrs. Witherspoon will be the leader.

An offering will be received at the morning service for the church improvement fund.

Files Collection Suit.

To enforce the collection of a note for $198 and interest from April 12, 1926, M. K. Duty, of Wellsville, has filed an action in common pleas court against William and Adella Anderson. The note was secured by a mortgage on four lots in Arcadia addition, Wellsville.

Visit in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. J. G. Frank and daughter, Jacqueline, of Fourteenth street, have left for Allentown and Philadelphia, Pa., where they will visit with Mrs. Frank's relatives over the Fourth.

The still and other equipment were found, it is said, in a false cellar, the authorities being compelled to tear down a section of brick and concrete wall to get at it.

FOUR MOTORISTS FINED, ONE FREED

Four motorists were fined, while another was dismissed by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley yesterday.

Charles Black, Wellsville colored man, was fined $7 when found guilty of fast and reckless driving. He was arrested on West Eighth street by Patrolman Curran at 11 o'clock last night. J. H. Davidson, also of Wellsville, who was arrested in Dresden avenue by Court Bailiff Hissam last night on a like charge, was also fined $7.

Forfeits of $2 each were taken from E. E. Birch, Bloomfield, charged with operating a truck without a license, and Max Maneloveg, alleged to have parked in a restricted zone.

Charge of driving through a red block in the traffic light on West Eighth street filed against James W. Hickey, was dismissed.

FORBES FUNERAL AT YELLOW CREEK

Funeral services for Mrs. John Forbes, 65 years old, who died yesterday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Peter Brophy, in Niles, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, in charge of Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor. Burial will be made in the church cemetery.

In addition to two daughters, Mrs. Brophy and Mrs. Tipton, the latter of Cleveland, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Susan McLaughlin, and three brothers: Jerry McLaughlin of West Point, Carlos McLaughlin of Wellsville, and George McLaughlin of Akron. Five grandchildren also are living.

She was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church.

SCOUTS PLAN CAMP TRIP

Leave Monday Morning for Lake Placentia.

Wellsville's first delegation of Boy Scouts to the county scouts' summer camp at Lake Placentia, near North Georgetown, will leave the city Monday morning, July 4, scout executive here announced today.

The pilgrimage to Placentia will start at 8 o'clock in the morning from the Central garage, at Twelfth and Main streets, in charge of troop leaders.

A truck will transport the main body of campers. In the event that any the scouts fail to appear on time, it will be necessary for them to arrange their own transportation to the camp, scout leaders announced.

The second period of the camp program will open Monday.

HOLLOW ROCK MEET MONDAY

Special services will be held on Monday, July 4, at the Hollow Rock campground. Street cars will be met by automobiles at the Irondale road.

Improvements are now in progress at the camp in preparation for the annual interdenominational holiness meetings. A new fence inclosing the ground and a new bridge are being constructed.

SINGERS CLOSE SALINEVILLE CHAUTAUQUA

Redpath Organization Moves Tents to Ligonier, Pa.

SEEK CONTRACT

Round up Signers to Insure Program for 1928.

The Redpath Chautauqua has just closed a five-day program in Salineville. The closing number was given Wednesday evening by the Fiechtl Yodlers, "Echoes of the Alps."

The crew that has been in Salineville for the past seven days, are taking their tent and equipment to Ligonier, Pa. Superintendent Syler is endeavoring to have a contract signed for next year. Signers are being sought to insure the 1928 appearance of the organization.

"The Patsy," a comedy in three acts, was rendered Tuesday evening to a large crowd. In the afternoon of Tuesday, Frank Johnson of Columbus, delivered his lecture, "Blind Samsons." Wednesday afternoon, Ade Duval, Chicago magician, rag picture artist and entertainer, delighted the children.

"Junior Town" with Miss Bass as superintendent and Miss Myrtle Strabley her assistant, and Billy Miller, "Mayor," held their annual picnic Wednesday afternoon.

Fractures Arm.

Mrs. G. W. McClellan, while alighting from their automobile at Summitville last Sunday, fell and fractured her left arm. She is improving slowly.

POLICE WARN CELEBRATORS

With Fourth of July celebrators "stocking up" with pyrotechnics for the Independence day observance, police today repeated their warning that all noisy demonstrations must be confined to Monday, alone.

Fireworks are on sale at a number of stores here and can be purchased from now until the Fourth, but explosion of firecrackers and other similar devices will not be permitted until the Fourth.

Police department heads have authorized patrolmen to make arrests in the event the order is disobeyed.

Appeals to Common Pleas.

An appeal to common pleas court from that of Justice John W. Riley of Wellsville has been taken by J. C. Floto, against whom judgment was returned in the lower court and in favor of Olive Hammond. In this case the plaintiff sued for work and labor, goods sold the defendant and also for $100 money loaned. The court gave the plaintiff judgment for $177.16 and costs. Floto has filed an appeal bond in the sum of $350.

TODAY IS PAYDAY FOR CITY WORKERS

City employes at least will enjoy the Fourth of July holiday with fuller purses.

All municipal workers, including members of the fire, police and other departments as well as executives, received pay checks today.

ENGINEERS GET NEW OFFICERS

Vote Return to Original Methods of Control.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, meeting in Cleveland, today had returned to the original method of officering the organization, following abolishment of offices of president, vice president and secretary which were created in 1924.

Alvanley Johnston, once a caller on the Great Northern railroad automatically was placed in command of the B. of L. E. affairs, following adoption of the abolishment resolution by the tri-ennial convention of the organization, in secret session here yesterday.

The resolution mentioned no names, it was understood, but the men affected are W. B. Prenter, president; L. C. Griffing, first vice president who also acted as treasurer; H. P. Daugherty, second vice president and C. E. Lindquist, secretary.

Three trustees were named temporarily by Johnston as follows:

George O. Barnhart, of Spokane, Wash.; A. J. Campbell, Fort Williams, Ont., and C. W. Simpson, Lancaster, Tenn. This trio will take over the management of the brotherhood's financial and business enterprises with the exception of the pension and insurance departments and report semi-annually to the organization's advisory board.

Barnhart is president of the Portland and Spokane brotherhood banks and chairman of the Pacific Investment company, of Seattle, while Simpson is president of the Lancaster (Tenn.) Banking company. Together with Campbell they will manage the brotherhood's controlling interest in the ten cooperative banks scattered throughout the country, the investment and securities companies, and the Venice land development project in Florida.

The convention yesterday voted to discontinue its annual contribution of $48,000 to the "Weekly Labor," published at Washington by a combination of railway labor organizations. This move, coupled with abolishment of the four offices mentioned, will save the brotherhood $100,000 a year, it was said.

According to announcement at the convention Thursday, the Cleveland Brotherhood bank today was to pay its regular semi-annual 5 per cent dividend to stockholders of the $1,000,000 capital stock.

Within ten days the convention is expected to elect permanent officers under the reversal of system. Prenter and the others, it was understood, will continue to hold office until the present convention comes to an end.

NO ACTION ON HINEMAN DEAL

Ten-day Period on Resolution Expires Tonight.

Mayor W. L. Fogo, at noon today, would not intimate his probable action in connection with legislation passed Tuesday, June 21, authorizing the settlement of the Hineman water contract dispute by the payment to Hineman of approximately $15,500.

The mayor's power to sign or veto the measure expires tonight at midnight, 10 days after the passage of the legislation by council.

If he neither signs nor vetoes the resolution, it will automatically become effective.

YELLOW CREEK CHURCH SERVICES

Regular services will be held Sunday in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, with preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., in charge of Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor.

Sunday school will convene at 10 a. m. Young people will meet at 7:30 p. m. The subject will be "What Our Government Does for Us." Mrs. Witherspoon will be the leader.

An offering will be received at the morning service for the church improvement fund.

Files Collection Suit.

To enforce the collection of a note for $198 and interest from April 12, 1926, M. K. Duty, of Wellsville, has filed an action in common pleas court against William and Adella Anderson. The note was secured by a mortgage on four lots in Arcadia addition, Wellsville.

Visit in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. J. G. Frank and daughter, Jacqueline, of Fourteenth street, have left for Allentown and Philadelphia, Pa., where they will visit with Mrs. Frank's relatives over the Fourth.

those in the business are reputable. It is equally true that the farmer who is shipping regularly and in considerable quantities has little or no trouble in making marketing connections that are satisfactory in the long run But there are some crooks in the commission business, and they have found easy marks in the small farmers who have not the resources to fight for their rights

Under the new law, however, the commission crooks will find that instead of having a few indigent tillers of the soil after them they will have all the powers of the federal government on their trail and that if they are caught they will incur penalties sufficiently severe to make them hesitate long before indulging again in sharp practices.

The law covers three important proposition. It makes it a misdemeanor for any one receiving perishable farm products in inter-state commerce for or on behalf of another to dump, abandon, or destroy the products so received without good and sufficient cause therefore; to fail, knowingly with intent to defraud, to account truly and correctly for the products; or to make any false statement, knowing and with intent to defraud, concerning the handling, condition, quality, quantity, sale, or disposition of the products. The products concerned include fruits, vegetables, melons, dairy or poultry products, or any other perishable farm produce.

Any person found guilty of violating the act may be punished by a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $3,000, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or by both fine and imprisonment. The secretary of agriculture is charged with the enforcement of the act, and with the making of rules and regulations necessary to carry out its provisions.

Wide in Its Application.

"In considering the act and the regulations," says Lloyd S. Tenny, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, "numerous questions will arise in the minds of the handlers of perishable farm products as to when and under what circumstances the law is applicable. It is not possible for the department to foresee and announce in advance all the instances in which the act may apply.

"In its enforcement, the department necessarily must consider each transaction that may come into question strictly upon the facts relating thereto. In general, it may be stated, however, that all persons, firms, associations, or corporations receiving produce for or on behalf of another in interstate commerce or in the District of Columbia, whether at the point of origin or at destination or elsewhere, are subject to all the provisions of the act. Obviously it applies, therefore, not only to commission merchants but also to distributors, brokers, and others whenever they receive product to be handled for or on behalf of another."

Provision has been made for the issuance of certificates on produce that is without commercial value when such produce is intended to be dumped, abandoned, or destroyed. The purpose of such a certificate is to protect the receiver subject to the act by furnishing him with evidence which he may submit to his principal to show that he had good and sufficient cause for dumping, abandoning, or destroying the produce.

The law does not require the receiver to get such a certificate. That is entirely a matter within his discretion. If he is satisfied that he had good and sufficient cause for dumping and is acting in good faith, he need not have the produces inspected. Inspections may be made by any authorized inspector of the United States department of agriculture, or by any health officer or food inspector of any state, county, parish, city, or municipality.

If the produce received is without commercial value unless reconditioned but could be reconditioned and sold for more than the cost of reconditioning, the receiver would be expected to recondition it and dispose of it to the best advantage of his principal.

The pooling of different lots of produce received for sale, or the pooling and averaging of various prices received for different lots of produce, unless the shipper or owner of the produce has agreed thereto, is not authorized by the new law.

A Jewel a Month New Fad.

Paris has what is considered the most expensive fad of all. It is that each month of the year the chic woman must wear the month's "birthstone,"—the ruby during July, the opal during October and the other stones according to their month. The fad was started by a blonde actress of the Comedie Francaise, whose whims are adopted by many as Fashion's law. Many rich women have taken up the idea with real jewelry, but this vogue probably will be followed by others who can sport only synthetic gems.

No man ever lives to be as old as he feels at 21.—Fostoria Times.

To force an earlier start of his spring garden this year, W. Kerr Russell, M. D. B. S., of Edinburgh, planted seedlings under vitaglass in his greenhouse. He reported that the vitaglass plants germinated before the others, and showed a much taller and sturdier growth. Mr. Russell is the author of "Ultra-Violet Radiation—Actinotherapy." He suggests the greenhouses be equipped with vitaglass, and that the glass would be especially adaptable in the raising of early strawberries.

"I Wish I Had Never Seen Rum" Plaint Of "Big Bill" Dwyer

King of Bootleggers and Reputed Millionaire, Not Only Broke, But Owes $150,000.

NEW YORK.—Lo, the King is broke—not dead! William V. Dwyer, better known as "Big Bill" Dwyer, king of bootleggers and reputed to be several times a millionaire as the result of his operations in control of a $40,000,000 liquor smuggling syndicate, says he not only is dead broke, but that he owes $150,000.

In addition, the federal government claims Dwyer owes it two years of time to atone for his past misdeeds, and is on the point of collecting, by sending Dwyer to Atlanta Penitentiary for a two year term.

Dwyer and E. C. Cohron, known as the "pay-off man" in his whiskey and gin running ring which had headquarters in England, France and Canada, as well as New York, were both convicted of violating the prohibition laws.

Broke Up Smugglers.

Their arrest here in January 1926 was hailed by police as signalizing the break-up of the greatest liquor smuggling ring uncovered since the advent of prohibition. With headquarters in a suite of offices located in the heart of the business district of New York, the rum syndicates was alleged to have conducted a gigantic mail order business with all parts of the country. Capital to a total of $40,000,000 was said to have been invested in the concern which operated its own ships for smuggling the liquor from overseas.

"People think I'm a millionaire," Dwyer said recently. "They say, 'There goes Bill Dwyer, the millionaire booze king,' when I pass. But the fact is, I'm worse than broke. I owe more than $150,000 today and I don't see how I can pay it as long as I've got to go to prison.

Was Only Figurehead.

"I never was a millionaire. I just was the figurehead for a bunch of rich fellows who wanted to invest some money and who picked me out because they knew Bill Dwyer never went back on his word. It may be that I have handled millions, but the money wasn't mine and never a dollar has stuck to my fingers that didn't belong to me.

"No, my advice is to stay on the right side of the law. I spent years in daily fear of life, always expecting arrest, forever dealing with crooks and doublecrossers, and now look at me! I'm in debt, my wife is heartbroken to see me sent to prison and my five kids in school out in Bar Harbor, Long Island, are pointed out as the children of a bootlegger.

"I wish I had never seen a case of whiskey!"

LAND OF OPHIR IS CLAIMED AS BRITAIN'S FIND

Place Where Queen of Sheba Found Her Gifts.

LONG SEARCH ENDS

Commander Crawford Gives Account of His Cruise

LONDON.—A claim to have discovered the whereabouts of the lost lands of Ophir, from which Bilkia, the Queen of Sheba, brought to Solomon her magnificant gift of incense, spices, gold, jewels, apes, pearls of price, and almug trees, was made by Commander C. Crauford, a British naval officer, during the course of a lecture before the Royal United Services Institution here.

Commander Crauford gave an account of his 20 years' search for the lost lands and of his discovery of them 400 miles east of Aden after a fifteen months' cruise in the Red Sea, the Persian Gulf, and the Indian Ocean.

Mystery of Ages.

The whereabouts of Ophir has been one of the mysteries of the ages. From time to time it has been declared to be in various parts of the world, but previous claims to have discovered the site have been proved groundless.

"I found Ophir exactly where it ought to be," said Commander Crauford, "in Arabia, and it has taken men another seven years or so to furnish proofs of its identity. The problem of finding Ophir was the problem of finding land where all the things which compriaed the Queen of Sheba's great gift to Solomon could be obtained.

"When the queen arrived in Solomon's country with her 33 tons of gold, jewels, and the like, King Hiram, who was friendly with Solomon, was given the task of looking over the merchandise. In doing so he noted the wholesale markets and used a sailor's knowledge, which I followed.

Trading Schemes.

"He planned a trading scheme, and it was by following his route in a dhow (a single masted ship of about 200 tons)—that same type of ship used—that we found the lost lands of Ophir. Hiram's fleet traded all the way from Ezion Gebir, at the head of the Red Sea, and Tarshish down to Socotra Island, then on to Ceylon, back to the Persian Gulf, along the East coast of Arabia. They traded all the way and returned to Ezion Gebir in three years.

"By studying the ships from before the Flood to the present day we found tha the ships of Ezion Gebir were identical with the modern Red Sea dhow. So we got a dhow and set out before the same trade winds as Hiram utilized to take him upon this greatest of all trading routs. During our voyage down the Red Sea we passed many a harbor that is hardly known to modern navigation past Aden, the land of pleasantness, where Sheba stopped on her way to Solomon's lands, and on the Sheba Islands. Here we waited, as Hiram did, for the second monsoon wind, which took us up to the Persian Gulf.

"With the third monsoon we coasted back, passed Muscat and Ras el Hadd, and along the coast of Oman. As we worked southwards traces of the Kingdom of Sheba grew stronger and inscriptions were plentiful. Then we came to Ophir, 400 miles east of Aden, with its ruined Temple of God.

"The city is ideally situated. It has a harbor to the north, and it has a river which gave wharfage to the seaport. But a thin ribbon of coral sand is drawn across the harbor mouth. It was this strip of sand which strangled the life of Ophir. There is great wealth in Ophir still.

"With the help of the Ophir lands we may have a Palestine that includes all Arabia and also the extensive kingdom of Sabaea, and than we shall see the fulfillment of the dreams of the two greatest rulers in history—Solomon the Wise and Bilkis the beautiful Queen of Sheba."

"I Wish I Had Never Seen Rum" Plaint Of "Big Bill" Dwyer

King of Bootleggers and Reputed Millionaire, Not Only Broke, But Owes $150,000.

NEW YORK.—Lo, the King is broke—not dead! William V. Dwyer, better known as "Big Bill" Dwyer, king of bootleggers and reputed to be several times a millionaire as the result of his operations in control of a $40,000,000 liquor smuggling syndicate, says he not only is dead broke, but that he owes $150,000.

In addition, the federal government claims Dwyer owes it two years of time to atone for his past misdeeds, and is on the point of collecting, by sending Dwyer to Atlanta Penitentiary for a two year term.

Dwyer and E. C. Cohron, known as the "pay-off man" in his whiskey and gin running ring which had headquarters in England, France and Canada, as well as New York, were both convicted of violating the prohibition laws.

COURT APPROVES PROPERTY SALES

In the tax foreclosure action filed by County Treasurer Jo Pike July 2, 1924 against C. H. Wiltsie, the court has confirmed the sale of property referred to in the first and third causes of action in the original petition of the plaintiff. A deed has been ordered, and a decree of distribution has also been entered.

STREET GRADING WORK COMPLETED

Concrete will be poured on the first of 12 streets that are to be improved in Lisbon next week, it was announced today by George Patterson of Wellsville, who has been awarded the contract.

The concrete will be mixed at a Y. & O. siding and trucked to the streets under surfacing.

Rough grading has been finished on West Washington street, Green street and South Beaver street between Washington and Lincoln Way. South Beaver is to be improved between West Washington and West Chestnut street. All 12 streets are expected to be surfaced about September or earlier.

A similar case filed by Miss Pike against Mary Bartram and others Dec. 1, 1926, for the foreclosure of a tax lein, the court has confirmed the sale of the first and third tracts mentioned in the petition to F. M. Shahm for $553.34. A deed and decree of distribution has also been ordered by the court in this case.

Action Dismissed.

The foreclosure action filed in common pleas June 5, 1925 by Cora E. Trotter against Wallace Trotter has been dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff, and at her costs.

Many Divorce Cases.

Of the 71 civil actions filed in common pleas court during June, over one-third proved to be divorce cases. Entries on the appearance docket, as revealed by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine, shows two actions for alimony only filed during June and 23 "straight" divorce cases.

Given Suspended Sentence.

Charles West, charged in juvenile court with non support, has been given a suspended sentence of six months to the Canton workhouse and he is also to pay the costs in the action. Judge Lodge Riddle has ordered. West gave a bond that he would pay his wife $5 per week for the support of his minor children.

Case Settled.

A settlement out of court has been announced in the case of B. A. Bode, trustee in bankruptcy against Phebe Ella Jenkins. The costs have been paid and record has been waived. In this action, which was filed May 6, 1925, the plaintiff sued to recover $1,000 from the defendant for failure to pay for stock.

Property Transfers.

Real estate transfers have been recorded as follows:

Lester Sitler to Clarence Cope part of an acre section 20 Unity Township $1.

Regina Davis and others to Imre Aszatalos and wife, lot 1008 Salem Heights addition, Salem, $10.

Cupid Busy In June —91 Licenses Issued

Record for Month of Roses Shows 22 More Betrothals Than in Record Month Last Year.

With 91 marriage licenses granted by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, a June record for several years was broken. The report is 22 ahead of that of June, 1926.

Clarence Melhorn, engaged in the ice business at Salineville, and Martha Carter, also of Salineville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carter, have been granted a license.

Hoyt Hall, of Wellsville, and Miss Lenora Fitch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fitch, were married at Lisbon by Justice M. K. Zimerman.

E. Allan McKeever, an automobile salesman, and Miss Mary Glaydis Larkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Larkins, were married at East Liverpool by the Rev. T. E. Walsh.

Kenneth Unkefer, a confectioner at Paris, O., and Miss Wilma Kibler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kibler of Moultrie, were granted a marriage license.

Thomas Clark of Power Point, formerly residing at Toronto, and Eve Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mitchell, of East Liverpool, but formerly residing at East Palestine, also secured a license.

Cecil Clark, residing at Newton Falls, but formerly at Irondale, and Miss Olive Wilson, a stenographer, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Wilson of Wellsville, have been granted a marriage license.

Henry Werner, of Columbiana, and Miss Rosine Theiss, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Frederick Theiss, also of Columbiana, have been granted a marriage license. They are to be married at Columbiana by the Rev. E. F. Weist.

COURT APPROVES PROPERTY SALES

In the tax foreclosure action filed by County Treasurer Jo Pike July 2, 1924 against C. H. Wiltsie, the court has confirmed the sale of property referred to in the first and third causes of action in the original petition of the plaintiff. A deed has been ordered, and a decree of distribution has also been entered.

STREET GRADING WORK COMPLETED

Concrete will be poured on the first of 12 streets that are to be improved in Lisbon next week, it was announced today by George Patterson of Wellsville, who has been awarded the contract.

The concrete will be mixed at a Y. & O. siding and trucked to the streets under surfacing.

Rough grading has been finished on West Washington street, Green street and South Beaver street between Washington and Lincoln Way. South Beaver is to be improved between West Washington and West Chestnut street. All 12 streets are expected to be surfaced about September or earlier.

A similar case filed by Miss Pike against Mary Bartram and others Dec. 1, 1926, for the foreclosure of a tax lein, the court has confirmed the sale of the first and third tracts mentioned in the petition to F. M. Shahm for $553.34. A deed and decree of distribution has also been ordered by the court in this case.

Action Dismissed.

The foreclosure action filed in common pleas June 5, 1925 by Cora E. Trotter against Wallace Trotter has been dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff, and at her costs.

Many Divorce Cases.

Of the 71 civil actions filed in common pleas court during June, over one-third proved to be divorce cases. Entries on the appearance docket, as revealed by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine, shows two actions for alimony only filed during June and 23 "straight" divorce cases.

Given Suspended Sentence.

Charles West, charged in juvenile court with non support, has been given a suspended sentence of six months to the Canton workhouse and he is also to pay the costs in the action. Judge Lodge Riddle has ordered. West gave a bond that he would pay his wife $5 per week for the support of his minor children.

Case Settled.

A settlement out of court has been announced in the case of B. A. Bode, trustee in bankruptcy against Phebe Ella Jenkins. The costs have been paid and record has been waived. In this action, which was filed May 6, 1925, the plaintiff sued to recover $1,000 from the defendant for failure to pay for stock.

Property Transfers.

Real estate transfers have been recorded as follows:

Lester Sitler to Clarence Cope part of an acre section 20 Unity Township $1.

Regina Davis and others to Imre Aszatalos and wife, lot 1008 Salem Heights addition, Salem, $10.

If New York Loses Title Fight Rickard Loses His License

LAUGHLIN HEADING TOWARD FIRST HALF CITY LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Commission Firm In Demand Bout Must Be Held In Gotham Ring

Assert Tex Agreed to This in Return for $27.50 Top Permitted for Dempsey-Sharkey Battle; Promoter Denies Promise.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Tex Rickard either will hold the fight for the heavyweight championship of the world in New York, dropping all idea of a Chicago site, or he will suffer the probable penalty of an indefinite suspension as a promoter in this state.

That prediction was made to the writer today by a man whose right to speak his mind cannot be questioned. The board, he said, would not be motivated by the principle of might but only of right. He swore that Rickard's stenographic conversation with Commissioners Farley and Muldoon, promising New York the championship fight in exchange for a $27.50 rate on ringside seats at the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, was on the commission's record in black and white.

Rickard denied that he made such a promise after the meeting in question and the writer knows he is merely stating a fact in saying the promoter already has more or less active plans under way to take the big fight to Chicago. If he does, the tip is that Rickard's holdings will suffer heavily in New York, either through his personal suspension or that of the Madison Square Garden corporation or both.

Muldoon, according to the present story, was most insistent upon getting a downright declaration from Rickard before listening to the latter's $27.50 ideas about Dempsey and Sharkey. As a matter of fact, I am told that the board considered a $22 "top" sufficient and enough for this fight but decided to play ball as long as the promoter was hitting his fungoes within reach. However, the boys have about decided that Chicago might be a bit too far for them to go and get 'em.

"No previous fight ever got a $27.50 top here, except a heavyweight championship contest," the writer's informant pointed out. "The commission, therefore, waived one of its rules that Rickard could get an even break. It didn't do this because it likes Rickard but because it felt that, in case the Dempsey-Sharkey fight is a bust, New York fans at least will be recompensed by getting a chance to see the championship contest.

"When asked about his intentions on this match, Rickard told the commission that he had received several cut of town bids. He mentioned Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and even the Yale bowl. He added that he wasn't considering any of these bids but had made up his mind to hold the big fight at the Yankee stadium.

"This satisfied the commissioners and they thereupon granted him the maximum price for a contest on July 21 that may not be worth 27 cents. They did this because they knew they had to have the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, anyhow, and that being the case, felt they were entitled to their shot at the real thing."

If this man's views represent those of the commission, the dear, old foster parents of boxing in this state evidently fear the worst when Dempsey and Sharkey step out for their frolic. Maybe the boys are right; they can't be wrong all the time.

AT WATERLOO, Ia.—Clyde Drury, Magshalltown, won from Mike Sauro, Chicago.

Walker Stops Scot in Tenth

Milligan Clearly Outclassed by Champ.

LONDON, July 1.—Mickey Walker, of the United States, is still middleweight champion of the world today by virtue of his victory over Tommy Milligan, of Scotland, at the Olympia last night. Milligan was knocked out in the tenth round after having been floored five times for various counts. Most of the 10,000 fight fans who saw the bout, including a large number of society women, wondered that Milligan lasted as long as he did for he was clearly outclassed from the very first.

Walker was busy today receiving congratulations and opening cablegrams from admiring friends at home.

JACK GOES EASY WITH PARTNERS

Lays Off Heavy Punches; Practices Feinting.

By Sid Mercer.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., July 1. — The "Hermit of Ojai" still remains the mystery of Saratoga Lake after four days in the open.

Visitors to Tom Luther's swat pavilion look at Jack Dempsey and gain different impressions. To those uninitiated in the knackk of sizing up a fighter in training Dempsey looks great. Those who should be able to qualify as experts are wagging their heads.

Dempsey did not attempt to nail his sparring partners with heavy punches yesterday and when he is not in a vicious mood he seldom looks good doing the gentle stuff. He did very little short, sharp sitting. He rather elaborated on his weaving which is still slow and ineffective in bringing him into range of an opponent and set for a punch. He did considerable of this body feinting and made no attempt to block the leads of his targets.

Big Carl Carter nailed Jack frequently with rights to the head as he came charging in but Dempsey was good to Carl in the clinches and also treated Martin Burke with consideration. Allentown Joe Gans gives Jack the best workouts.

CORDS BOOK WHEELING McCONKEY'S FOR FOURTH

Touring Cubans Billed For Contest July 13.

Manager Frank Riley, of the City Industrial League Superior Cords, today announced the booking of two high class attractions which should provide district fans with plenty of good baseball between city loop contests.

Riley is bringing the McConkeys from Wheeling for a brace of contests at Chester on Monday, July 4. The morning game will start at 10 o'clock and the afternoon attraction at 2:30.

The McConkeys, as local baseball followers are aware, are one of the best semi-pro outfits in the Wheeling district.

A high class bunch of tourists—the Havana Cubans—claiming Havana as their originating point, are scheduled for a special mid-week engagement on Wednesday, July 13.

The Cubans will bring with them the noted Babe Vargas, long distance home run hitter and a complete array of diamond talent.

Tom Kirby, Boston, won decision over Rocco Stramaglia, in sixth round.

Roy Clark, Atlanta, drew with Cecil Harris, Chicago, four rounds.

"Big Boy" Peterson, New Orleans heavyweight, knocked out Al Sherring, of New York, in second round.

LOU CLOUTS 25TH AND SO DOES BABE

Home Run Race is Baseball's Biggest Feature.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Interest was at fever heat today in the greatest two-ring circus baseball has ever known—the home run race between Babe Ruth and Buster Gehrig. In the first inning against the Red Sox yesterday Gehrig walloped his 25th homer and led Ruth until the fourth inning when the Bambino also checked in with No. 25.

The Yankee home run twins are three homers behind Ruth's 1921 pace. Gehrig, who has been denting the bleachers much oftener than the Babe recently, already has nine more than he made all last season.

The Yanks scored their fifth straight victory in slaughtering the Red Sox, 13 to 6, making 19 hits. The back bay boys have now lost 12 straight and there is every hope for their early demise, as the young doctor said.

In the only games played in the National league, the Giants and Braves split a twin bill. Bob Smith tamed the Giants in the opener, 6 to 1. In the nightcap McGraw's men scored ten runs in the last two innings, knocking out Hugh McQuillan, their former ace, and winning, 11 to 6.

The Detroit Tigers, who are playing as good ball as any team in the majors, beat Cleveland, 6 to 5, in a rally featured by Gehringer's homer. The Bengals kayoed George Uhle for the fifth time this season.

Another jinx remained intact when Al Thomas of the White Sox subdued the Browns, 5 to 1, for the sixth time this year. Sheely, who has replaced the rookie Clancy at first base for the Sox, hit a homer.

The Senators held on to second place by nosing out the Athletics in the ninth, 6 to 5, on Goslin's single. Baker, Texas collegian, started his first game for the A's and held the Nats to a draw in five innings.

ACQUIRE STATE PARK PROPERTY

Unless unforseen circumstances develop, representatives from the state highway department, Columbus, will be in Columbiana county next week to pay over purchase money for lands that will be hereafter used for a state park at Guilford in Hanover township.

The last of the farm owners, whose lands were required to complete the site, have given their assent to the proposition, and it will not now be necessary for the state to go into court and condemn the acreage.

The legislature in 1925 and 1927 made appropriations for this project, and as soon as the deeds are filed for record, the state highway department will then proceed with new construction work.

Plans for all improvements to be made at the state park have been worked up under the supervision of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk, and have been approved by the state department. Contracts for the new construction work are expected to be awarded during July, it was said at Lisbon today.

Will Clash With Chester Superior Cords Tomorrow at Newell in Nine-inning Battle; Cords-Turk Nash, Billiards-K. T. K. Play Tonight.

Winning last night from K. T. K., 7 to 1, with Digman hurling effectively, and facing three more contests before the first half curtain is officially rung down, Laughlin appears to be headed right into the first half championship of the City Industrial League.

Laughlin has lost only two while Turk-Nash and Chester Superior Cords are tied for second with four defeats apiece. If Laughlin lost every one of their three remaining contests and Turk-Nash or Chester won all they have to play, then the Newell aggregation might be counted out.

This, however, will not likely occur. Chester and Turk-Nash will tangle tonight at Chester with the American Billiards and K. T. K. in action at Columbian park.

Tomorrow afternoon Chester will go into action at Newell in a nine inning battle beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

CALL OFF GAMES AT CANONSBURG

Business Manager Joseph Dickey of the Laughlin City Industrial league club today announced the pair of Fourth of July games booked at Canonsburg, Pa., have been called off.

With a large number of players leaving the city on holiday excursions, officials of the Newell club were unable to assemble a representative team for the trip.

It is likely, however, that a game with Pennsylvania will be booked later in the season.

Fight Results

AT LONDON, Eng.—Mickey Walker, of United States, middleweight champion, knocked out Tommy Milligan, of Scotland, in tenth round.

Archie Bell, America, won decision over Kid Pattenden, London, 10 rounds.

George Cooke of Australia scored technical knockout over Ted Sandtvina,, Germany, in third round.

Teddy Baldock, drew with Johnny Cuthbert, six rounds.

AT WEST NEW YORK, N. Y.—Irish Tommy Jordan, New York, won newspaper decision over Billy Algiers, Phoenix, Ariz, ten rounds.

Theatre Parties By Bus

One may buy a combination ticket that provides a dinner, a seat at a theatre and a round trip on an auto bus, by a new plan just inaugurated for surbanites of London. The first suburb to try it is Portsmouth, from where four autobusses carrying 90 people are making the trips once a week. The plan is to be extended to other cities near London.

If New York Loses Title Fight Rickard Loses His License

LAUGHLIN HEADING TOWARD FIRST HALF CITY LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Commission Firm In Demand Bout Must Be Held In Gotham Ring

Assert Tex Agreed to This in Return for $27.50 Top Permitted for Dempsey-Sharkey Battle; Promoter Denies Promise.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Tex Rickard either will hold the fight for the heavyweight championship of the world in New York, dropping all idea of a Chicago site, or he will suffer the probable penalty of an indefinite suspension as a promoter in this state.

That prediction was made to the writer today by a man whose right to speak his mind cannot be questioned. The board, he said, would not be motivated by the principle of might but only of right. He swore that Rickard's stenographic conversation with Commissioners Farley and Muldoon, promising New York the championship fight in exchange for a $27.50 rate on ringside seats at the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, was on the commission's record in black and white.

Rickard denied that he made such a promise after the meeting in question and the writer knows he is merely stating a fact in saying the promoter already has more or less active plans under way to take the big fight to Chicago. If he does, the tip is that Rickard's holdings will suffer heavily in New York, either through his personal suspension or that of the Madison Square Garden corporation or both.

Muldoon, according to the present story, was most insistent upon getting a downright declaration from Rickard before listening to the latter's $27.50 ideas about Dempsey and Sharkey. As a matter of fact, I am told that the board considered a $22 "top" sufficient and enough for this fight but decided to play ball as long as the promoter was hitting his fungoes within reach. However, the boys have about decided that Chicago might be a bit too far for them to go and get 'em.

"No previous fight ever got a $27.50 top here, except a heavyweight championship contest," the writer's informant pointed out. "The commission, therefore, waived one of its rules that Rickard could get an even break. It didn't do this because it likes Rickard but because it felt that, in case the Dempsey-Sharkey fight is a bust, New York fans at least will be recompensed by getting a chance to see the championship contest.

"When asked about his intentions on this match, Rickard told the commission that he had received several out of town bids. He mentioned Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and even the Yale bowl. He added that he wasn't considering any of these bids but had made up his mind to hold the big fight at the Yankee stadium.

"This satisfied the commissioners and they thereupon granted him the maximum price for a contest on July 21 that may not be worth 27 cents. They did this because they knew they had to have the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, anyhow, and that being the case, felt they were entitled to their shot at the real thing."

If this man's views represent those of the commission, the dear, old foster parents of boxing in this state evidently fear the worst when Dempsey and Sharkey step out for their frolic. Maybe the boys are right; they can't be wrong all the time.

AT WATERLOO, Ia.—Clyde Drury, Magshalltown, won from Mike Sauro, Chicago.

Milligan Clearly Outclassed by Champ.

LONDON, July 1.—Mickey Walker, of the United States, is still middleweight champion of the world today by virtue of his victory over Tommy Milligan, of Scotland, at the Olympia last night. Milligan was knocked out in the tenth round after having been floored five times for various counts. Most of the 10,000 fight fans who saw the bout, including a large number of society women, wondered that Milligan lasted as long as he did for he was clearly outclassed from the very first.

Walker was busy today receiving congratulations and opening cablegrams from admiring friends at home.

JACK GOES EASY WITH PARTNERS

Lays Off Heavy Punches; Practices Feinting.

By Sid Mercer.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., July 1. — The "Hermit of Ojai" still remains the mystery of Saratoga Lake after four days in the open.

Visitors to Tom Luther's swat pavilion look at Jack Dempsey and gain different impressions. To those uninitiated in the knackk of sizing up a fighter in training Dempsey looks great. Those who should be able to qualify as experts are wagging their heads.

Dempsey did not attempt to nail his sparring partners with heavy punches yesterday and when he is not in a vicious mood he seldom looks good doing the gentle stuff. He did very little short, sharp hitting. He rather elaborated on his weaving which is still slow and ineffective in bringing him into range of an opponent and set for a punch. He did considerable of this body feinting and made no attempt to block the leads of his targets.

Big Carl Carter nailed Jack frequently with rights to the head as he came charging in but Dempsey was good to Carl in the clinches and also treated Martin Burke with consideration. Allentown Joe Gans gives Jack the best workouts.

CORDS BOOK WHEELING McCONKEY'S FOR FOURTH

Touring Cubans Billed For Contest July 13.

Manager Frank Riley, of the City Industrial League Superior Cords, today announced the booking of two high class attractions which should provide district fans with plenty of good baseball between city loop contests.

Riley is bringing the McConkeys from Wheeling for a brace of contests at Chester on Monday, July 4. The morning game will start at 10 o'clock and the afternoon attraction at 2:30.

The McConkeys, as local baseball followers are aware, are one of the best semi-pro outfits in the Wheeling district.

A high class bunch of tourists—the Havana Cubans—claiming Havana as their originating point, are scheduled for a special mid-week engagement on Wednesday, July 13.

The Cubans will bring with them the noted Babe Vargas, long distance home run hitter and a complete array of diamond talent.

Tom Kirby, Boston, won decision over Rocco Stramaglia, in sixth round.

Roy Clark, Atlanta, drew with Cecil Harris, Chicago, four rounds.

"Big Boy" Peterson, New Orleans heavyweight, knocked out Al Sherring, of New York, in second round.

LOU CLOUTS 25TH AND SO DOES BABE

Home Run Race is Baseball's Biggest Feature.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Interest was at fever heat today in the greatest two-ring circus baseball has ever known—the home run race between Babe Ruth and Buster Gehrig. In the first inning against the Red Sox yesterday Gehrig walloped his 25th homer and led Ruth until the fourth inning when the Bambino also checked in with No. 25.

The Yankee home run twins are three homers behind Ruth's 1921 pace. Gehrig, who has been denting the bleachers much oftener than the Babe recently, already has nine more than he made all last season.

The Yanks scored their fifth straight victory in slaughtering the Red Sox, 13 to 6, making 19 hits. The back bay boys have now lost 12 straight and there is every hope for their early demise, as the young doctor said.

In the only games played in the National league, the Giants and Braves split a twin bill. Bob Smith tamed the Giants in the opener, 6 to 1. In the nightcap McGraw's men scored ten runs in the last two innings, knocking out Hugh McQuillan, their former ace, and winning, 11 to 6.

The Detroit Tigers, who are playing as good ball as any team in the majors, beat Cleveland, 6 to 5, in a rally featured by Gehringer's homer. The Bengals kayoed George Uhle for the fifth time this season.

Another jinx remained intact when Al Thomas of the White Sox subdued the Browns, 5 to 1, for the sixth time this year. Sheely, who has replaced the rookie Clancy at first base for the Sox, hit a homer.

The Senators held on to second place by nosing out the Athletics in the ninth, 6 to 5, on Goslin's single. Baker, Texas collegian, started his first game for the A's and held the Nats to a draw in five innings.

ACQUIRE STATE PARK PROPERTY

Unless unforseen circumstances develop, representatives from the state highway department, Columbus, will be in Columbiana county next week to pay over purchase money for lands that will be hereafter used for a state park at Guilford in Hanover township.

The last of the farm owners, whose lands were required to complete the site, have given their assent to the proposition, and it will not now be necessary for the state to go into court and condemn the acreage.

The legislature in 1925 and 1927 made appropriations for this project, and as soon as the deeds are filed for record, the state highway department will then proceed with new construction work.

Plans for all improvements to be made at the state park have been worked up under the supervision of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk, and have been approved by the state department. Contracts for the new construction work are expected to be awarded during July, it was said at Lisbon today.

DOGCATCHER SOUGHT HERE

Mayor and Service Director Say $500 is Required.

Movement for the employment of a dog-catcher to exterminate unlicensed canines running at large, was launched today by Mayor Ralph Benedum and Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore.

The county commissioners recently appropriated $200 for a dog-catching campaign in East Liverpool, but, according to Director Moore, approximately $500 will be required. No city funds are available, and in the event that the offer of the commissioners is accepted a special appropriation will be necessary.

Construction of a dog pound to confine captured animals and a death trap to destroy dogs which are not claimed by their owners will be necessary, according to Moore. Dogs apprehended can be redeemed by their owners within 48 hours upon payment of the license and a penalty.

DRESDEN PLANT SALE GETS O. K.

Court Confirms Deal by Potters' Savings and Loan.

Sale of the Dresden Pottery company to the Potters Savings & Loan company of East Liverpool by Sheriff George Wright about six weeks ago had been confirmed today by Judge W. F. Lones, in common pleas court, Lisbon, who has ordered that a deed be prepared.

The 14-kiln plant was purchased for $50,000, $49,000 of which was for the buildings and real estate and $1,000 for raw materials and stock. The sale was ordered after the loan company instituted a foreclosure suit to recover $118,407.22 advanced on a loan. The purchase price was two-thirds of the appraised valuation.

DOGCATCHER SOUGHT HERE

Mayor and Service Director Say $500 is Required.

Movement for the employment of a dog-catcher to exterminate unlicensed canines running at large, was launched today by Mayor Ralph Benedum and Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore.

The county commissioners recently appropriated $200 for a dog-catching campaign in East Liverpool, but, according to Director Moore, approximately $500 will be required. No city funds are available, and in the event that the offer of the commissioners is accepted a special appropriation will be necessary.

Construction of a dog pound to confine captured animals and a death trap to destroy dogs which are not claimed by their owners will be necessary, according to Moore. Dogs apprehended can be redeemed by their owners within 48 hours upon payment of the license and a penalty.

DRESDEN PLANT SALE GETS O. K.

Court Confirms Deal by Potters' Savings and Loan.

Sale of the Dresden Pottery company to the Potters Savings & Loan company of East Liverpool by Sheriff George Wright about six weeks ago had been confirmed today by Judge W. F. Lones, in common pleas court, Lisbon, who has ordered that a deed be prepared.

The 14-kiln plant was purchased for $50,000, $49,000 of which was for the buildings and real estate and $1,000 for raw materials and stock. The sale was ordered after the loan company instituted a foreclosure suit to recover $118,407.22 advanced on a loan. The purchase price was two-thirds of the appraised valuation.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW-TRIBUNE

FINAL EDITION

VOL. XLVII. NO. 201. EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1927. PAGE SEVENTEEN

SYNOPSIS.

LARRY GRENFALL, American traveler and student of Eastern magic, receives a telephone call from BEN MANSOUR, cosmopolite and old friend, saying he must see him at once. Larry goes and Mansour tells him he is about to die and that he wants him to go to Morocco, where he, Mansour, is a sherif or native ruler. He is to find the Temple, endure the Ordeal, crush the Group and put Mansour's son on the throne. A Moor appears and gives Mansour a taken, a ruby ring with Larry later wears. The Moor also throws into the room a tiny ivory tiger—the Striped Death. Mansour dies and his body disappears—carried off by the Moors. Larry goes to Morocco, finds OMAR BEN MEDJAD, who dresses him as a wizard, and as Youssef el-Tabassi he starts on his travels. He soon meets ALLAL ABDI, Mansour's son, who travels with him. The two have many adventures, and Larry discovers that the supposed son is in reality a daughter. The two grow to love one another, but Benna is spirited away from Larry in the hut of a holy man to whom he is demonstrating his powers as a wizard. In search for her he is attacked by a trained tiger killer, the Striped Death, whom he kills. He reaches the Throne room of the Berbers, is questioned about future doings of the tribe and thrown into prison where he finds Benna. He endures the trial by fire, coming out victorious by virtue of dynamite cubes which he has concealed in his clothing and which he throws into the fire, killing a number of Moors, among them the leader, the Marabout of Adar, whose robe and mask, he takes. As Tribe One, the leader, he confers with the other members of the group and discovers that Tribe Two is no other than Amar ben Medjad.

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX.

Omar ben Merjad became suddenly serious.

"The time when we must strike draws near, dear friend. The Sacred Eye is even now being taken from its hiding place. As Tribe One of the Marabout Group, you will receive the Eye in your hands, and be charged with its keeping until the dawn and its display. Guard it as you guard your life, Grenfall, and use it in the furtherance of Spain's aims in this benighted country. I hear footsteps; belike it is Tribe Six with the girl. Think you can master yourself in her presence?"

"I did so not so many hours since," Larry returned simply, "when she came to me with the prisoners, fresh from the lash of her keepers."

He saw Omar's blazing eyes fixed on him, in sympathy and admiration.

"And you touched her not?"

"I greeted her simply as I would have greeted the youth Allal Abdi," he said.

"Then, by Allah, you love her, Grenfall; and I am glad." With his cryptic utterance Tribe Two resumed his posture on the cushions and remained silent as Tribe Six, leading Benna, approached.

The girl presented a forlorn figure indeed. Utter despair and misery were in her glorious eyes and sorrow straightened the tiny up-curls of her full, red mouth. Head drooping, she was led before Larry and Tribe Six spoke:

"Here is the youth, Tribe One, but as Allah lives he seems likely to pine away. His despair seems boundless."

"And why do you sorrow, Allal Abdi" Larry asked, using every ounce of his will power to make the question casual, to imitate the somewhat croaking, nasal tones of the Marabout of Adrar.

"One whom I held dearer than all other has gone to the Ordeal," she answered simply and frankly, her unsophisticated little heart not realizing what a momentous confession her words were to Larry. "He has not returned and it is whispered among the prisoners, especially by one-eyed Youcoub el-Bachir, that this one's bones are bleaching in the light of the Eye."

"And why should you grieve so for one of your own sex?"

It was Tribe Two who questioned. Tribe Six turned and found his place on the cushions. Larry, his heart tripping rapidly, awaited Benna's reply, and he was cursing silently, but heartily, Omar ben Medjad for being a fool to ask such a leading question of Benna—a question that might easily arouse the suspicions of Tribe Six. Now he heard the girl speak again, her voice the epitome of hopeless despair, its bell-like quality sounding dead and desolate.

"Because he was my companion on the Forbidden Road; because he fought for me and would have died for me, even as I would have gone to Moulay Edriss to save him."

Now another amazing thing happened for Tribe Two chuckled audibly and called out brazenly to Tribe Six:

"There is a friend for you, Emir Barrada."

The effect of Omar's words on Tribe Six was instantaneous. The man leaped to his feet with a hearty Moorish oath—most amazing for a holy man—and from beneath his scarlet robe he drew a long, curved knife. But Omar's ready chuckle came again and once more he called out:

"Be not violent, Emir. I see that you, also, have made your way here, even as you vowed to he that you would if I gave you life. It is well, by Allah, it is. We are now four friends, well met. Emir, the Marabout of Adrar yonder, or Tribe One, is the friend for whom the youth Allal Abdi mourns. Youssef el-Hebassi, speak in your natural voice, that Allal's heart be not entirely broken."

"But—" Larry began.

"What—? from Tribe Six.

"Youssef, Tribe Six is one of my most trusted khalifas, and he is with us heart and soul. Emir, Tribe One is the wizard. Not his bones, but those of the man who took the real marabout's place bleach in the fire chamber."

Larry's single word has revealed him to Benna and now, overcome with the reaction, she dropped on the cushions, her shoulders shaking while convulsive sobs racked her slender worn body. Omar ben Medjad took quick command of the situation.

"Hurry, Emir, watch the eastern portal, while I watch the entrance from the Eye. There are no others we need fear. It runs in my mind that the youth Allal Abdi is in need of consolation, and my heart tells me that Youssef el-Habassi is the one to extend it."

Now Emir Barranda was a man of understanding and a quick thinker. He did not know exactly what it was all about but he did know that Omar ben Medjad wanted him to make himself scarce, so as Tribe Two arose and hurried off behind the long draperies. Tribe Six took another direction and also disappeared. But before either of them was out of sight Larry, stripping back his hooded mask, was at Benna's side, lifting her to him, pouring out soft endearing words that fell on her shell-like ears as softly as the morning dawn breaks over the mighty Atlas.

She twisted her little body so that she lay in his arms, her deep, glorious eyes at first unable to comprehend this miracle that had been wrought, then as the reality of it all finally reached into her tired, reeling brain, she clasped Larry convulsively about the neck with bare, slender arms which showed the marks of her recent heavy toil, and dropped her head against his breast. For a space neither thought of time; their world was encompassed by his arms holding her close and by her arms, which clasped him tightly to her; for them there was no time.

HAZEL D., PACING MARE, IS KILLED

Hazel D., 14-year-old pacing mare, owned by Frank Dickey, and his son, the late Harry Dickey, was killed yesterday after she had broken her leg in a wire fence on the farm of Jacob Fuhrman, near Lisbon.

The horse was widely known in eastern Ohio, having captured first and second prizes at many racing events at the county fairs in this section several years ago. Because of ctill tendons, she was retired about eight years ago and since then has been kept by the elder Dickey on the Fuhrman farm near Lisbon.

The horse was timed at 2:18 1-4 minutes.

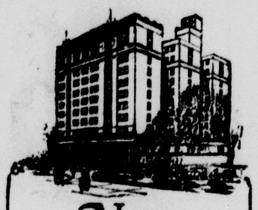
You live like a king at the Winton

—yet the rates are lower than ever before!



You get up in the morning with that million-dollar fit-and-rested-feeling that only the softest mattress and finest linen can give you. You slept like a log—a whole lumberyard of logs.

On the way down every employee you met said, "Good Morning" . . . and meant it.

You make friends with a delicious breakfast, attended by service fit for a king, which is the only kind of service fit for a Winton guest.

Luxury, comfort, cordiality surround you—and it costs no more. Less in fact, since the Winton has just lowered its rates. The greatest hotel "value" in the country now.

I'd like very much to be your host.

Will you be my guest?

New Rates

POST TOASTIES

—corn flakes that stay crisp in milk or cream

Add this cool crispness to summer's luscious fruits

Post Toasties are the corn flakes that have the true delicate flavor of the succulent hearts of corn, sealed in by the special toasting process of the Postum Company. For a new deliciousness, add the crunchy crispness of these corn flakes to summer fruits. Here is double-crispness that makes your favorite fruits seem cooler, with flavor that makes them taste even better than they are. Be sure that you get the corn flakes that stay crisp in milk or cream. Ask your grocer for Post Toasties, the corn flakes that come in the red and yellow package, wax-wrapped to keep them fresh and ready to serve.

AUDITORIUM HOTEL

EAST 6TH AND ST. CLAIR AVE.

TO THE PUBLIC:

Are you wondering why we have built "Another" Hotel in Cleveland. One must have a good reason for spending nearly two million dollars. We have a reason worth far more than that.

Every hotel operator gives "His best efforts for your comfort." We have centered our efforts around one ideal desire, "To make you happy."

There must be something back of that desire. You can easily prove it by coming here just once.

Sincerely yours,
James L. Smith

NASH DISPLAYS PRETTY MODELS

Three New Series Of Cars Are Announced.

Three entirely new series of cars, including 21 models on four different chassis lengths, are announced today by the Nash Motors company.

The new series will be known as the Advanced Six, the Special Six and the Standard Six and despite a wide array of costly improvements these cars are also featuring new lower prices, the reductions ranging as high as $195.

A new radiator design, lower and more sweeping body lines and a brilliant array of new color combinations make these new models without question the most beautiful ever produced by Nash. The cars fully justify reports which have been current for the past week that Nash would introduce an array of cars which would command nationwide praise.

Important mechanical refinements and improvements are also announced at this time, keeping pace with the progress which has been made in increasing the beauty of the cars' appearance. Outstanding among these are the introduction of new springs of a secret alloy which is said to increase riding comfort in amazing degree.

The new body lines are lower and more sweeping than ever before and the wheels are smaller, giving an additional appearance of lowness to the cars although interior roominess has not been sacrificed in the smallest degree.

Matching the beauty of line is the new array of color combinations which Nash has adopted for these cars. Many striking new harmonies are used.

A Friend in Need.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—Pete Lovering, student at the Battle Creek airport, was returning from a business trip to a nearby city when his car ran out of oil. Fortunately he was stalled near a service station but he happened to have no money with him. He phoned Pilot Carl Clifford at the airport and informed him of his plight and in a few minutes Clifford was circling overhead in his plane. He located his financially embarrassed friend on the road, flew low, and dropped him a package containing a dollar bill, enough to get him out of his predicament.

Regular Funeral for Dog.

LYNN, Mass.—Although, Brownie, the pet dog of the Lynn police department, is dead, his funeral has been one of which any canine would be proud. Brownie developed rabies from mongrel playmates on the street and a police surgeon administered cyanide of potassium to end his sufferings. But his friends in the department saw to it that Brownie had a regular funeral. Four police officers in dress uniform acted as bearers, and a motor patrol took his body to the grave. The policemen bared their heads as the box was lowered.

CASES DROPPED FROM DOCKET

Four More Civil Actions Dismissed by Judge W. F. Lones.

Four more civil cases have been dismissed by Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court for want of prosecution, and all at the costs of the plaintiff. Three of these cases were divorce actions and the other a civil action.

The first divorce case to be stricken from the record was that filed by Sadie Moore, March 24, 1923, against her husband, William A. Moore. In this case a decree, alimony and custody of children was sought.

The case of Ethel Marie Lomax against her husband, James Lomax, has also been dismissed. This action was placed on the records March 26, 1925.

A similar entry has been made in the case of Johanna Theil against her husband, John Theil. A decree and restoration of maiden name was sought by this plaintiff, who filed her petition April 6, 1925.

An action in foreclosure and receivership filed by L. M. Kyes of East Palestine, as agent, against G. M. Hord and others, has also been dismissed for want of prosecution at the costs of the plaintiff. This case has been inactive since being filed April 27, 1925.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

INFLUENTIAL FOLK FIND SUMMER O. K. FOR THEM IN WASHINGTON

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, July 1. — Midsummer is a mean time for ordinary mortals who have official business to transact in Washington.

The main bosses are away—at the seaside, touring Europe or in the Black Hills. The underlings won't shoulder responsibility. They tell visitors to call again—in the fall.

Most of the congressmen are gone, too.

If you want something out of one of the departments and can't get it, and your representative's here, you generally can persuade him to go along with you, or call up and raise heck. In that way you frequently are able to prod the executives into stirring themselves.

But just now, the average man in the capital is in hard luck.

IT'S different among folks who have a "pull."

To quite a considerable extent this is when they make their big killings.

From the standpoint of the uninfluential caller:

There's nobody in summertime official Washington to attend to anything.

From the standpoint of the influential one:

There's nobody here to interfere.

GOVERNMENT executives can do a great many things, if they will.

For a man who has a "drag" they can fix almost anything at least temporarily, and anything that's fixed temporarily quite often stays fixed permanently.

For that reason a lot of fixing is done at this time of year — because, just now, there's nobody to get up in congress and raise a howl.

Later on, when congress does meet, perhaps the howl fails to materialize. Even if it materializes, it may bring no results. Anything governmental once accomplished, tends to stay that way. At the very worst, the deal's beneficiary has had the advantage of it for awhile.

CONSEQUENTLY, while the capital looks quiet, a great plenty is going on under the surface.

Big business men are quite numerous in town.

They're doing no hoo-raw-ing. That'll come next winter, when there'll be laws they want passed. Laws have to be hoo-raw-ed through congress.

Executive departmental fixing is done in a different way — with gum shoes.

However, Washington isn't as inactive as it appears.

INDEED, there's more summertime activity about the departments this season than usual, for the time is rather short.

The spring exodus was considerably delayed by trans-Atlantic flights and other out-of-the-common events which kept senators and representatives hanging about longer than they generally do, and now the prospects are for an extra session.

This means that executive fixing must be hustled.

Probably a couple of hundred legislators will be here by mid-September at the latest, and once they're on hand, there'll be no keeping their noses out of anything, even though it's a month before the president issues the extra call.

A vast amount of confidential business remains to be disposed of in the next two months. It is surprising that such busy executives haven't time to bother with "pull"-less folk who show up during vacation, trying to butt in?

Alleged Polish Spy Executed.

MOSCOW, July 1.—Mme. Vishnevskaya, described by the Soviet officials as "a notorious Polish woman spy who has been active since 1921," has been executed at Tcharkov following her trial in court, according to a dispatch from that city today.

Tablet Marks Meeting Place.

To commemorate the meeting of Sir Walter Scott and Robert Burns in Sciennes House, Edinburgh, in the winter of 1786-87, the Edinburgh Sir Walter Scott Club, in conjunction with the Burns Association, has just placed a tablet in the wall of the house.

A Turkish president has prepared a speech two days long. Why not give him a seat in the U. S. senate?—Martins Ferry Times.

Singing, Dancing Act Heads Ceramic Bill

A high class vaudeville act, breaking a jump from the East, and a thrilling western classic," Arizona Bound," a Paramount picture, top the bill at the Ceramic theatre today and tomorrow.

Becker, Curran and Shean appear in an extraordinary instrumental, singing and dancing offering.

Gary Cooper, the screen's newest "Western" hero, already acclaimed one of filmdom's most dashing exponents of the stirring life of the great open spaces, will be seen in the leading role of "Arizona Bound."

Though Cooper has been in motion pictures but little more than a year, his fascinating screen presence and his real ability as an actor have already served to elevate him to a coveted position in the screen world. Raised on a Montana ranch, he is an accomplished horseman, and a typical product of the Great West.

For two years Cooper "rode herd" with the cowboys on his father's ranch, following the chuck wagon on the great round-ups, sleeping on the ground at night, and acquiring a muscular development which, combined with his height of six feet, two inches, makes him an ideal type for his role.

A competent judge of horse-flesh, the new star brings to the screen an equine companion which is acclaimed as the most beautiful horse even seen in motion pictures. This remarkable steed, "Flash," is a cream-colored Arabian stallion, and in addition to his beauty and animation, is an actor of unusual accomplishments, rivalling Tony, Silver King and Rex.

The fascinating Betty Jewel, "the girl with the velvet eyes," is seen in the principal feminine role, with El Brendel, the funny Swede, furnishing a riot of laughs.

Women Have Air Fashions.

Feminine interest in aviation in Europe has started special fashions for air travelers, and dressmakers are displaying outfits for fliers. One costume selected was of soft leather colored royal blue, and consisted of helmet, coat, short skirt and full-length trousers.

About all you can say for some bands is that they reduce the number of old maids.—Ashland Times Gazette.

INFLUENTIAL FOLK FIND SUMMER O. K. FOR THEM IN WASHINGTON

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, July 1. — Midsummer is a mean time for ordinary mortals who have official business to transact in Washington.

The main bosses are away—at the seaside, touring Europe or in the Black Hills. The underlings won't shoulder responsibility. They tell visitors to call again—in the fall.

Most of the congressmen are gone, too.

If you want something out of one of the departments and can't get it, and your representative's here, you generally can persuade him to go along with you, or call up and raise heck. In that way you frequently are able to prod the executives into stirring themselves.

But just now, the average man in the capital is in hard luck.

IT'S different among folks who have a "pull."

To quite a considerable extent this is when they make their big killings.

From the standpoint of the uninfluential caller:

There's nobody in summertime official Washington to attend to anything.

From the standpoint of the influential one:

There's nobody here to interfere.

GOVERNMENT executives can do a great many things, if they will.

For a man who has a "drag" they can fix almost anything at least temporarily, and anything that's fixed temporarily quite often stays fixed permanently.

For that reason a lot of fixing is done at this time of year — because, just now, there's nobody to get up in congress and raise a howl.

Later on, when congress does meet, perhaps the howl fails to materialize. Even if it materializes, it may bring no results. Anything governmental once accomplished, tends to stay that way. At the very worst, the deal's beneficiary has had the advantage of it for awhile.

CONSEQUENTLY, while the capital looks quiet, a great plenty is going on under the surface.

Big business men are quite numerous in town.

They're doing no hoo-rawing. That'll come next winter, when there'll be laws they want passed. Laws have to be hoo-rawed through congress.

Executive departmental fixing is done in a different way — with gum shoes.

However, Washington isn't as inactive as it appears.

INDEED, there's more summertime activity about the departments this season than usual, for the time is rather short.

The spring exodus was considerably delayed by trans-Atlantic flights and other out-of-the-common events which kept senators and representatives hanging about longer than they generally do, and now the prospects are for an extra session.

This means that executive fixing must be hustled.

Probably a couple of hundred legislators will be here by mid-September at the latest, and once they're on hand, there'll be no keeping their noses out of anything, even though it's a month before the president issues the extra call.

A vast amount of confidential business remains to be disposed of in the next two months. It is surprising that such busy executives haven't time to bother with "pull"-less folk who show up during vacation, trying to butt in?

Alleged Polish Spy Executed.

MOSCOW, July 1.—Mme. Vishnevskaya, described by the Soviet officials as "a notorious Polish woman spy who has been active since 1921," has been executed at Tcharkov following her trial in court, according to a dispatch from that city today.

Tablet Marks Meeting Place.

To commemorate the meeting of Sir Walter Scott and Robert Burns in Sciennes House, Edinburgh, in the winter of 1786-87, the Edinburgh Sir Walter Scott Club, in conjunction with the Burns Association, has just placed a tablet in the wall of the house.

A high class vaudeville act, breaking a jump from the East, and a thrilling western classic," Arizona Bound," a Paramount picture, top the bill at the Ceramic theatre today and tomorrow.

Becker, Curran and Shean appear in an extraordinary instrumental, singing and dancing offering.

Gary Cooper, the screen's newest "Western" hero, already acclaimed one of filmdom's most dashing exponents of the stirring life of the great open spaces, will be seen in the leading role of "Arizona Bound."

Though Cooper has been in motion pictures but little more than a year, his fascinating screen presence and his real ability as an actor have already served to elevate him to a coveted position in the screen world. Raised on a Montana ranch, he is an accomplished horseman, and a typical product of the Great West.

For two years Cooper "rode herd" with the cowboys on his father's ranch, following the chuck wagon on the great round-ups, sleeping on the ground at night, and acquiring a muscular development which, combined with his height of six feet, two inches, makes him an ideal type for his role.

A competent judge of horse-flesh, the new star brings to the screen an equine companion which is acclaimed as the most beautiful horse even seen in motion pictures. This remarkable steed, "Flash," is a cream-colored Arabian stallion, and in addition to his beauty and animation, is an actor of unusual accomplishments, rivalling Tony, Silver King and Rex.

The fascinating Betty Jewel, "the girl with the velvet eyes," is seen in the principal feminine role, with El Brendel, the funny Swede, furnishing a riot of laughs.

Women Have Air Fashions.

Feminine interest in aviation in Europe has started special fashions for air travelers, and dressmakers are displaying outfits for fliers. One costume selected was of soft leather colored royal blue, and consisted of helmet, coat, short skirt and full-length trousers.

About all you can say for some husbands is that they reduce the number of old maids.—Ashland Times Gazette.

APPLE GROWERS FACE PROBLEM

The outstanding problem faced by West Virginia apple growers is that of marketing the fruit. Berkeley county alone produces over 2,000 carloads of apples during a good season. With the other counties in the apple section producing proportionately, it means that there must be an efficient system of marketing to take care of the crop and secure a fair return.

Due to the unusually large crop last year many growers received nothing above the expenses incurred in marketing and others even had a deficit.

During the present summer the state representatives and the federal commissioner are making a study of market demands, methods of marketing, and cost to the consumers.

SUPERIOR CORDS HERE TONIGHT

Chester Superior Cord Tires will be the attraction here tonight in a game with Homer Laughlin China. This will be the last appearance of the Chester aggregation here during the first half of the Industrial league season. The teams played a tie contest earlier in the week.

Monday the local tossers will meet the strong Canonsburg team at the latter place in two games, morning and afternoon. They will be accompanied to the Pennsylvania city by a delegation of rooters.

Holiday Will Be Observed.

Monday, July 4, will be observed here as a general holiday. Industrial plants and business houses will be closed the entire day while the usual holiday hours will prevail at the post-office.

Work is Progressing.

Work is progressing steadily on the erection of the new tunnel kiln plants of the Homer Laughlin and E. M. Knowles China company here.

Canaries Have Value.
The Texas Governor.
Remember Fokker.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

MRS. FREEMAN, the unhappy mother whose husband was killed by an automobile, killed herself and her five children when told they must go to an orphan asylum. "Better dead than without a mother," said the poor woman, and went with them.

She was careful to protect two canary birds, putting them where the deadly gas could not reach them. She knew that canary birds have a value, somebody would buy them and treat them kindly. She knew that children have no value; that she could not be sure that strangers in an asylum would treat them kindly.

VISITING New York city with a party of distinguished Texans, welcomed and looked up to, literally and in other ways, Governor Moody listens and thinks.

He hears that New York city is the biggest American factory town turning out five and a half billion dollars worth of products a year. Governor Moody is too polite to mention the fact that any state he has seen on his way east, including New York, could be tucked away in Texas and not attract much attention. Texas alone, intensively cultivated, could feed every one of the 1,900,000,000 human beings on earth and have room left to raise cotton.

WHEN rejoicing over the Honolulu flight of two fine young army men, don't forget Fokker, who made their army plane, the plane that took Byrd first of all human beings over the North Pole, and the plane now carrying Byrd and his companions to Europe.

This government should endow Fokker generously, give him whatever he wants, make sure that he never leaves us. It owes him gratitude.

It also owes gratitude to other good airplane builders, including Ry-

Review-Tribune Offers Booklet on Homes for Birds

This is the name of a booklet which every bird lover should have. These feathered friends make excellent neighbors. They are desirable about premises not only on account of their beauty and song, but because of their economic worth. All day long they will protect your trees, shrubs, and gardens from ruinous insects.

No attraction for birds is more effectual than a series of houses suited to the needs of the various kinds of birds.

These houses are not difficult to construct and are very inexpensive. Beautify your surroundings by erecting a number of them. Complete instructions are contained in an interesting booklet which this bureau has for distribution. Enclose four cents in stamps for return postage and handling.

SANITARY WARE TRADE PROBLEM ON CALENDAR, LEADERS SAY

Break With Plant Owners Occurred in 1922.

President-elect Duffy Prepares to Assume Duties.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 1.—(Special — With internal matters holding chief attention, the thirty-seventh annual convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters opened today in Odd Fellows' hall. Sessions will continue until the latter part of next week.

'Off Year" in Industry.

This is regarded as an "off year," since there will be no wage conference this fall. The biennial agreement for the general ware trade holds over until October, 1928.

There will be some discussion on the situation in the sanitary branch which was disrupted in 1922 when the manufacturers and the union representatives failed to reach a settlement, after the union conferees refused to accept a reduction in the wage scale. Leaders here are still hopeful that a readjustment may be affected but refused to divulge the nature of the indications.

This convention will mark the retirement of President John T. Wood, of East Liverpool, Ohio, who has been a national officer for 27 years. Wood was former secretary of the brotherhood and became president in 1922 upon the death of Edward Menge of East Liverpool. Wood was defeated in the biennial election by James M. Duffy, of Buffalo, N. Y., who will assume the place on August 1.

Record-breaking Hot Weather Kills Three More Persons in Chicago, Increasing Toll to 27 Persons.

FIVE DROWNINGS IN OHIO CITIES

Relief in Form of Showers is Expected at Noon Tomorrow, According to Weatherman Alexander.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Record-breaking hot weather killed three persons in Chicago today, bringing the total of dead for a three-day period of torrid weather to 27.

The thermometer registered 86 degrees this morning and no relief was promised until night.

The heat wave is general over the mid-west, centering in Chicago.

While the heat wave continued to claim victims in other sections of Ohio and the mid-west, there were no fatalities in the East Liverpool district today.

A maximum temperature of 93 degrees was registered here yesterday. At 11 o'clock this morning the mercury in a thermometer on the St. Clair avenue side of the Central fire station registered 89.

Cooling showers are forecast by noon tomorrow, promising relief from the sweltering weather.

TOURIST FINED $25 AFTER GIRL IS RUN DOWN

Miss Mildred Hill, 18, Hurt in East End Accident.

JACK WALES HELD

Wyoming Youth Found Guilty of Reckless Driving.

Miss Mildred Hill, 18, Pennsylvania avenue pottery worker, sustained injuries to her head and shoulders when struck by an automobile driven by Jack Wales, 17, tourist, of Sheridan, Wyoming, as she alighted from an eastbound street car at Central avenue stop at 5:15 o'clock last evening.

Wales was found guilty of reckless driving and violating Section 18 of the traffic code prohibiting the passing of a street car while it was discharging passengers, when he faced Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today. He was fined $25 and costs.

Wales, his father, mother, sister and brother were enroute to Connecticut for an extended visit, when the accident occurred. The elder Wales was driving one car, while his son was trailing him. Police claimed that the first automobile had passed the street car and that the youth was in the act of passing it when he struck the girl as she stepped to the street.

Wales said that he thought the car was still in motion when he was passing it. The girl was dragged about 20 or 25 feet before the car was brought to a stop. She was carried into her home where she was attended by Dr. W. G. McDale.

The boy was arrested by Captain of Police Conley and brought to the city hall. He was released later in the evening, his car and that driven by his father were held by the police as bond. Arthur Hill, father of the girl, signed the affidavit against the lad.

Wales told police that his insurance company would settle for the injuries sustained by the girl. The tourists resumed their trip today.

Boy Dashes Through Windshield.

TOLEDO, O., July 1. — Nazarene Willinger, 6, is in a hospital here today with injuries sustained when he was dashed through a windshield. The driver of the auto, William Rosen, told police, his machine struck a pole when he attempted to brush a wasp from the boy's person.

COL. LINDBERGH OFF TO OTTAWA

Extermination Campaign for Control of Liquor Marts.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The third murder in three days attributed to the outbreak of a new bootleg war, was recorded here today in the death of Numio Jamericco, 28, whose body, perforated by 62 bullets, was discovered in the rear yard of his home.

Police claim a war of extermination in which a syndicate is seeking control of the illicit liquor marts, is responsible for the slayings.

The others killed were Diego Attlomionte and Lorenzo Alagna.

GARAGE LOOTED, COACH STOLEN

Robbers broke into the Thompson avenue garage of Rev. E. A. Walker, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, last night, and stole his 1926 model Chevrolet coach, valued at $450. The machine carried Ohio license No. 386-450. Patrolman Leslie Curran made an investigation of the theft.

T. D. Huston, Calcutta farmer, reported to the police at 11:10 o'clock last night that his Ford roadster carrying Ohio license No. 386-737 had been stolen from its parking place near the Y. M. C. A., Fourth and Washington streets.

She was a member of the First United Presbyterian church.

Fokker, Out of Fuel, Is Forced Down After Missing Paris In Storm

AVIATORS TAKE TO THEIR COLLAPSIBLE RUBBER BOAT; FISHERMEN TOW THEM

Ocean "Bus" After Cruising 43 Hours, During Part of Which it Soared Through Rain and Thick Mist Over France, is Slightly Damaged When it Drops Into English Channel.

By Harry R. Flory.

PARIS, July 1.—Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three fellow trans-Atlantic flyers who spanned the Atlantic in the mighty Fokker monoplane, America, through storms and fog, are safe.

The America landed at 2:32 o'clock this morning in the sea 200 yards off the coast at Ver-Sur-Mer, in the department of Calvados, not far from Havre. This is 125 miles from Paris.

FOUR FLYING ACES IN STATE OF COLLAPSE AFTER THRILLING TRIP

VER-SUR-MER, France, July 1.—The four flying aces of the monoplane "America" were in a state of collapse after their thrilling trans-Atlantic flight and forced landing in the English channel early today.

When Vice Mayor Coiffier and his two sons were routed out of bed by the two fishermen who went to the rescue of Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three companions they found the flyers on the beach—exhausted.

Commander Byrd and Lieut. Bert Balchen were lying on the sandy beach in a state of collapse. Balchen, a hardy Norwegian, was fully as exhausted as Byrd. The fishermen did not know the identity of the men until Coiffier asked Byrd who he was.

Bert Acosta, the black-haired pilot of the plane, and Lieut. George O. Noville, the radio-expert, were found a short distance up the beach near the lighthouse, both of them in a weakened condition.

Later a message was received from Ver-Sur-Mer saying that Bryd and his companions landed in the channel near that town, having run out of gas and oil while seeking the mouth of the Seine, less than 50 miles away.

The American flyers had taken to their collapsible rubber boat when they landed in the water and two fishermen helped tow them to the coast.

"I OUGHT TO BE KICKED; I WAS CLOSE TO PARIS AND COULDN'T MAKE IT"--BYRD

By Frederick K. Abbott.

VER-SUR-MER, France, July 1.—"I think I ought to be kicked. I was close to Paris and couldn't make it."

This was the dejected statement today of Commander Richard E. Byrd when interviewed after his dramatic trans-Atlantic flight in the giant Fokker monoplane, America, which plunged into the English channel, near here, at 2:32 o'clock this morning after an all-night battle with rain and fog over France.

Two fishermen, attracted by the hum of the motor, helped the flyers reach the beach. They conducted Byrd and Lieut. Bernt Balchen, the passenger, to the home of Vice Mayor Coiffier. Bert Acosta, the pilot, and Lieut. George O. Noville, the radio expert, were taken to the lighthouse where they were put to bed.

Four Flyers Dead Tired.

All four flyers were dead tired and fell asleep at once. Byrd awoke at 12:40 o'clock this afternoon and went by automobile to the city hall to meet the Mayor of Ver-Sur-Mer. He was attired in a rain coat and a naval hat with gilt braid. He announced that he was preparing a statement to the press..

"Congratulations," said this correspondent to the noted navigator.

"Well," replied Byrd, slowly, his genial countenance breaking into a sad smile, "I ought to be kicked."

The commander seemed to be very tired. He had had only a few hours' sleep.

Before going to bed Byrd insisted upon sending a cablegram to his wife in Boston.

"When we landed in the water," Byrd said, "both of the wings of the plane broke off at once."

Congratulations from Doumergue.

TRANS-ATLANTIC AIRMEN SAW NEITHER LAND NOR WATER FOR NINETEEN HOURS

VER-SUR-MES, France, July 1.—"We had a great flight. Imagine seeing nothing for nineteen hours!"

Commander Richard E. Byrd of the giant Fokker monoplane America, whose dramatic trans-oceanic flight ended at 2:32 o'clock this morning when the plane plunged into the English channel, made this statement today as he graphically described the thrilling flight.

The plane came down in the channel about 200 yards from shore, near the little town of Ver-Sur-Mer, on the coast of Normandy, about 125 miles from Paris. It had flown almost to Paris, lost its way and retracked on its course. It was in the air 42 hours and had flown more than 4,000 miles. The plane was damaged but the crew was unhurt.

"It was a wonderful flight, thrilling all the way," said Commander Byrd. "We saw no land or sea after we left Newfoundland until we had almost reached the European continent."

"We had nineteen hours of dense fogs and heavy clouds. It was impossible to keep climbing up and down to avoid the fog. It was a terrific experience. Imagine seeing nothing for nineteen hours.

Fog Prevented Taking Bearings.

"We could take no bearings from St. Johns because all Newfoundland was covered with fog. We managed by good luck to locate ourselves after coming out of the fog.

"We lost our charts in landing but I think we hit France at Cape Finistere. We made excellent speed and set our course for Paris.

"Shortly after leaving Finistere it became dark and we were obliged to go entirely by compass bearings. We came upon an amusement park near the sea when we thought we were nearing Paris.

"Something had thrown our compass off many degrees, I don't think it was the fault of the compass but

MAYOR, SERVICE DIRECTOR, COUNCILMEN AND COMMISSIONERS, CITY PARK PATRONS WANT BENCHES

Patrons of City park, the municipal breathing spot on West Fifth street, near the City hospital, want benches.

A letter received by the Review-Tribune today, urges that the need be called to the attention of Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Service-Safety Director John W. Moore, councilmen and members of the park commission.

"More people visit City park than any other municipal beauty spot," says the note, signed "taxpayer." "And yet visitors will carry benches or chairs from private homes to the fresh-air center if they wish to enjoy their stay in the park, for the city, probably through an oversight, has made no provision for this accommodation.

"Please ask the mayor, service-director, councilmen and park commissioners to send at least twelve or fifteen benches, so that the public may enjoy the beauty of the spot to which Nature has been so kind.

"Maybe the park commission can borrow some of the benches now at Thompson park, or, perhaps, a few may be found in storage somewhere."

Whether funds appropriated for the maintenance of city parks will permit the purchase, if necessary, of new benches could not be ascertained today. However, the amount set aside annually for this purpose is not keeping the city's bookkeepers awake at nights.

Two years ago, members of the park commission, taking cognizance of a request, sent several benches from Thompson park to the West Fifth street place. Before the end of the summer many of the benches disappeared. Patrons of the park claimed the benches were taken away to be used elsewhere. Denial was made that any of the benches had been "borrowed!"

With East Liverpool sweltering in a heat wave, scores last night sought relief at City park, which commands one of the prettiest views in the Ohio Valley. Men, women and children were in the crowd.

Enthusiasts claim more people visit the West Fifth street spot than go to other green-dotted rest places within the corporation.

At any rate, Mayor Benedum, Director Moore, councilman and park commissioners, the City park patrons want benches.

Weed Threatens Rice Crop.

Ceylon is waging war on the water hyacinth, called the "lilac devil" by the natives, which is threatenng the country's rice crop. The pestilential weed has already gained a firm foothold in Bengal, Burma and Indo-China. Peasant rice cultivators in Bengal are suffering from its invasion, and it has spread over waterways and canals, so thickly as to almost stop navigation. Ceylon's legislative council has voted funds to be used by the department of agriculture in its battle.

Lost—One Circus Crocodile.

In its haste to get to the next show place, near Avignon, France, a menagerie and circus lost a crocodile, and nobody noticed the loss until arrival at the destination the next morning. Searching parties were organized, and the manager tried to calm the fears of the inhabitants by assertions that crocodiles are not dangerous at this time of the year, and can go three months without eating.

The First Shopping Days in July, and We are Radiant With Summer Newness

WHAT ABOUT JULY 5th.

July 4th, Independence Day, "The Day We Celebrate." Once a year the Nation pauses to commemorate with jubilation the date of its birth. A glorious custom—with a glorious background.

But after all, isn't it the practical patriotism we express on July 5th—and every day in the year that is most worth while.

Isn't it our respect for the magnificent institutions of the Great Republic, our observance of its laws and our efforts to live for it, as well as in it, that is the real test of patriotism?

FASHIONGRAMS

Latest News of the World of Fashion condensed for quick reading:

The popularity of the velvet, moire and brocades for hand bags will, no doubt, bring back the pouch shaped bags.

Just now, sleeveless cotton frocks are having their day, and many charming models may be seen.

The cape has come back for evening wear. Some say that it will not stop there, but will enter the sports field as well.

Chiffon and lace in various delicate shades are forming a charming Summer team.

Not to be lost in the march of fashion, the velveteen coat in high shades still enjoys decided favor.

Pearls and crystals, after having rivaled each other, have joined effectively in some new and very unusual chokers.

Large hats are very much the millinery picture for Summer.

Organdy has staged a fashion come back, and with its little frocks of robe de style influence has an irrestible youth and springtime, storybook effect.

Many a colorful skeleton oxford will shod fashionable feet with such lovely shades as lavender, rose, blue, and green to choose.

The coolie coat will play a prominent part in vacation wardrobes and will be much seen on the beaches.

The quilted theme enters the millinery world with hats of taffeta and georgette.

Skirts will cut a wider path this Fall if present comment amounts to anything.

The drape is not to be outdone by the flare, for they appear together in some of the newest arrivals for Fall.

A very new coat achieves something different by being one sided with one-sided fur collars and panels on one side only.

Very much in the style picture, tier arrangements enter into the making of numberless smart frocks.

Physicians and chiropractors in the state of Indiana may advertise without violating the law, Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom, above, has ruled. The attorney general has handed down this opinion to Dr. E. M. Shanklin, secretary of the state board of medical registration and examination, ruling that the board had no right to force physicians and chiropractors to sign pledges not to advertise. Gilliom also has been seeking modification of Indiana's "bone-dry" law, although favoring prohibition.

Again Tom Mix scores a triumph at the American, where his latest starring picture, "The Circus Ace," had its first showing yesterday afternoon. Here is a western that is not only novel in theme and treatment, with a fine story of romance and adventure taken against the beautifu background of California, but a vivid picture of circus life as well.

All the excitement, thrills, big and little business of the Big Tops, as well as a Western drama, is shown with fine realism and whimsical humor in "The Circus Ace." The lives of the circus troupers, their loves, their hates, their daily grips with death in the performances of their hazardous acts, as well as their fun and recreations, are pictured in a way that is highly instructive as well as entertaining.

And it all is part of a colorful story in which Tom Mix and his horse Tony play an active and fascinating part. From the moment Tom sees the girl, played by Natalie Joyce, come sailing down to him from the sky on a parachute, to the time he speels out his messages of love to her with a stream of bullets from his six shooter on a board, there is action, thrills, fun and suspense.

Tony has his share of the glory in making his film a delight for old and young, and a boxing kangaroo helps him prove that animals can produce laughs and thrills as interesting as the human actors.

The story of "The Circus Ace" was written by Harold Shumate and the scenario by Jack Jungmyer expressly for Tom Mix and is ideally suited for the western star. The cast, too, is one of the best, including such well known screen performers as Jack Baston, Duke Lee, James Bradbury, Stanley Blythstone, Dudley Smith and Buster Gardner.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1927.

Wanted—A Dogcatcher

The canine problem is worrying East Liverpool's officials, for probably three times as many dogs are running at large within the corporate limits as the number appearing on the license books at the courthouse in Lisbon. And with a torrid wave sweeping the district, the danger of a mad dog scare is increased.

Complaints galore have poured into city hall regarding the nuisance. Councilmen have discussed the question pro and con, and Mayor Benedum is willing to act, but the city has no funds to pay the bill.

Under the state law, the task of rounding up unlicensed canines falls to the lot of the sheriff of the county. However, the municipality, too, has legislated in bygone years to authorize the appointment of a dogcatcher. In the event of action by the county or city, money is required to pay the fiddler, and neither unit seems to have any lucre to spare.

According to reports, the county commissioners have promised to transfer $200 from the dog license fund to the credit of the city as the nucleus of a fund to employ a dogcatcher. In order to accomplish anything in a war against unlicensed dogs, at least $600 or $700, it is estimated, should be available, for a dogcatcher must use a horse and wagon or motor vehicle in making his rounds, while a corral and death house for captured dogs are also essentials.

If councilmen and the executive branch of the municipal government wish to tackle the problem, the first procedure is a get-together meeting to determine how much money is needed. Then council should appropriate whatever sum is necessary to add to the county's promised $200.

The Navy Question

Whatever may be the outcome of the naval armament conference, Senator Borah, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, ventures the opinion that congress will not enter upon any extensive naval building program now or in the near future.

"We have some things we must take care of," he observes, "such as the flood situation and other domestic programs which would be much more important than putting a large amount of money into naval armament."

The president, too, is known to be as insistent as ever on congressional economy.

The public evidently has little interest in armament at present, and is more likely to welcome naval cuts than new construction, for reasons of economy and pacifism. There is no more shouting for a big navy. The public seems far more concerned with seeing all the powers limit their navies than seeing our own country surpass others in naval power. There is a disposition to trust to America's potential strength, supplemented by international good will and fair dealing.

Meanwhile, as Senator Borah suggests, there are plenty of other things to spend money for. The Mississippi must be controlled; there must be better safeguards against floods on the lower Colorado; there are great navigation and waterpower projects clamoring for action; farm relief is still a live issue; there are corn borers and many other domestic enemies to arm against. All these demand their due.

Hot Lead For Lynchers

"Cold steel and hot lead," says the Macon, Ga., Telegraph, "will do more to cure lynchings than anything that could happen."

That was shown with unusual clearness in the recent mix-up in Tampa, Fla., when the sheriff and the national guard protected a murderer from lynching at the hands of a frenzied mob. It cost the lives of five mob members and the wounding of 32 others, but the general opinion in Tampa and throughout the country seems to be that it was worth the cost. There were legal casualties, too, for the authorities arrested 30 of the citizens who beleaguered the jail.

The prisoner in this case happened to be white, which may or may not have made any difference in the courageous stand of the officials responsible for his safe-keeping. Apparently justice was proceeding against him without any undue delay. There was no reason to doubt that he would receive his deserts.

It is regretful that it became necessary to add more deaths, in the name of law and order, to those the prisoner is accused of taking. The effect of this example, however, should be to save many lives hereafter and preserve the good name of many a community in a crisis.

Cigar Lighters

If the greatest need of this country is, or was, a good five-cent cigar, it may follow logically, as a certain smoker urges, that the next great need is a reasonably-priced cigar lighter.

There is a great vogue of mechanical lighters now. The price of a good one is said to run from $5 up. Thus they are a luxury. But be it remembered that the luxury of today is the necessity of tomorrow. The stinking sulphur match was a luxury in its time; then the brimstone match; then the safety match. Now the handy little device which goes back to primitive flint and steel, but uses gasoline for tinder, may be destined to come into general use.

All it needs, perhaps, is some Ford of the tobacco trade to turn out a flivver-lighter. And then smokers will all be happier than ever.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

BARRING OUT A COMMON NUISANCE

Somebody, as has been so aptly said, is always taking the joy out of life.

In illustration of this regrettable fact I am reminded of a story which was credited to the late "Private John" Allen of Mississippi, the wit of the lower house of congress in which he served several terms.

One summer, Allen and several of his cronies were organizing a fishing expedition to a lake in Mississippi famous for the size and number of the large-mouthed black bass it contained. They had arranged for supplies and for transportation, and for a camping site, for one darky to do the cooking and for another to mix the mint juleps and the toddies. Now the personnel of the party was being completed.

"How about asking Jones to go along?" suggested one of the original organizers.

"No, sir!" stated Private Jim emphatically. "If Jones is invited you fellows can count me out."

"Why, I thought you liked Jones," said the proposer.

"I do like him in his proper place," explained Allen. "Ordinarily, Jones is a good citizen and good company. He's companionable, kind-hearted, genial and unselfish. He's a good Democrat and he was a brave Confederate soldier. But he wouldn't do for a trip such as this one is going to be. I've been on fishing trips with him before now where he spoiled everything. He lacks a sense of proportion."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean this: Just about the time the drinks are flowing freely and the poker game is under way and everybody is settling down for a nice pleasant time, that derned fool will want to go fishing."

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 1.—Thoughts while strolling: Broadway idlers looking for what they call the "breaks." And orchidaceous girls looking for what they call "careers." Yellow gloves, swirling canes. Haberdashers who make Fifth Avenue styles hackneyed in a few weeks.

Old Mississippi, last of the cabmen. Nothing so gloomy as a deserted stage. The horsey men with binoculars. Sign: "Wanted, window demonstrator for a shaving cream." An Oriental rug seller haggling with chorus girls at a stage door. The dim lit Chinese cafes.

Lee Olwell, a newspaperman, who became a bank president. Nobody seems to have sighted a comet lately. White tiled hair dressing salons with glittering lights. Chiropodist parlors with van dyked attendants. Professional eyebrow pluckers. And obesity doctors who live—ha, ha—on the fat of the land.

Those haughty girls from Long Island with sepia tans, motor togs and Sealyham dogs. The milliner's delivery wagon, drawn by four Shetland ponies. Antique shoppers who hope worthless junk will prove to be a genuine something or other.

No more laughing at collegiate playwrights along the Rialto. They have written too many sure-fire hits. Trim capped liner officers with their rolling walk. Jade is becoming more expensive than diamonds. The woman who made a fortune selling fudge to Broadway theatre goers.

Wonder how much the patent lighter craze cost the match industry. Including the Scandinavian. Manhattan's tallest editor — R. E. Sherwood, of Life. A taxicab driver yells to his mates: "Subway tie-up at 14th street!" And away they go.

Those worldly men found in shoeshine chairs in the early afternoon. First class perfumery is now only for the rich. A dog asleep in a bicycle handle-bar basket. The hotel doorman who looks like Wallace Beery. Fontaine Fox, the cartoonist.

The swaying blind pencil seller in front of the Henry Miller theatre. Dancing academy sign advertises: "We teach the Tiger." What in the world is that? Abraham Lincoln Erlanger and his cap. And Leonard Bergman and Bernard Sobel. A Frankie and Johnnie sandwich shop. There's a tough job—selling songs in a theatre lobby.

There's something tragically human in the plaint of a young New Yorker in his divorce petition. Among other things he says: "We went to Europe on our honeymoon. I was seasick all the way over and she never cared for me after that."

A friend of mine dropped into a big hotel the other morning and inquired for a rather famous musician from Europe. "He does not stop here," replied the clerk, "he stops in a hotel around the corner." My friend rushed out—I suppose for smelling salts.

And a reporter went to another hotel to interview a gentleman for one of those how-I-did-it success stories. "You may tell the public," said the great man, "that I owe my success to the fact that I have never carried packages by holding them with strings"—and that concluded the interview. When great men refuse to take themselves seriously like that there remains a glimmer of hope for the world.

Waiters in smart cafes are inspected almost as rigidly daily in parade troops going before the king. The late Louis Sherry used to say a satisfactory meal depended as much on the good appearance of the waiter as cuisine and waiters who were careful in their personal appearance rose high in the service.

Incidentally I noticed recently a street in Paris named for Louis Sherry.

HASKINS' LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Produce Agency Law.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—One thing that congress did for the farmers at its last session was to pass what is known as the Produce Agency Act to protect them against the practices of unscrupulous commission merchants. This law becomes effective July 1.

Under its provisions farmers will be assured that they will get a square deal when they ship perishable products on consignment. For years there have been numerous complaints that farmers have been cheated or dealt with unfairly by individuals and firms whom they trusted to market their products on the commission basis, and in many instances there has been abundant evidence that the complaints were justified, but there was nothing that could be done about it.

Under this system of marketing the farmer ships a carload of melons or potatoes, or any quantity of those or any other of his products to an agency to be sold at the best obtainable price, the agency to receive a stipulated commission. The transaction is wholly at the farmer's risk. If his produce does not arrive in good condition, if it spoils before it can be sold, if it arrives when there is a market glut and a buyer can not be found for it, or if the best price obtainable is so low that the proceeds will not even pay the freight, he is out of luck. Moreover, in the past he has had to take the agency's word for it if for any reason he did not realize what he had hoped or expected from the shipment.

He might be told, for example, that his melons were in bad condition when received and had to be sold for little or nothing. He would have no means of making sure whether this were true, for before he could bet any trace of his melons they would not only have ben sold, but consumed, and he would find it an exceedingly difficult matter to prove at what price his particular lot of melons had been sold. He might even be told that it had been found necessary to dump or destroy his melons, and all he could do would be to curse his luck and pick another agency for his next shipment.

Dumped to Hold Up Prices.

There have been cases in which perfectly good produce has been dumped or destroyed in order to hold prices at higher levels than could be maintained if regulated solely by the law of supply and demand. This is where the consuming public becomes interested in the matter, for it has to pay more for the produce than is justified by actual market conditions.

Of course reputable commission men do not indulge in practices such as have been complained of, and it is conceded that the great majority of

'Accidental Drowning' Boy's Death Verdict

Coroner Rules in River Tragedy Near Steel Company Docks at Weirton.

Coroner George A. Arner, of Hancock county, returned a verdict of accidental drowning" yesterday in the death of Joseph Battista, 17, of Weirton, who lost his life Wednesday afternoon while swimming in the Ohio river, near the Weirton Steel company docks.

The body was recovered shortly before noon yesterday after the river had been dragged for more than 24 hours by police officials and companions of the youth.

According to testimony at the inquest, the lad had been in the water about an hour when he was seized with cramps and sank despite efforts of his companions to rescue him.

The victim was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Battista and was employed at the plant of the Weirton Steel company.

LODGE MEETING SCHEDULED HERE

Plans have been completed for the meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge tomorrow night in the I. O. O. F.-K. of P. hall, Fifth street and Carolina avenue.

Visiting lodgemen will be present from New Cumberland, Weirton, Steubenville and other places in the county.

Lunch will be served at the close of the business session.

LALICH FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

Funeral services for Michael Lalich, 42 years old, Weirton, who died in the Ohio Valley hospital, Steubenville, as a result of fractured skull sustained when a falling timber struck him on the head while at work in the Pennsylvania railroad yards, Brooke county, were held this afternoon in the home of Calico Hill. Burial was made in the Serbian cemetery.

He is survived by one daughter, his wife having died two years ago.

MINE WORKERS TO TAKE TESTS

Miners in four Panhandle counties of northern West Virginia will be given opportunity in Wheeling on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 19-20 to take examinations for mine foremen and fire boss certificates.

The examinations will be conducted in the Wheeling high school building, and R. M. Lambie, chief of the state department of mines, will be in charge. He will be assisted by one or two from the headquarters at Charleston, and District Inspectors, L. W. Brown and A. E. Lafferty.

Fully half a hundred men are expected to apply for certificates either as fire bosses or mine foremen in the examinations in Wheeling. The helmet test and the technical questions which are envolved in practical mining will be included in the examinations.

The counties of Hancock, Brooke, Ohio and Marshall will contribute to the list of applicants.

SUPERIOR TIRES TO MEET NEWELL

Chester Superior Cord Tires are scheduled to meet Homer Laughlin China tomorrow afternoon in an Industrial league game at Newell.

Announcement was made today that the strong McConkey club of Wheeling had been booked for two games here Monday, July 4. Contests will be staged morning and afternoon.

Glover Funeral.

Funeral services for Alexander Glover, 32 years old, of Holliday's Cove, who died in the Ohio Valley hospital, Steubenville, were held this afternoon in the Russian Orthodox church. Burial was made in the Serbian cemetery, Weirton.

GRACE READY FOR HOP-OFF FROM HAWAII

"Aviator With Broken Neck" to Fly to Santa Monica.

Awaits Late Weather Forecasts for Pacific Jump.

HONOLULU, July 1.—Richard Grace, "the aviator with the broken neck," was prepared to take off today for Santa Monica, Cal. Grace will fly alone.

He and his tiny monoplane are at Kauai awaiting late weather forecasts.

Grace has several times been forced to postpone his take-off because of reports of bad weather between the Island of Kauai and California. Although he is noted for his daredevil aerial stunts, Grace declared he will take no unnecessary chances on the flight to Clover field, Santa Monica.

"I am not going to hurry more than good judgment permits," the flyer explained, "but if the weather forecasts are favorable I shall take-off."

PRISON WARDEN ASSUMES DUTIES

Dr. L. M. Robinson, of Clarksburg, last night assumed his duties as warden of the state prison at Moundsville, replacing S. P. Smith, of Charleston.

"There may be some changes in the administrative policy," said the new warden, "but for the present things will go along as they have been. I will study the situation carefully, and let matters adjust themselves slowly."

J. Frank Brannen will be retained as prison clerk, Rex Rader as superintendent of the coal mine and Miss Dess Turner and Miss Luzerna Dubois as stenographers in the office of the warden.

Ross-Watson Wedding.

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Edith Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ross and Orth Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Watson, of near New Cumberland, which took place Wednesday in the parsonage of the New Cumberland Methodist Protestant church, Rev. W. S. Hamilton, officiating. They will reside in New Cumberland.

Attend Camp Services.

Delegation of members of the Free Methodist church attended the opening tent meeting services last night in the site near the Anderson boulevard, East End, East Liverpool.

Pignatoro Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Frederick Pignatoro, 39 years old, will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in the Sacred Heart Catholic church, in charge of Rev. W. J. Sauer. Burial will be made in Locust Hill cemetery.

As the result of a campaign to increase the use of electricity in torrid Durban, South Africa, 138 stoves and 59 water heaters were installed last August.

Kills Pesky Bed-Bugs Roaches and Ants

Doctors declare that bed-bugs, roaches and other vermin are the most to be feared means of spreading such diseases as consumption, spinal meningitis and other infectious troubles. There is no disgrace in getting bed-bugs in your home, because that can't be avoided. But it is a disgrace to permit them to remain and thrive when it is so easy to get rid of them with the new chemical compound, P.D.Q., which quickly puts an end to these pesky devils.

A Million Bed-Bugs

A 35-cent package of this golden chemical will make a quart of a mixture that is so deadly to bed-bugs that it would kill a million of them if you could get that many together. Instantly it smothers and annihilates the living creatures; coats their eggs and stops them from hatching and multiplying.

Will Not Damage Goods

P.D.Q. will not injure delicate fabrics, clothing, carpets, furniture, bedding, wall paper or woodwork. In fact, it is often used as a deodorizer and disinfectant.

Moths

Impossible for moths to exist after using P.D.Q. Easy to use. A treatment on garments will prevent moths for two years.

For Ants and Cockroaches

Ants and cockroaches stand no chance of surviving a treatment of P.D.Q. It attacks them and their eggs with such force that it kills their whole generation.

P. D. Q. In Liquid Form

P.D.Q. can be purchased in sealed bottles double strength liquid form, with patent spout free. P.D.Q. Liquid can be diluted to make a quart or it can be used pure.

P.D.Q. is marketed in two style packages; Liquid form 50c, ready for use and P.D.Q. Dry form, 35c. Each package makes one quart.

SOCIETY

MISS MARY GLADYS LARKINS AND E. ALLAN McKEEVER WED

Ceremony Performed Last Night in Rectory of St. Aloysius Church Here.

Miss Mary Gladys Larkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Larkins of West Seventh street, became the bride of E. Allan McKeever, son of Mrs. John McKeever of West Fifth street, last evening at 6 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the rectory of St. Aloysius church, with the pastor, Rev. Thomas E. Walsh, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Bertram O. Harris were the attendants.

The bride was gowned in poudre blue georgette, with a picture hat to match. She wore a corsage of butterfly roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore white georgette, with a corsage of sweetpeas and roses.

Following the ceremony the bridal party motored to Salem, where a wedding dinner was served at Quaker Inn. From there Mr. and Mrs. McKeever left for a honeymoon trip to Chicago and South Bend, Ind.

The bride has been employed by the Smith & Phillips Music company, while the bridegroom is a salesman for the Ceramic Motor company. After July 16, they will be at home to friends at 218 West Seventh street residing temporarily with the bride's parents.

KIME ORCHESTRA COMING TO PARK

Virgil Kime and his orchestra will be the attraction at Virginia Gardens Rock Springs park, Saturday night and afternoon and evening on Fourth of July.

Kime, himself, is an accomplished musician and competent leader. His orchestra is made up of young men who enjoy playing not only for the pay they receive but for the fun they get out of it.

Luncheon at J. A. Bryan Home.

Mrs. J. A. Bryan was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home, Bryan-built, St. Clair avenue, at a 1 o'clock luncheon. The home was decorated with summer flowers, while rosebuds centered the small tables, at which covers were arranged for 40 guests. The luncheon was served by Misses Ann Adams, Betty and Jane Faulk and Mary Hester Anderson.

The social hours were spent with progressive bridge. Trophies were awarded Miss Nan Thompson and Mrs. R. L. Cawood.

ROOSEVELT FIELD REJOICES OVER BYRD'S SAFETY

"I'M HAPPY TO HEAR IT," SAYS FLYER'S WIFE

Mrs. Noville and Mrs. Acosta Gets News at Hangar.

WOMEN ARE CALM

Admitted They Worried, But Were Confident of Success.

NEW YORK, July 1. — There was great rejoicing, especially at Roosevelt Field, early today when the news was flashed from Paris that Commander Richard E. Byrd and his fellow flyers in the Fokker monoplane America were safe on the French coast, having been forced by bad weather to land at Ver-Sur-Mer, instead of Le Bourget, their destination.

As soon as the news was received at Roosevelt Field Grover Whalen representative of Rodman Wanamaker, financial backer of the flight, telephoned the news to Mrs. Byrd at Boston.

"I am very happy to hear it," cried Mrs. Byrd over the telephone. "It is fine news."

Mr. Whalen telephoned also to Thomas Byrd, at Winchester, Va.

Mrs. Noville, wife of Lieut. George O. Noville, and Mrs. Acosta, wife of Bert Acosta, were still at the hangar at Roosevelt Field when the cable arrived announcing the landing of the America.

The two women remained calm when they heard the news. They said that, while they had been worried, they felt sure all would come out all right.

The two wives remained seated while Whalen accompanied by the reporters went into the executive office to locate Ver-Sur-Mer upon the map. After poring over the map for considerable time Mr. Whalen announced that Ver-Sur-Mer is on the channel coast, 120 miles from Calais, about 50 miles from Cherbourg and about 30 miles from the mouth of the River Seine.

Mrs. Acosta had a worn look on her face, but she smiled at the reporters as they dashed out of the office with their geographical lore. One of the first things she asked, after she learned that the flyers were safe, was whether the plane had been damaged.

"Ought to be Kicked"

after a brief nap was to get his plane ashore and dissemble it.

"We think we landed about 200 yards out from Ver-Sur-Mer," said Byrd, "but we are not sure. I am pleased to hear you tell me that LeBourget field ceased to hear our automatic signals at 1:15 a. m. because that will aid us in determining what time we did come down."

Byrd and his companions used a rubber raft, which they carried aboard the monoplane, to help them reach shore. They were aided by two fishermen. All the flyers were badly drenched but otherwise unharmed.

The America was partly submerged as French officials began the task this morning of getting it ashore. They succeeded in taking from the plane all the precision instruments, the compasses, the wireless post and the documents that Byrd carried.

Byrd, Acosta, Noville and Balchen seemed greatly concerned over the condition of the plane.

The under prefect of the Calvados department told Bryd that he had received telephone instructions from President Gaston Doumergue of France to present his congratulations, Byrd thanked the official. He asked the prefect if he could get in touch immediately with the naval attache who meanwhile had left Paris for Ver-Sur-Mer.

NEW YORK GIRL GREETS AIRMAN

VER-SUR-MER, France, July 1. —The first woman to greet Commander Richard E. Byrd and his trans-Atlantic flying companions on French soil was a former New York girl, now the wife of a French citizen. She also was probably the first person in France to issue a positive command to the naval commander. It was an order to "shut up."

Her name is Mme. Tanugi, and before her marriage she was Miss Estelle De Jongh of New York.

Mme. Tanugi and her husband who are vacationing at this village, were the only persons in the village at the time of the America's forced landing who could speak English. Mme. Tanugi was called at 5 o'clock in the morning to act as interpreter for the strange Americans.

And then she gave Commander Byrd his first order. When Byrd complained because he had not reached Paris, Mme. Tanugi snapped: "Shut up, you got to France."

Byrd Lands in Sea

Comb Sky for Craft.

After being missing for hours, during which they cruised through rain and thick mist over France, the airmen turned up safe and sound, allaying anxiety that had grown up overnight.

The America was slightly damaged in making the landing but remained afloat.

The America was in the air approximately 43 hours.

Throughout the early morning hours all France, both the ground beneath and the sky above, was combed for the missing Americans. It was not until 8:20 o'clock that the mystery of the missing flyers was solved. At that hour the commander of Le Bourget air depot received a telephone message from Havre stating that a report had been received there that Commander Byrd's plane had come down at Ver-Sur-Mer about 200 yards off the coast.

Within a few minutes another message was received bearing official confirmation of the first.

Traveled Inland.

The first message had indicated that the America alighted in the water but it was not until the second was received that this was made certain.

The prefect of police at Caen, near the spot where the plane came down, told International News Service that the America had "made a safe landing," indicating that it was not damaged to any great extent.

The fact that the plane came down on the coast aroused the supposition that it had traveled considerable distance inland, swinging in a great circle back toward the Atlantic.

However, the full course of the flight could not be known until Commander Byrd and his companions told their story.

Flyers in Good Spirits.

The flyers had been in the air all night. They were described in Havre dispatches as being tired but in good health and spirits.

According to one apparently authentic report the airplane was not seen as it alighted. The flyers swam ashore and climbed the entrance of the lighthouse at Roche De Ver where they woke up the keeper and said they wanted a place to sleep. The keeper prepared beds for them.

Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, who had preceded Byrd and his companions on the trans-ocean hop, were among the first to be notified of the safe landing of the Americans on the coast.

"I am glad they're safe and they can claim success for they flew from New York to France without a stop," exclaimed the two Americans in unison."

Chamberlin and Levine Glad.

Chamberlin and Levine said they fully appreciated the difficulties of the flight Byrd had made and they praised the air worthy qualities of the Fokker plane.

"I will surely be glad to congratulate Byrd and his fellow aviators," said Chamberlin.

"And so will I," added Levine.

Capt. R. D. White, naval attache to the United States embassy, and a group of officials left Paris at 10:45 in two automobiles for Ver-Sur-Mer to bring the flyers back to Paris.

Some one perpetrated a heartless hoax just before 2 o'clock this morning when a report was put out that the plane had landed at Issy Les Moulineaux. Reporters hastened to the landing field at that place but found it deserted. There was no trace of Byrd and his companions.

Signals, which were believed to have come from the America, were picked up later, but no messages that contained information as to the location of the America nor her mechanical condition.

Le Bourget Crowd Disappointed.

For hour after hour a large crowd stood at Le Bourget air depot waiting for the travellers. When news came from Brest that the America had passed over that port it seemed certain that Byrd would find his goal and crown his great effort with success.

But as the hours passed and it became evident that Byrd had lost his way the people began to drift away.

Great searchlights—guiding lights—maintained at the field for the directing of airmen were kept playing upon the black rain clouds throughout the night. The officials of the field were on the alert for the noise of the three-motored machine.

Byrd Close to Paris

rather local disturbance. We went around in circles.

Flew Over Strange Country.

"We were now in the predicament of flying over a strange country without knowing where we were. Every now and then we ran into rain clouds. We were sure our gas would not last until morning and were certain that we would have to land in the dark but we kept on our supposed course for Paris.

"We may have been near Paris but I am not sure. We searched for hours trying to find a landing place. We were watching our gas consumption and the supply was getting lower and lower every minute. The fear of a forced landing stared us in the face.

"We could not see a thing and to land in rough ground that we could not see would mean a tragedy.

"I felt most keenly the responsibility for the three gallant men who were with me.

Feared Forced Landing.

"With our gas supply low the fear of being forced to land in a city caused us to decide to land on water. We discovered a lighthouse with a revolving light. We did not know where it was.

"I dropped a flare and landed, but the flare did not help much. It is hard enough to land a plane in the water in day time let alone at night.

"There was a sudden hard jolt and water filled everything immediately.

"Of course, the boys thought at once of saving each other.

"No one could hear after 42 hours of the motor noise. We shouted as loud as possible. We suffered nothing but shocks and bruises in landing.

"Finally we pulled out our little rubber boat and pumped it up. We got in it and rowed ashore, about 200 yards away.

"We came up to the village and could not raise anybody.

In Air 42 Hours.

"The America will rise again. We will repair her. She is a fine ship. If we had flown in a straight line we would have covered 4,200 miles. We were in the air 42 hours."

Lieut. George O. Noville, the radio expert, interrupted the commander at this point.

"We went over the lighthouse about 3 o'clock," he said. "My watch stopped at 3:30 which must have been the time we landed."

Byrd then continued with his story:

"I want especially to speak of the fellows with me," he said. "Their courage and calmness under these conditions, which could not have been worse, was wonderful when we found ourself flying around with little gas after 19 hours of having seen no land or sea."

OCEAN JUMPERS GO TO SLEEP AFTER LANDING

Byrd and Companions Rest at Ver-Sur-Mer.

PLANE ANCHORED

America, Not Badly Damaged, Will be Beached.

CAEN, France, July 1.—Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three trans-Atlantic flight companions are asleep at Ver-Sur-Mer, at which place they fell into the channel early today after a dramatic flight across the ocean and over France. This information was brought here today by the prefect of the Calvados department who has just returned from Ver-Sur-Mer.

"The tides in the channel are high and the monoplane America has been attached to a boat in the harbor to prevent it from drifting out with the tide," he reported.

The prefect of police said that Byrd planned to get up about 1 o'clock this afternoon and assist in beaching the plane at about 2 o'clock when the tides are low.

"Immediately afterward we hope the flyers will come to Caen," he said. "We are organizing a great reception in their honor.

"The flyers were pretty tired after their long and arduous trip.

MRS. RICHARD E. BYRD AND HER CHILDREN DANCE WITH HAPPINESS

Ocean Flyer's Wife Stands by Telephone All Night Awaiting News of Husband's Arrival in France.

BOSTON, July 1.—Mrs. Richard E. Byrd was overjoyed, her three children danced with happiness, the eight months' old baby gurgled and the Arctic terrier, "Igloo," scampered about the Byrd home here today when news arrived that the brave father of the household was safe.

Throughout the night Mrs. Byrd had kept in close contact by telephone with Roosevelt field but she never swerved in her faith that her husband would land safely. She appeared tired after her long vigil.

"Dead tired but very happy," as she expressed it, Mrs. Byrd retired for a few hours' sleep, having been at or near the telephone to Roosevelt Field all night.

A messenger boy arrived with a cablegram from her husband but Mrs. Byrd was not awakened.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 1.—Speculative gyrations of Baldwin locomotive furnished the chief speculative interest in an otherwise dull and feautreless period in the stock market at the beginning of trading today.

To the accompaniment of rumors that one or more powerful pools had practically cornered the stock, the bears crowded in to cover their commitments as the stock moved up 10 points to 229½ in the first half hour. The rise in the stock from 150 to 230 has occurred in a period in which operations of the plants have shrunk from 60 to 10 per cent of capacity, while orders have correspondingly declined.

The small floating supply of Baldwin stock, combined with the probability of an early disposal of its valuable Philadelphia property, furnish the principal speculative appeal of Baldwin stock, which has been aggressively churned around by powerful pools.

After a weak and reactionary opening, the motor stocks made a better showing, though Mack Trucks declined sharply to 95 on speculative selling, based on reports that the Ford organization would enter the truck manufacturing field. Hudson was unable to resist selling pressure without the loss of a point or two.

Wall Street looked for a further shrinkage in the volume of brokers' loans, and was surprised at the $2,000,000 increase disclosed in the reserve board's report. Call money was unchanged at 5 per cent, nad commodity markets were steady, with cotton registering a fractional gain.

COSHOCTON, O., July 1.—Searchers today had not found the body of Martha Finnicum, 14, Scio, near here, who was drowned near West Lafayette, while bathing in the Tuscarawas river.

Thermometer Hits 98.

COLUMBUS, O., July 1.—Deaths by drownings and heat prostrations mounted in Ohio today as weather bureaus over the state predicted a continuance of the season's first torrid wave. Relief is expected Saturday about noon when showers will break the hot spell, U. S. Weatherman Alexander declared here today after receiving reports from all sections of the state.

The highest temperature on record here today was reported Thursday at Circleville and at Waverly where the tubes indicated 98. Norwalk recorded 97 degrees, Wilmington, 96, while other sections of the state on the river, on the lake and inland, recorded readings ranging between 92 and 96 degrees high temperatures. No section escaped the summer season's first offering, according to Alexander.

The season's drownings stood at three here today, after Robert Kimble, 15, lost his life in Big Walnut creek, late Thursday, while a score of persons nearby failed to rescue him, not knowing that he was in danger.

WHILE Byrd was flying east across the Atlantic, and two young army men west across the Pacific, at 110 miles an hour, our interesting visitor, the comet Pons-Winnecke, was leaving the earth behind, passing through various constellations at the rate of 66,600 miles an hour.

Shall we, tiny creatures, when released from service on this earth, make some such journey? That would be more interesting than going into the ground, to stay there.

CARUBIA HELD ON CHARGE OF MAKING LIQUOR

Accused Arrested in Keystone State by Chief Fultz.

ASK $2,000 BOND

Police Raided His Home on Fourteenth Street.

Facing a charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquor, preferred by authorities as a result of the discovery of a still and other apparatus designed, it is said for that purpose, Alphonse Carbuia, of 1207 Anderson avenue, Wellsville, was arrested last night by Chief of Police John Fultz in California, Pa.

Carubia was locked up in jail here last night. He will be given a hearing before Mayor W. L. Fogo next week.

Mayor Fogo today notified Attorney Ben L. Bennett, of East Liverpool, whom Carubia has retained as legal

FOUR MOTORISTS FINED, ONE FREED

Four motorists were fined, while another was dismissed by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley yesterday.

Charles Black, Wellsville colored man, was fined $7 when found guilty of fast and reckless driving. He was arrested on West Eighth street by Patrolman Curran at 11 o'clock last night. J. H. Davidson, also of Wellsville, who was arrested in Dresden avenue by Court Bailiff Hissam last night on a like charge, was also fined $7.

Forfeits of $2 each were taken from E. E. Birch, Bloomfield, charged with operating a truck without a license, and Max Maneloveg, alleged to have parked in a restricted zone.

Charge of driving through a red block in the traffic light on West Eighth street ,filed against James W. Hickey, was dismissed.

FORBES FUNERAL AT YELLOW CREEK

Funeral services for Mrs. John Forbes, 65 years old, who died yesterday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Peter Brophy, in Niles, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, in charge of Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor. Burial will be made in the church cemetery.

In addition to two daughters, Mrs. Brophy and Mrs. Tipton, the latter of Cleveland, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Susan McLaughlin, and three brothers: Jerry McLaughlin West Point, Carlos McLaughlin of Wellsville, and George McLaughlin of Akron. Five grandchildren also are living.

She was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church.

SCOUTS PLAN CAMP TRIP

Leave Monday Morning for Lake Placentia.

Wellsville's first delegation of Boy Scouts to the county scouts' summer camp at Lake Placentia, near North Georgetown, will leave the city Monday morning, July 4, scout executives here announced today.

The pilgrimage to Placentia will start at 8 o'clock in the morning from the Central garage, at Twelfth and Main streets, in charge of troop leaders.

A truck will transport the main body of campers. In the event that any the scouts fail to appear on time, it will be necessary for them to arrange their own transportation to the camp, scout leaders announced.

The second period of the camp program will open Monday.

HOLLOW ROCK MEET MONDAY

Special services will be held on Monday, July 4, at the Hollow Rock campground. Street cars will be met by automobiles at the Irondale road.

Improvements are now in progress at the camp in preparation for the annual interdenominational holiness meetings. A new fence inclosing the ground and a new bridge are being constructed.

SINGERS CLOSE SALINEVILLE CHAUTAUQUA

Redpath Organization Moves Tents to Ligonier, Pa.

SEEK CONTRACT

Round up Signers to Insure Program for 1928.

The Redpath Chautauqua has just closed a five-day program in Salineville. The closing number was given Wednesday evening by the Fiechtl Yodlers, "Echoes of the Alps."

The crew that has been in Salineville for the past seven days, are taking their tent and equipment to Ligonier, Pa. Superintendent Syler is endeavoring to have a contract signed for next year. Signers are being sought to insure the 1928 appearance of the organization.

"The Patsy," a comedy in three acts, was rendered Tuesday evening to a large crowd. In the afternoon of Tuesday, Frank Johnson of Columbus, delivered his lecture, "Blind Samsons." Wednesday afternoon, Ade Duval, Chicago magician, rag picture artist and entertainer, delighted the children.

"Junior Town" with Miss Bass as superintendent and Miss Myrtle Strabley her assistant, and Billy Miller, "Mayor," held their annual picnic Wednesday afternoon.

Fractures Arm.

Mrs. G. W. McClellan, while alighting from their automobile at Summitville last Sunday, fell and fractured her left arm. She is improving slowly.

POLICE WARN CELEBRATORS

With Fourth of July celebrators "stocking up" with pyrotechnics for the Independence day observance, police today repeated their warning that all noisy demonstrations must be confined to Monday, alone.

Fireworks are on sale at a number of stores here and can be purchased from now until the Fourth, but explosion of firecrackers and other similar devices will not be permitted until the Fourth.

Police department heads have authorized patrolmen to make arrests in the event the order is disobeyed.

Appeals to Common Pleas.

An appeal to common pleas court from that of Justice John W. Riley of Wellsville has been taken by J. C. Floto, against whom judgment was returned in the lower court and in favor of Olive Hammond. In this case the plaintiff sued for work and labor, goods sold the defendant and also for $100 money loaned. The court gave the plaintiff judgment for $177.16 and costs. Floto has filed an appeal bond in the sum of $350.

TODAY IS PAYDAY FOR CITY WORKERS

City employes at least will enjoy the Fourth of July holiday with full purses.

All municipal workers, including members of the fire, police and other departments as well as executives, received pay checks today.

ENGINEERS GET NEW OFFICERS

Vote Return to Original Methods of Control.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, meeting in Cleveland, today had returned to the original method of officering the organization, following abolishment of offices of president, vice president and secretary which were created in 1924.

Alvanley Johnston, once a caller on the Great Northern railroad automatically was placed in command of the B. of L. E. affairs, following adoption of the abolishment resolution by the triennial convention of the organization, in secret session here yesterday.

The resolution mentioned no names, it was understood, but the men affected are W. B. Prenter, president; L. C. Griffing, first vice president who also acted as treasurer; H. P. Daugherty, second vice president and C. E. Lindquist, secretary.

Three trustees were named temporarily by Johnston as follows:

George O. Barnhart, of Spokane, Wash.; A. J. Campbell, Fort Williams, Ont., and C. W. Simpson, Lancaster, Tenn. This trio will take over the management of the brotherhood's financial and business enterprises with the exception of the pension and insurance departments and report semi-annually to the organization's advisory board.

Barnhart is president of the Portland and Spokane brotherhood banks and chairman of the Pacific Investment company, of Seattle, while Simpson is president of the Lancaster (Tenn.) Banking company. Together with Campbell they will manage the brotherhood's controlling interest in the ten cooperative banks scattered throughout the country, the investment and securities companies, and the Venice land development project in Florida.

The convention yesterday voted to discontinue its annual contribution of $48,000 to the "Weekly Labor," published at Washington by a combination of railway labor organizations. This move, coupled with abolishment of the four offices mentioned, will save the brotherhood $100,000 a year, it was said.

According to announcement at the convention Thursday, the Cleveland Brotherhood bank today was to pay its regular semi-annual 5 per cent dividend to stockholders of the $1,000,000 capital stock.

Within ten days the convention is expected to elect permanent officers under the reversal of system. Prenter and the others, it was understood, will continue to hold office until the present convention comes to an end.

NO ACTION ON HINEMAN DEAL

Ten-day Period on Resolution Expires Tonight.

Mayor W. L. Fogo, at noon today, would not intimate his probable action in connection with legislation passed Tuesday, June 21, authorizing the settlement of the Hineman water contract dispute by the payment to Hineman of approximately $15,500.

The mayor's power to sign or veto the measure expires tonight at midnight, 10 days after the passage of the legislation by council.

If he neither signs nor vetoes the resolution, it will automatically become effective.

YELLOW CREEK CHURCH SERVICES

Regular services will be held Sunday in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, with preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., in charge of Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor.

Sunday school will convene at 10 a. m. Young people will meet at 7:30 p. m. The subject will be "What Our Government Does for Us." Mrs. Witherspoon will be the leader.

An offering will be received at the morning service for the church improvement fund.

Files Collection Suit.

To enforce the collection of a note for $198 and interest from April 12, 1926, M. K. Duty, of Wellsville, has filed an action in common pleas court against William and Adella Anderson. The note was secured by a mortgage on four lots in Arcadia addition, Wellsville.

Visit in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. J. G. Frank and daughter, Jacqueline, of Fourteenth street, have left for Allentown and Philadelphia, Pa., where they will visit with Mrs. Frank's relatives over the Fourth.

those in the business are reputable. It is equally true that the farmer who is shipping regularly and in considerable quantities has little or no trouble in making marketing connections that are satisfactory in the long run But there are some crooks in the commission business, and they have found easy marks in the small farmers who have not the resources to fight for their rights

Under the new law, however, the commission crooks will find that instead of having a few indigent tillers of the soil after them they will have all the powers of the federal government on their trail and that if they are caught they will incur penalties sufficiently severe to make them hesitate long before indulging again in sharp practices.

The law covers three important proposition. It makes it a misdemeanor for any one receiving perishable farm products in inter-state commerce for or on behalf of another to dump, abandon, or destroy the products so received without good and sufficient cause therefore; to fail, knowingly with intent to defraud, to account truly and correctly for the products; or to make any false statement, knowing and with intent to defraud, concerning the handling, condition, quality, quantity, sale, or disposition of the products. The products concerned include fruits, vegetables, melons, dairy or poultry products, or any other perishable farm produce.

Any person found guilty of violating the act may be punished by a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $3,000, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or by both fine and imprisonment. The secretary of agriculture is charged with the enforcement of the act, and with the making of rules and regulations necessary to carry out its provisions.

Wide in Its Application.

"In considering the act and the regulations," says Lloyd S. Tenny, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, "numerous questions will arise in the minds of the handlers of perishable farm products as to when and under what circumstances the law is applicable. It is not possible for the department to foresee and announce in advance all the instances in which the act may apply.

"In its enforcement, the department necessarily must consider each transaction that may come into question strictly upon the facts relating thereto. In general, it may be stated, however, that all persons, firms, associations, or corporations receiving produce for or on behalf of another in interstate commerce or in the District of Columbia, whether at the point of origin or at destination or elsewhere, are subject to all the provisions of the act. Obviously it applies, therefore, not only to commission merchants but also to distributors, brokers, and others whenever they receive product to be handled for or on behalf of another."

Provision has been made for the issuance of certificates on produce that is without commercial value when such produce is intended to be dumped, abandoned, or destroyed. The purpose of such a certificate is to protect the receiver subject to the act by furnishing him with evidence which he may submit to his principal to show that he had good and sufficient cause for dumping, abandoning, or destroying the produce.

The law does not require the receiver to get such a certificate. That is entirely a matter within his discretion. If he is satisfied that he had good and sufficient cause for dumping and is acting in good faith, he need not have the produces inspected. Inspections may be made by any authorized inspector of the United States department of agriculture, or by any health officer or food inspector of any state, county, parish, city, or municipality.

If the produce received is without commercial value unless reconditioned but could be reconditioned and sold for more than the cost of reconditioning, the receiver would be expected to recondition it and dispose of it to the best advantage of his principal.

The pooling of different lots of produce received for sale, or the pooling and averaging of various prices received for different lots of produce, unless the shipper or owner of the produce has agreed thereto, is not authorized by the new law.

A Jewel a Month New Fad.

Paris has what is considered the most expensive fad of all. It is that each month of the year the chic woman must wear the month's "birthstone,"—the ruby during July, the opal during October and the other stones according to their month. The fad was started by a blonde actress of the Comedie Francaise, whose whims are adopted by many as Fashion's law. Many rich women have taken up the idea with real jewelry, but this vogue probably will be followed by others who can sport only synthetic gems.

No man ever lives to be as old as he feels at 21.—Fostoria Times.

To force an earlier start of his spring garden this year, W. Kerr Russell, M. D. B. S., of Edinburgh, planted seedlings under vitaglass in his greenhouse. He reported that the vitaglass plants germinated before the others, and showed a much taller and sturdier growth. Mr. Russell is author of "Ultra-Violet Radiation—Actinotherapy." He suggests the greenhouses be equipped with vitaglass, and that the glass would be especially adaptable in the raising of early strawberries.

"I Wish I Had Never Seen Rum" Plaint Of "Big Bill" Dwyer

King of Bootleggers and Reputed Millionaire, Not Only Broke, But Owes $150,000.

NEW YORK.—Lo, the King is broke—not dead! William V. Dwyer, better known as "Big Bill" Dwyer, king of bootleggers and reputed to be several times a millionaire as the result of his operations in control of a $40,000,000 liquor smuggling syndicate, says he not only is dead broke, but that he owes $150,000.

In addition, the federal government claims Dwyer owes it two years of time to atone for his past misdeeds, and is on the point of collecting, by sending Dwyer to Atlanta Penitentiary for a two year term.

Dwyer and E. C. Cohron, known as the "pay-off man" in his whiskey and gin running ring which had headquarters in England, France and Canada, as well as New York, were both convicted of violating the prohibition laws.

Broke Up Smugglers.

Their arrest here in January 1926 was hailed by police as signalizing the break-up of the greatest liquor smuggling ring uncovered since the advent of prohibition. With headquarters in a suite of offices located in the heart of the business district of New York, the rum syndicates was alleged to have conducted a gigantic mail order business with all parts of the country. Capital to a total of $40,000,000 was said to have been invested in the concern which operated its own ships for smuggling the liquor from overseas.

"People think I'm a millionaire," Dwyer said recently. "They say, 'There goes Bill Dwyer, the millionaire booze king,' when I pass. But the fact is, I'm worse than broke. I owe more than $150,000 today and I don't see how I can pay it as long as I've got to go to prison.

Was Only Figurehead.

"I never was a millionaire. I just was the figurehead for a bunch of rich fellows who wanted to invest some money and who picked me out because they knew Bill Dwyer never went back on his word. It may be that I have handled millions, but the money wasn't mine and never a dollar has stuck to my fingers that didn't belong to me.

"No, my advice is to stay on the right side of the law. I spent years in daily fear of life, always expecting arrest, forever dealing with crooks and doublecrossers, and now look at me! I'm in debt, my wife is heartbroken to see me sent to prison and my five kids in school out in Bar Harbor, Long Island, are pointed out as the children of a bootlegger.

"I wish I had never seen a case of whiskey!"

LAND OF OPHIR IS CLAIMED AS BRITAIN'S FIND

Place Where Queen of Sheba Found Her Gifts.

Commander Crawford Gives Account of His Cruise

LONDON.—A claim to have discovered the whereabouts of the lost lands of Ophir, from which Bilkia, the Queen of Sheba, brought to Solomon her magnificant gift of incense, apices, gold, jewels, apes, pearls of price, and almug trees, was made by Commander C. Crauford, a British naval officer, during the course of a lecture before the Royal United Services Institution here.

Commander Crauford gave an account of his 20 years' search for the lost lands and of his discovery of them 400 miles east of Aden after a fifteen months' cruise in the Red Sea, the Persian Gulf, and the Indian Ocean.

Mystery of Ages.

The whereabouts of Ophir has been one of the mysteries of the ages. From time to time it has been declared to be in various parts of the world, but previous claims to have discovered the site have been proved groundless.

"I found Ophir exactly where it ought to be," said Commander Crauford, "in Arabia, and it has taken men another seven years or so to furnish proofs of its identity. The problem of finding Ophir was the problem of finding land where all the things which comprised the Queen of Sheba's great gift to Solomon could be obtained.

"When the queen arrived in Solomon's country with her 33 tons of gold, jewels, and the like, King Hiram, who was friendly with Solomon, was given the task of looking over the merchandise. In doing so he noted the wholesale markets and used a sailor's knowledge, which I followed.

Trading Schemes.

"He planned a trading scheme, and it was by following his route in a dhow (a single masted ship of about 200 tons)—that same type of ship used—that we found the lost lands of Ophir. Hiram's fleet traded all the way from Ezion Gebir, at the head of the Red Sea, and Tarshish down to Socotra Island, then on to Ceylon, back to the Persian Gulf, along the East coast of Arabia. They traded all the way and returned to Ezion Gebir in three years.

"By studying the ships from before the Flood to the present day we found tha the ships of Ezion Gebir were identical with the modern Red Sea dhow. So we got a dhow and set out before the same trade winds as Hiram utilized to take him upon this greatest of all trading routs. During our voyage down the Red Sea we passed many a harbor that is hardly known to modern navigation past Aden, the land of pleasantness, where Sheba stopped on her way to Solomon's lands, and on the Sheba Islands. Here we waited, as Hiram did, for the second monsoon wind, which took us up to the Persian Gulf.

"With the third monsoon we coasted back, passed Muscat and Ras el Hadd, and along the coast of Oman. As we worked southwards traces of the Kingdom of Sheba grew stronger and inscriptions were plentiful. Then we came to Ophir, 400 miles east of Aden, with its ruined Temple of God.

"The city is ideally situated. It has a harbor to the north, and it has a river which gave wharfage to the seaport. But a thin ribbon of coral sand is drawn across the harbor mouth. It was this strip of sand which strangled the life of Ophir. There is great wealth in Ophir still.

"With the help of the Ophir lands we may have a Palestine that includes all Arabia and also the extensive kingdom of Sabaea, and than we shall see the fulfillment of the dreams of the two greatest rulers in history—Solomon the Wise and Bilkis the beautiful Queen of Sheba."

Cupid Busy In June —91 Licenses Issued

Record for Month of Roses Shows 22 More Betrothals Than in Record Month Last Year.

With 91 marriage licenses granted by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, a June record for several years was broken. The report is 22 ahead of that of June, 1926.

Clarence Melhorn, engaged in the ice business at Salineville, and Martha Carter, also of Salineville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carter, have been granted a license.

Hoyt Hall, of Wellsville, and Miss Lenora Fitch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fitch, were married at Lisbon by Justice M. K. Zimerman.

E. Allan McKeever, an automobile salesman, and Miss Mary Glaydis Larkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Larkins, were married at East Liverpool by the Rev. T. E. Walsh.

Kenneth Unkefer, a confectioner at Paris, O., and Miss Wilma Kibler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kibler of Moultrie, were granted a marriage license.

Thomas Clark of Power Point, formerly residing at Toronto, and Eve Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mitchell, of East Liverpool, but formerly residing at East Palestine, also secured a license.

Cecil Clark, residing at Newton Falls, but formerly at Irondale, and Miss Olive Wilson, a stenographer, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Wilson of Wellsville, have been granted a marriage license.

Henry Werner, of Columbiana, and Miss Rosine Theiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Theiss, also of Columbiana, have been granted a marriage license. They are to be married at Columbiana by the Rev. E. P. Weist.

COURT APPROVES PROPERTY SALES

In the tax foreclosure action filed by County Treasurer Jo Pike July 2, 1924 against C. H. Wiltsie, the court has confirmed the sale of property referred to in the first and third causes of action in the original petition of the plaintiff. A deed has been ordered, and a decree of distribution has also been entered.

STREET GRADING WORK COMPLETED

Concrete will be poured on the first of 12 streets that are to be improved in Lisbon next week, it was announced today by George Patterson of Wellsville, who has been awarded the contract.

The concrete will be mixed at a Y. & O. siding and trucked to the streets under surfacing.

Rough grading has been finished on West Washington street, Green street and South Beaver street between Washington and Lincoln Way. South Beaver is to be improved between West Washington and West Chestnut street. All 12 streets are expected to be surfaced about September or earlier.

A similar case filed by Miss Pike against Mary Bartram and others Dec. 1, 1926, for the foreclosure of a tax lein, the court has confirmed the sale of the first and third tracts mentioned in the petition to F. M. Shahm for $553.34. A deed and decree of distribution has also been ordered by the court in this case.

Action Dismissed.

The foreclosure action filed in common pleas June 5, 1925 by Cora E. Trotter against Wallace Trotter has been dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff, and at her costs.

Many Divorce Cases.

Of the 71 civil actions filed in common pleas court during June, over one-third proved to be divorce cases. Entries on the appearance docket, as revealed by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine, shows two actions for alimony only filed during June and 23 "straight" divorce cases.

Given Suspended Sentence.

Charles West, charged in juvenile court with non support, has been given a suspended sentence of six months to the Canton workhouse and he is also to pay the costs in the action. Judge Lodge Riddle has ordered. West gave a bond that he would pay his wife $5 per week for the support of his minor children.

Case Settled.

A settlement out of court has been announced in the case of B. A. Bode, trustee in bankruptcy against Phebe Ella Jenkins. The costs have been paid and record has been waived. In this action, which was filed May 6, 1925, the plaintiff sued to recover $1,000 from the defendant for failure to pay for stock.

Property Transfers.

Real estate transfers have been recorded as follows:

Lester Sitler to Clarence Cope part of an acre section 20 Unity Township $1.

Regina Davis and others to Imre Aszatalos and wife, lot 1008 Salem Heights addition, Salem, $10.

If New York Loses Title Fight Rickard Loses His License

LAUGHLIN HEADING TOWARD FIRST HALF CITY LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Commission Firm In Demand Bout Must Be Held In Gotham Ring

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Tex Rickard either will hold the fight for the heavyweight championship of the world in New York, dropping all idea of a Chicago site, or he will suffer the probable penalty of an indefinite suspension as a promoter in this state.

That prediction was made to the writer today by a man whose right to speak his mind cannot be questioned. The board, he said, would not be motivated by the principle of might but only of right. He swore that Rickard's stenographic conversation with Commissioners Farley and Muldoon, promising New York the championship fight in exchange for a $27.50 rate on ringside seats at the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, was on the commission's record in black and white.

Rickard denied that he made such a promise after the meeting in question and the writer knows he is merely stating a fact in saying the promoter already has more or less active plans under way to take the big fight to Chicago. If he does, the tip is that Rickard's holdings will suffer heavily in New York, either through his personal suspension or that of the Madison Square Garden corporation or both.

Muldoon, according to the present story, was most insistent upon getting a downright declaration from Rickard before listening to the latter's $27.50 ideas about Dempsey and Sharkey. As a matter of fact, I am told that the board considered a $22 "top" sufficient and enough for this fight but decided to play ball as long as the promoter was hitting his fungoes within reach. However, the boys have about decided that Chicago might be a bit too far for them to go and get 'em.

"No previous fight ever got a $27.50 top here, except a heavyweight championship contest," the writer's informant pointed out. "The commission, therefore, waived one of its rules that Rickard could get an even break. It didn't do this because it likes Rickard but because it felt that, in case the Dempsey-Sharkey fight is a bust, New York fans at least will be recompensed by getting a chance to see the championship contest.

"When asked about his intentions on this match, Rickard told the commission that he had received several cut of town bids. He mentioned Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and even the Yale bowl. He added that he wasn't considering any of these bids but had made up his mind to hold the big fight at the Yankee stadium.

"This satisfied the commissioners and they thereupon granted him the maximum price for a contest on July 21 that may not be worth 27 cents. They did this because they knew they had to have the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, anyhow, and that being the case, felt they were entitled to their shot at the real thing.'

If this man's views represent those of the commission, the dear, old foster parents of boxing in this state evidently fear the worst when Dempsey and Sharkey step out for their frolic. Maybe the boys are right; they can't be wrong all the time.

AT WATERLOO, Ia.—Clyde Drury, Magshalltown, won from Mike Sauro, Chicago.

Milligan Clearly Outclassed by Champ.

LONDON, July 1.—Mickey Walker, of the United States, is still middleweight champion of the world today by virtue of his victory over Tommy Milligan, of Scotland, at the Olympia last night. Milligan was knocked out in the tenth round after having been floored five times for various counts. Most of the 10,000 fight fans who saw the bout, including a large number of society women, wondered that Milligan lasted as long as he did for he was clearly outclassed from the very first.

Walker was busy today receiving congratulations and opening cablegrams from admiring friends at home.

JACK GOES EASY WITH PARTNERS

Lays Off Heavy Punches; Practices Feinting.

By Sid Mercer.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., July 1. — The "Hermit of Ojai" still remains the mystery of Saratoga Lake after four days in the open.

Visitors to Tom Luther's swat pavilion look at Jack Dempsey and gain different impressions. To those uninitiated in the knackk of sizing up a fighter in training Dempsey looks great. Those who should be able to qualify as experts are wagging their heads.

Dempsey did not attempt to nail his sparring partners with heavy punches yesterday and when he is not in a vicious mood he seldom looks good doing the gentle stuff. He did very little short, sharp hitting. He rather elaborated on his weaving which is still slow and ineffective in bringing him into range of an opponent and set for a punch. He did considerable of this body feinting and made no attempt to block the leads of his targets.

Big Carl Carter nailed Jack frequently with rights to the head as he came charging in but Dempsey was good to Carl in the clinches and also treated Martin Burke with consideration. Allentown Joe Gans gives Jack the best workouts.

CORDS BOOK WHEELING McCONKEY'S FOR FOURTH

Touring Cubans Billed For Contest July 13.

Manager Frank Riley, of the City Industrial League Superior Cords, today announced the booking of two high class attractions which should provide district fans with plenty of good baseball between city loop contests.

Riley is bringing the McConkeys from Wheeling for a brace of contests at Chester on Monday, July 4. The morning game will start at 10 o'clock and the afternoon attraction at 2:30.

The McConkeys, as local baseball followers are aware, are one of the best semi-pro outfits in the Wheeling district.

A high class bunch of tourists—the Havana Cubans—claiming Havana as their originating point, are scheduled for a special mid-week engagement on Wednesday, July 13.

The Cubans will bring with them the noted Babe Vargas, long distance home run hitter and a complete array of diamond talent.

Tom Kirby, Boston, won decision over Rocco Stramaglia, in sixth round.

Roy Clark, Atlanta, drew with Cecil Harris, Chicago, four rounds.

"Big Boy" Peterson, New Orleans heavyweight, knocked out Al Sherring, of New York, in second round.

LOU CLOUTS 25TH AND SO DOES BABE

Home Run Race is Baseball's Biggest Feature.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Interest was at fever heat today in the greatest two-ring circus baseball has ever known—the home run race between Babe Ruth and Buster Gehrig. In the first inning against the Red Sox yesterday Gehrig walloped his 25th homer and led Ruth until the fourth inning when the Bambino also checked in with No. 25.

The Yankee home run twins are three homers behind Ruth's 1921 pace. Gehrig, who has been denting the bleachers much oftener than the Babe recently, already has nine more than he made all last season.

The Yanks scored their fifth straight victory in slaughtering the Red Sox, 13 to 6, making 19 hits. The back bay boys have now lost 12 straight and there is every hope for their early demise, as the young doctor said.

In the only games played in the National league, the Giants and Braves split a twin bill. Bob Smith tamed the Giants in the opener, 6 to 1. In the nightcap McGraw's men scored ten runs in the last two innings, knocking out Hugh McQuillan, their former ace, and winning, 11 to 6.

The Detroit Tigers, who are playing as good ball as any team in the majors, beat Cleveland, 6 to 5, in a rally featured by Gehringer's homer. The Bengals kayoed George Uhle for the fifth time this season.

Another jinx remained intact when Al Thomas of the White Sox subdued the Browns, 5 to 1, for the sixth time this year. Sheely, who has replaced the rookie Clancy at first base for the Sox, hit a homer.

The Senators held on to second place by nosing out the Athletics in the ninth, 6 to 5, on Goslin's single. Baker, Texas collegian, started his first game for the A's and held the Nats to a draw in five innings.

ACQUIRE STATE PARK PROPERTY

Unless unforseen circumstances develop, representatives from the state highway department, Columbus, will be in Columbiana county next week to pay over purchase money for lands that will be hereafter used for a state park at Guilford in Hanover township.

The last of the farm owners, whose lands were required to complete the site, have given their assent to the proposition, and it will not now be necessary for the state to go into court and condemn the acreage.

The legislature in 1925 and 1927 made appropriations for this project, and as soon as the deeds are filed for record, the state highway department will then proceed with new construction work.

Plans for all improvements to be made at the state park have been worked up under the supervision of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk, and have been approved by the state department. Contracts for the new construction work are expected to be awarded during July, it was said at Lisbon today.

Appear Unbeatable As Circuit Rivals Near Finish Wire

Will Clash With Chester Superior Cords Tomorrow at Newell in Nine-inning Battle; Cords-Turk Nash, Billiards-K. T. K. Play Tonight.

Winning last night from K. T. K., 7 to 1, with Digman hurling effectively, and facing three more contests before the first half curtain is officially rung down, Laughlin appears to be headed right into the first half championship of the City Industrial League.

Laughlin has lost only two while Turk-Nash and Chester Superior Cords are tied for second with four defeats apiece. If Laughlin lost every one of their three remaining contests and Turk-Nash or Chester won all they have to play, then the Newell aggregation might be counted out.

This, however, will not likely occur. Chester and Turk-Nash will tangle tonight at Chester with the American Billiards and K. T. K. in action at Columbian park.

Tomorrow afternoon Chester will go into action at Newell in a nine inning battle beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

McKeone's Double Scores Winning Runs in Seventh.

The Potters Supply defeated the Sherwood nine, 3 to 1, last evening in a Community league contest at Sherwood, McKeone's two-base swat with two on in the seventh turning the trick.

CALL OFF GAMES AT CANONSBURG

Business Manager Joseph Dickey of the Laughlin City Industrial league club today announced the pair of Fourth of July games booked at Canonsburg, Pa., have been called off.

With a large number of players leaving the city on holiday excursions, officials of the Newell club were unable to assemble a representative team for the trip.

It is likely, however, that a game with Pennsylvania will be booked later in the season.

Fight Results

AT LONDON, Eng.—Mickey Walker, of United States, middleweight champion, knocked out Tommy Milligan, of Scotland, in tenth round.

Archie Bell, America, won decision over Kid Pattenden, London, 10 rounds.

George Cooke of Australia scored technical knockout over Ted Sandivina, Germany, in third round.

Teddy Baldock, drew with Johnny Cuthbert, six rounds.

AT WEST NEW YORK, N. Y.—Irish Tommy Jordan, New York, won newspaper decision over Billy Algiers, Phoenix, Ariz, ten rounds.

Theatre Parties By Bus

One may buy a combination ticket that provides a dinner, a seat at a theatre and a round trip on an auto bus, by a new plan just inaugurated for surbanites of London. The first suburb to try it is Portsmouth, from where four autobusses carrying 90 people are making the trips once a week. The plan is to be extended to other cities near London.

DOGCATCHER SOUGHT HERE

Mayor and Service Director Say $500 is Required.

Movement for the employment of a dog-catcher to exterminate unlicensed canines running at large, was launched today by Mayor Ralph Benedum and Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore.

The county commissioners recently appropriated $200 for a dog-catching campaign in East Liverpool, but, according to Director Moore, approximately $500 will be required. No city funds are available, and in the event that the offer of the commissioners is accepted a special appropriation will be necessary.

Construction of a dog pound to confine captured animals and a death trap to destroy dogs which are not claimed by their owners will be necessary, according to Moore. Dogs apprehended can be redeemed by their owners within 48 hours upon payment of the license and a penalty.

K. OF C. REUNION CLOSES TONIGHT

CEDAR POINT, July 1.—Ohio Knights of Columbus and ladies of the auxiliary, in reunion here since Sunday, expect to formally resolve today in favor of encampment here next summer, and to invite orders in Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia to participate. The reunion will close with the grand ball tonight.

DRESDEN PLANT SALE GETS O. K.

Court Confirms Deal by Potters' Savings and Loan.

Sale of the Dresden Pottery company to the Potters Savings & Loan company of East Liverpool by Sheriff George Wright about six weeks ago had been confirmed today by Judge W. F. Lones, in common pleas court, Lisbon, who has ordered that a deed be prepared.

The 14-kiln plant was purchased for $50,000, $49,000 of which was for the buildings and real estate and $1,000 for raw materials and stock. The sale was ordered after the loan company instituted a foreclosure suit to recover $118,407.22 advanced on a loan. The purchase price was two-thirds of the appraised valuation.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW-TRIBUNE

FINAL EDITION

VOL. XLVII. NO. 201. EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1927. PAGE SEVENTEEN

Youth of the Atlas

BY MAYSTALL D. HALL
AUTHOR OF THE VALLEY OF STONE and RIDDLE OF THE DESERT ETC.

SYNOPSIS.

LARRY GRENFALL, American traveler and student of Eastern magic, receives a telephone call from

BEN MANSOUR, cosmopolite and old friend, saying he must see him at once. Larry goes and Mansour tells him he is about to die and that he wants him to go to Morocco, where he, Mansour, is a sherif or native ruler. He is to find the Temple, endure the Ordeal, crush the Group and put Mansour's son on the throne. A Moor appears and gives Mansour a taken, a ruby ring with Larry later wears. The Moor also throws into the room a tiny ivory tiger—the Striped Death. Mansour dies and his body disappears—carried off by the Moors. Larry goes to Morocco, finds

OMAR BEN MEDJAD, who dresses him as a wizard, and as Youssef el-Tabassi he starts on his travels. He soon meets

ALLAL ABDI, Mansour's son, who travels with him. The two have many adventures, and Larry discovers that the supposed son is in reality a daughter. The two grow to love one another, but Benna is spirited away from Larry in the hut of a holy man to whom he is demonstrating his powers as a wizard. In search for her he is attacked by a trained tiger killer, the Striped Death, whom he kills. He reaches the Throne room of the Berbers, is questioned about future doings of the tribe and thrown into prison where he finds Benna. He endures the trial by fire, coming out victorious by virtue of dynamite cubes which he has concealed in his clothing and which he throws into the fire, killing a number of Moors, among them the leader, the Marabout of Adar, whose robe and mask, he takes. As Tribe One, the leader, he confers with the other members of the group and discovers that Tribe Two is no other than Amar ben Medjad.

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX.

Omar ben Merjad became suddenly serious.

"The time when we must strike draws near, dear friend. The Sacred Eye is even now being taken from its hiding place. As Tribe One of the Marabout Group, you will receive the Eyo in your hands, and be charged with its keeping until the dawn and its display. Guard it as you guard your life, Grenfall, and use it in the furtherance of Spain's aims in this benighted country. I hear footsteps; belike it is Tribe Six with the girl. Think you can master yourself in her presence?"

"I did so not so many hours since," Larry returned simply, "when she came to me with the prisoners, fresh from the lash of her keepers."

He saw Omar's blazing eyes fixed on him, in sympathy and admiration.

"And you touched her not?"

"I greeted her simply as I would have greeted the youth Allal Abdi," he said.

"Then, by Allah, you love her, Grenfall; and I am glad." With his cryptic utterance Tribe Two resumed his posture on the cushions and remained silent as Tribe Six, leading Benna, approached.

The girl presented a forlorn figure indeed. Utter despair and misery were in her glorious eyes and sorrow straightened the tiny up-curls of her full, red mouth. Head drooping, she was led before Larry and Tribe Six spoke:

"Here is the youth, Tribe One, but as Allah lives he seems likely to pine away. His despair seems boundless."

"And why do you sorrow, Allal Abdi" Larry asked, using every ounce of his will power to make the question casual, to imitate the somewhat croaking, nasal tones of the Marabout of Adrar.

"One whom I held dearer than all other has gone to the Ordeal," she answered simply and frankly, her unsophisticated little heart not realizing what a momentous confession her words were to Larry. "He has not returned and it is whispered among the prisoners, especially by one-eyed Youcoub el-Bachir, that this one's bones are bleaching in the light of the Eye."

"And why should you grieve so for one of your own sex?"

It was Tribe Two who questioned. Tribe Six turned and found his place on the cushions. Larry, his heart tripping rapidly, awaited Benna's reply, and he was cursing silently, but heartily, Omar ben Medjad for being a fool to ask such a leading question of Benna—a question that might easily arouse the suspicions of Tribe Six. Now he heard the girl speak again, her voice the epitome of hopeless despair, its bell-like quality sounding dead and desolate.

"Because he was my companion on the Forbidden Road; because he fought for me and would have died for me, even as I would have gone to Moulay Edriss to save him."

Now another amazing thing happened for Tribe Two chuckled audibly and called out brazenly to Tribe Six:

"There is a friend for you, Emir Barrada."

The effect of Omar's words on Tribe Six was instantaneous. The man leaped to his feet with a hearty Moorish oath—most amazing for a holy man—and from beneath his scarlet robe he drew a long, curved knife. But Omar's ready chuckle came again and once more he called out:

"Be not violent, Emir. I see that you, also, have made your way here, even as you vowed to be that you would if I gave you life. It is well, by Allah, it is. We are now four friends, well met. Emir, the Marabout of Adrar yonder, or Tribe One, is the friend for whom the youth Allal Abdi mourns. Youssef el-Hebassi, speak in your natural voice, that Allal's heart be not entirely broken."

"But—" Larry began.

"What—? from Tribe Six.

"Youssef, Tribe Six is one of my most trusted khalifas, and he is with us heart and soul. Emir, Tribe One is the wizard. Not his bones, but those of the man who took the real marabout's place bleach in the fire chamber."

Larry's single word has revealed him to Benna and now, overcome with the reaction, she dropped on the cushions, her shoulders shaking while convulsive sobs racked her slender worn body. Omar ben Medjad took quick command of the situation.

"Hurry, Emir, watch the eastern portal, while I watch the entrance from the Eye. There are no others we need fear. It runs in my mind that the youth Allal Abdi is in need of consolation, and my heart tells me that Youssef el-Habassi is the one to extend it."

Now Emir Barranda was a man of understanding and a quick thinker. He did not know exactly what it was all about, but he did know that Omar ben Medjad wanted him to make himself scarce, so as Tribe Two arose and hurried off behind the long draperies. Tribe Six took another direction and also disappeared. But before either of them was out of sight Larry, stripping back his hooded mask, was at Benna's side, lifting her to him, pouring out soft endearing words that fell on her shell-like ears as softly as the morning dawn breaks over the mighty Atlas.

She twisted her little body so that she lay in his arms, her deep, glorious eyes at first unable to comprehend this miracle that had been wrought, then as the reality of it all finally reached into her tired, reeling brain, she clasped Larry convulsively about the neck with bare, slender arms which showed the marks of her recent heavy toil, and dropped her head against his breast. For a space neither thought of time; their world was encompassed by his arms holding her close and by her arms, which clasped him tightly to her; for them there was no time.

HAZEL D., PACING MARE, IS KILLED

Hazel D., 14-year-old pacing mare, owned by Frank Dickey, and his son, the late Harry Dickey, was killed yesterday after she had broken her leg in a wire fence on the farm of Jacob Fuhrman, near Lisbon.

The horse was widely known in eastern Ohio, having captured first and second prizes at many racing events at the county fairs in this section several years ago. Because of stiff tendons, she was retired about eight years ago and since then has been kept by the elder Dickey on the Fuhrman farm near Lisbon.

The horse was timed at 2:18 1-4 minutes.

—corn flakes that stay crisp in milk or cream

Add this cool crispness to summer's luscious fruits

Post Toasties are the corn flakes that have the true delicate flavor of the succulent hearts of corn, sealed in by the special toasting process of the Postum Company. For a new deliciousness, add the crunchy crispness of these corn flakes to summer fruits. Here is double-crispness that makes your favorite fruits seem cooler, with flavor that makes them taste even better than they are. Be sure that you get the corn flakes that stay crisp in milk or cream. Ask your grocer for Post Toasties, the corn flakes that come in the red and yellow package, wax-wrapped to keep them fresh and ready to serve.

NASH DISPLAYS PRETTY MODELS

Three New Series Of Cars Are Announced.

Three entirely new series of cars, including 21 models on four different chassis lengths, are announced today by the Nash Motors company.

The new series will be known as the Advanced Six, the Special Six and the Standard Six and despite a wide array of costly improvements these cars are also featuring new lower prices, the reductions ranging as high as $195.

A new radiator design, lower and more sweeping body lines and a brilliant array of new color combinations make these new models without question the most beautiful ever produced by Nash. The cars fully justify reports which have been current for the past week that Nash would introduce an array of cars which would command nationwide praise.

Important mechanical refinements and improvements are also announced at this time, keeping pace with the progress which has been made in increasing the beauty of the cars' appearance. Outstanding among these are the introduction of new springs of a secret alloy which is said to increase riding comfort in amazing degree.

The new body lines are lower and more sweeping than ever before and the wheels are smaller, giving an additional appearance of lowness to the cars although interior roominess has not been sacrificed in the smallest degree.

Matching the beauty of line is the new array of color combinations which Nash has adopted for these cars. Many striking new harmonies are used.

He Wants Alimony

Walter Brinkman, Chicago bricklayer, below, in petitioning for alimony from his estranged wife, Rose, above, claimed physical disability, while his wife "is able-bodied and perfectly capable of supporting him in the manner to which he has been accustomed," he asserted.

A Friend in Need.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—Pete Lovering, student at the Battle Creek airport, was returning from a business trip to a nearby city when his car ran out of oil. Fortunately he was stalled near a service station but he happened to have no money with him. He phoned Pilot Carl Clifford at the airport and informed him of his plight and in a few minutes Clifford was circling overhead in his plane. He located his financially embarrassed friend on the road, flew low, and dropped him a package containing a dollar bill, enough to get him out of his predicament.

Regular Funeral for Dog.

LYNN, Mass.—Although, Brownie, the pet dog of the Lynn police department, is dead, his funeral has been one of which any canine would be proud. Brownie developed rabies from mongrel playmates on the street and a police surgeon administered cyanide of potassium to end his sufferings. But his friends in the department saw to it that Brownie had a regular funeral. Four police officers in dress uniform acted as bearers, and a motor patrol took his body to the grave. The policemen bared their heads as the box was lowered.

CASES DROPPED FROM DOCKET

Four More Civil Actions Dismissed by Judge W. F. Lones.

Four more civil cases have been dismissed by Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court for want of prosecution, and all at the costs of the plaintiff. Three of these cases were divorce actions and the other a civil action.

The first divorce case to be stricken from the record was that filed by Sadie Moore, March 24, 1923, against her husband, William A. Moore. In this case a decree, alimony and custody of children was sought.

The case of Ethel Marie Lomax against her husband, James Lomax, has also been dismissed. This action was placed on the records March 28, 1925.

A similar entry has been made in the case of Johanna Theil against her husband, John Theil. A decree and restoration of maiden name was sought by this plaintiff, who filed her petition April 6, 1925.

An action in foreclosure and receivership filed by L. M. Kyes of East Palestine, as agent, against G. M. Hord and others, has also been dismissed for want of prosecution at the costs of the plaintiff. This case has been inactive since being filed April 27, 1925.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

INFLUENTIAL FOLK FIND SUMMER O. K. FOR THEM IN WASHINGTON

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, July 1. — Midsummer is a mean time for ordinary mortals who have official business to transact in Washington.

The main bosses are away—at the seaside, touring Europe or in the Black Hills. The underlings won't shoulder responsibility. They tell visitors to call again—in the fall.

Most of the congressmen are gone, too.

If you want something out of one of the departments and can't get it, and your representative's here, you generally can persuade him to go along with you, or call up and raise heck. In that way you frequently are able to prod the executives into stirring themselves.

But just now, the average man in the capital is in hard luck.

IT'S different among folks who have a "pull."

To quite a considerable extent this is when they make their big killings.

From the standpoint of the uninfluential caller:

There's nobody in summertime official Washington to attend to anything.

From the standpoint of the influential one:

There's nobody here to interfere.

GOVERNMENT executives can do a great many things, if they will.

For a man who has a "drag" they can fix almost anything at least temporarily, and anything that's fixed temporarily quite often stays fixed permanently.

For that reason a lot of fixing is done at this time of year — because, just now, there's nobody to get up in congress and raise a howl.

Later on, when congress does meet, perhaps the howl fails to materialize. Even if it materializes, it may bring no results. Anything governmental once accomplished, tends to stay that way. At the very worst, the deal's beneficiary has had the advantage of it for awhile.

CONSEQUENTLY, while the capital looks quiet, a great plenty is going on under the surface.

Big business men are quite numerous in town.

They're doing no hoo-raw-ing. That'll come next winter, when there'll be laws they want passed. Laws have to be hoo-raw-ed through congress.

Executive departmental fixing is done in a different way — with gum shoes.

However, Washington isn't as inactive as it appears.

INDEED, there's more summertime activity about the departments this season than usual, for the time is rather short.

The spring exodus was considerably delayed by trans-Atlantic flights and other out-of-the-common events which kept senators and representatives hanging about longer than they generally do, and now the prospects are for an extra session.

This means that executive fixing must be hustled.

Probably a couple of hundred legislators will be here by mid-September at the latest, and once they're on hand, there'll be no keeping their noses out of anything, even though it's a month before the president issues the extra call.

A vast amount of confidential business remains to be disposed of in the next two months. It is surprising that such busy executives haven't time to bother with "pull"-less folk who show up during vacation, trying to butt in?

Alleged Polish Spy Executed.

MOSCOW, July 1.—Mme. Vishnevskaya, described by the Soviet officials as "a notorious Polish woman spy who has been active since 1921," has been executed at Tcharkov following her trial in court, according to a dispatch from that city today.

Tablet Marks Meeting Place.

To commemorate the meeting of Sir Walter Scott and Robert Burns in Sciennes House, Edinburgh, in the winter of 1786-87, the Edinburgh Sir Walter Scott Club, in conjunction with the Burns Association, has just placed a tablet in the wall of the house.

A Turkish president has prepared a speech two days long. Why not give him a seat in the U. S. senate?—Martins Ferry Times.

A high class vaudeville act, breaking a jump from the East, and a thrilling western classic," Arizona Bound," a Paramount picture, top the bill at the Ceramic theatre today and tomorrow.

Becker, Curran and Shean appear in an extraordinary instrumental, singing and dancing offering.

Gary Cooper, the screen's newest "Western" hero, already acclaimed one of filmdom's most dashing exponents of the stirring life of the great open spaces, will be seen in the leading role of "Arizona Bound."

Though Cooper has been in motion pictures but little more than a year, his fascinating screen presence and his real ability as an actor have already served to elevate him to a coveted position in the screen world. Raised on a Montana ranch, he is an accomplished horseman, and a typical product of the Great West.

For two years Cooper "rode herd" with the cowboys on his father's ranch, following the chuck wagon on the great round-ups, sleeping on the ground at night, and acquiring a muscular development which, combined with his height of six feet, two inches, makes him an ideal type for his role.

A competent judge of horse-flesh, the new star brings to the screen an equine companion which is acclaimed as the most beautiful horse even seen in motion pictures. This remarkable steed, "Flash," is a cream-colored Arabian stallion, and in addition to his beauty and animation, is an actor of unusual accomplishments, rivalling Tony, Silver King and Rex.

The fascinating Betty Jewel, "the girl with the velvet eyes," is seen in the principal feminine role, with El Brendel, the funny Swede, furnishing a riot of laughs.

Women Have Air Fashions.

Feminine interest in aviation in Europe has started special fashions for air travelers, and dressmakers are displaying outfits for fliers. One costume selected was of soft leather colored royal blue, and consisted of helmet, coat, short skirt and full-length trousers.

About all you can say for some hot bands is that they reduce the number of old maids.—Ashland Times Gazette.

Achieves Heights

Mme. Luba Philipps, Russian-American aviatrix, who intends to attempt a flight from New York to London and Rome, has, it is believed, established an altitude record for women by taking a trimotored Fokker plane to a reported height of 11,000 feet at Roosevelt Field, Long Island, N. Y. This photo shows her in the plane's cabin.

APPLE GROWERS FACE PROBLEM

The outstanding problem faced by West Virginia apple growers is that of marketing the fruit. Berkeley county alone produces over 2,000 carloads of apples during a good season. With the other counties in the apple section producing proportionately, it means that there must be an efficient system of marketing to take care of the crop and secure a fair return.

Due to the unusually large crop last year many growers received nothing above the expenses incurred in marketing and others even had a deficit.

During the present summer the state representatives and the federal commissioner are making a study of market demands, methods of marketing, and cost to the consumers.

SUPERIOR CORDS HERE TONIGHT

Chester Superior Cord Tires will be the attraction here tonight in a game with Homer Laughlin China. This will be the last appearance of the Chester aggregation here during the first half of the Industrial league season. The teams played a tie contest earlier in the week.

Monday the local tossers will meet the strong Canonsburg team at the latter place in two games, morning and afternoon. They will be accompanied to the Pennsylvania city by a delegation of rooters.

Holiday Will Be Observed.

Monday, July 4, will be observed here as a general holiday. Industrial plants and business houses will be closed the entire day while the usual holiday hours will prevail at the post-office.

Work is Progressing.
